DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Dacca, the 19th January 1931.

First forecast of the Wheat Crop of Bengal, 1930-31.

(NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1928-29, the area under wheat in Bengal has represented some 0·4 per cent. of the total area under wheat in India. The ratio of the irrigated wheat acreage to total wheat acreage in (a) British India and (b) in the territory now reported on has, in the five years ending 1928-29, averaged (a) 38·1 and (b) 11·1 per cent., respectively).

Explanatory.—Four forecasts of the wheat crop are published. This forecast deals only with the area sown and the general condition of the crop in its early stages.

Acreage.—According to the estimates of the District Officers, the total area sown amounts to 136,300 acres as against 119,700 and 126,200 acres, reported, respectively, in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

Character of the season.—The rainfall in October was adequate for the preparatory tillage and for the sowings of the crop which generally took place in the normal time. Since then the weather has continued to be favourable except for the fact that in some districts rainfall in the third week of November proved a little harmful to the germination and growth of the crop. Present condition is reported to be fair, on the whole.

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

Resolution on the reports of the Commissioners of Divisions on the working of District Boards in Bengal during the year 1929-30.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

RESOLUTION—No. 290 L. S.-G.

Minister-in-charge: The Hon'ble Mr. Bijoy Prasad Singh Roy.

Read—

The reports of the Commissioners of Divisions on the working of District Boards in Bengal during the year 1929-30.

District and Local Boards.—There was no constitutional change during the year 1929-30 in the 26 district boards with their 683 members, but for one reason and another a slight set-back has occurred to the policy of encouraging the election of non-official Chairmen. Local circumstances devoid of any political colouring necessitated the appointment of a non-official Chairman in Mymensingh early in the year under review. The hostility of the Bankura district board, under the influence of the former Chairman, to the union board movement led to his replacement by a nominated non-official, and after the latter's death by the District Magistrate; while finally since the close of the year under review the surrender of the Midnapore district board to political influences made it impossible to approve the election of its Chairman, and in his place also the District Magistrate was appointed.

There was practically no change in the organization of local boards, and none in their limited functions of electing for district boards, and exercising delegated powers of expenditure. The only official Chairmen on these 82 boards were those at Asansol appointed by Government on the request of the members and on three boards in the Darjeeling district, this arrangement continuing a long established practice due to local reasons. An increase in the total membership from 1,343 to 1,358 through the addition of members to two local boards in Howrah district was the only effective symptom of a tendency to amplify representation on local bodies.

2. Financial Features.—The total receipts and expenditure of district boards in 1929-30 amounted to Rs. 1·49 crores and Rs. 1·52 crores representing a decrease of Rs. 7 lakhs in the former and a nominal increase in the latter. With a population of over forty-three millions to serve the financial transactions of the district boards are in fact only Rs. 31·5 lakhs above those of municipalities outside Calcutta with their population of two millions, and the incidence of income per head of population was only 5·2 annas. It is perhaps insufficiently realized how large a proportion of this so-called income of district boards is derived from grants from the State, which amounted approximately to Rs. 42·5 lakhs in 1929-30, so that the incidence of taxation for district board funds was no more than three annas per head. Revenue from cesses (Rs. 79·3 lakhs) continues to rise very slowly. It is not easy to identify the factors contributing to the actual decrease of income noticed, but the transfer of pounds to union boards now begins to make itself felt on a small scale in district board finances.

3. Education.—The income and expenditure amount to Rs. 22 lakhs and Rs. 37·5 lakhs against Rs. 22·1 and Rs. 36·6 lakhs, respectively. The receipt from Government contribution was more than Rs. 21 lakhs. The expenditure on primary education alone was Rs. 31·3 lakhs. The number of upper and lower primary schools maintained and aided by district boards increased from 47,900 to 49,090. The number of boys and girls attending these schools was about 1,320,000 and 321,300, respectively. There were 60 industrial schools maintained or aided by district boards imparting instruction to some 2,100 pupils in various subjects including carpentry, smithy, wickerwork, dyeing and weaving.

"Biss scheme" schools did not make any appreciable headway during the year in district board areas. Inability on the part of local bodies to produce their share of the cost led to the abandonment of certain sanctioned schemes and there was probably a general feeling that with the possibility of a Primary Education Bill receiving the sanction of the local legislature, efforts to establish such schools were not necessary.

It was not found possible during the year to provide money for the construction of any new panchayeti union schools.

4. Public Health and Medical Relief.—In the year 1926-27, which can suitably be taken as a standard year before the introduction of rural health units, the expenditure of district boards on public health and medical relief was just under Rs. 22 lakhs, with Government aid of Rs. 3·84 lakhs. In the year 1929-30 expenditure under this head had risen to Rs. 31·7 lakhs and State grants for the purpose to Rs. 11·11 lakhs. These figures are in themselves sufficient to show firstly the increased attention given by district boards to public health, and secondly the generous measure in which the State is accepting financial responsibility for measures for the protection of public health organized through the agency of these local bodies. Of the total expenditure Rs. 13·2 lakhs was devoted to the maintenance and aid of medical institutions, and Rs. 14·9 lakhs to the staff and activities associated with the improvement of public health though the two fields of work are perhaps less clearly distinguished in the accounts of district boards than in those of Government.

The most prominent feature in public health work is the rapid spread of rural health units in charge of Sanitary Inspectors, financed by Government but administered by district boards. These had been established in 555 thanas by the end of 1929-30, and extended to the few thanas remaining to complete the scheme after its close. The time has now come to put on a more regular footing under the Local Self-Government Act the somewhat ill-defined status and functions of this staff, whose practical usefulness is already abundantly demonstrated.

There was the usual activity in precautions against cholera including preventive inoculation which continues to make headway. The Dacca district board experimented successfully with the distribution of "bili vaccine." Special efforts were made by certain districts with vaccination against small-pox, the figures of a quarter million vaccinations being approached in Khulna and exceeded in Faridpur. The usual steps were taken with Government aid against malaria and kala-azar, and the Burdwan district board in particular encountered a new public health problem in a virulent, if localised, outbreak of beri-beri. The Bankura district board paid particular attention to leprosy with the assistance of doctors trained under Dr. Muir.

The less conspicuous, because more familiar, work of institutional medical relief received due attention, the total number of dispensaries maintained or aided rising from 906 to 929. As was pointed out last year, with the incentive of the State grant for new village and thana dispensaries the ideal of having at least one dispensary under a qualified practitioner in each thana is being rapidly approached. There is a tendency in some quarters to press for the opening of homœopathic and ayurvedic dispensaries partly on the grounds of economy; and the Ministry recognised this alternative some years ago by issuing rules for the control of such dispensaries. There are obvious disadvantages however in yielding too readily to the temptation to open such dispensaries on financial grounds rather than take advantage of the increased output of doctors from the new medical schools to establish institutions of which they are qualified to take charge.

5. Veterinary Work.—The immediate result of relieving district boards of a liability of about Rs. 70,000 per annum for the cost of anti-rinderpest serum has been to reduce the expenditure of district boards on veterinary services by more than half of that amount from Rs. 2,12,500 to Rs. 1,78,000. This is a decided breach of the principle which governs State grants to local bodies, that they will not diminish their pre-existing normal expenditure on the service to which a contribution is made in consequence of the relief afforded. The only noteworthy feature in veterinary work is a scheme of the Dacca district board for expansion in future, when the law permits, at the joint cost of the district board and union boards; but even this board spent less on actual veterinary work in 1929-30 than in 1928-29.

6. Civil Works.—The whole interest of this rather uninspiring subject lies in the gradual regression of expenditure on material needs such as communications, which district boards were first brought into existence to meet, in favour of the social services, such as public health and education which have assumed prominence in recent years. If we go back to our standard year of 1926-27 we find the total expenditure on public works amounting to Rs. 64·8 lakhs, of which Rs. 36·5 lakhs went to communications. From that year there has been a continuous decrease till in 1929-30 expenditure on public works amounted to Rs. 58·5 lakhs, of which only Rs. 33·2 lakhs was spent on communications. This reduction of three lakhs in expenditure on roads falls almost entirely under original works; and, as was pointed out last year, if district boards find it difficult to keep up their expenditure on communications, it is all to the good that they should not add to a mileage already beyond their capacity to maintain in good repair. At the same time it is necessary to sound a note of warning against this rapid downward trend in expenditure on roads, which with the increased motor traffic have assumed a new importance in contributing to the prosperity and amenities of a district. Grants have been sanctioned from the central road fund for the reconstruction of seven district board roads, grants which it may be mentioned should not result in reducing the pre-existing expenditure of these boards on their roads. It is hoped, moreover, that before long legislation will be introduced placing a levy on motor traffic for the benefit of the roads to which this owes its existence, on the lines of that recently passed in Bihar and Orissa. But apart from all this the time certainly seems to have come for district boards to check the decrease of expenditure on communications by fixing a fair minimum standard on the basis of past years to which they will in future adhere.

7. Water-supply.—A reduction in expenditure on water-supply, by no means an unpopular head, from Rs. 8·3 lakhs in 1928-29 to Rs. 7·6 lakhs in 1929-30 is partly traceable to Burdwan district board, which had to cut short an ambitious programme of construction into which it was tempted by its windfall from the coal mines. The postponement of half the Government grant for water-supply payable in 1928-29 till 1929-30 for reasons explained to the Public Accounts Committee may also have served to retard construction by district boards in 1929-30. There has certainly been no real decrease in interest in improving sources of water-supply. The district board of the 24-Parganas, for instance, sank another 132 tube-wells in addition to over a thousand already sunk, and the Faridpur and Jessore boards report sinking 327 and 248 tube-wells, respectively.

Progress with the scheme for granting loans to district boards for improvement of their water-supply has been slow. It was not till October 1929 that the principles of the scheme finally took shape and were communicated to district boards for submission of their proposals in accordance with it. Naturally no expenditure was possible on sanctioned projects during 1929-30, and a beginning had hardly been made with actual expenditure in the current financial year, when the imperative need for retrenchment involved surrender of funds available for loans leaving provision only for Burdwan and Howrah districts. Nor can it be said that there has been great alacrity on the part of district boards in submitting projects for approval in conformity with the lines finally adopted.

8. General Remarks.—During the year 1928-29 and in the following months the Ministry of Local Self-Government have for the first time been faced with the problem presented by the exploitation by the Chairman and majority of a district board of their position on the board to attack the policy and authority of Government. The position was met in both cases by temporary reversion to the system in force before 1920 of appointing the District Magistrate as Chairman, a measure which, so far as can be seen, will be sufficient in itself to restore harmonious relations between the local body and Government. The District Magistrates who have been asked to assume these responsibilities have cheerfully undertaken the task, in the face of a majority hostile at the outset, and have succeeded in preserving uninterrupted the existence of the representative local body which but for their assistance must almost inevitably have ceased to function.

Apart from these abnormal cases Commissioners continue to report well on the whole of the activities of district boards under their non-official Chairmen. There is certainly more sense of development and constitutional growth in the record of district boards year by year than in that of municipalities. The non-official Chairman with his wide influence and responsibilities comes more and more into evidence as a new factor in the organic constitution of provincial local self-government. The Conference of Chairmen of district boards held in Darjeeling in October 1930 may be said to have marked a quite definite advance in the self expression of the non-official Chairman as an expert and responsibly minded representative of the district board on questions of fundamental importance to these bodies; and proved for that reason of the greatest assistance to the Ministry.

The reports of Divisional Commissioners for the year focus attention on two particular administrative problems neither of which has yet been directly tackled. One is the tendency of district boards to fritter away their limited resources, especially those for public works, by lack of any deliberate programme and want of adherence to the budget, which results in impulsive additions to the list of projects in hand in response to purely local or personal considerations. The other is the growing need for regularising the control by district boards of large fairs and gatherings, in the interests of public health, with some system for financing the measures necessary out of the profits derived by one party or another from these occasions. In the background lies the necessity of overhauling the Local Self-Government Act as a whole, on which Chairmen were asked to advise at the Darjeeling Conference. All Commissioners draw attention to the financial limitations of district boards, it being pointed out for instance that the increase derived by a district board from the revision of the cess, considerable as it may appear at first sight, is all a board has to look forward to from this source for several years. The whole finances of district boards rest at present on local taxation of less than three annas per head; and no problem is of greater moment for the future of local self-government than that of finding funds within the district for expenditure by representatives of the district on the material and social welfare of its inhabitants.

The services of the following gentlemen have been brought to the notice of Government on account of good work done by them.

NOTIFICATION.

Minister-in-charge: The Hon'ble Mr. Bijoy Prasad Singh Roy.

Tippera.—No. 277P.H.—29th January 1931. —In exercise of the power conferred by section 290 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884 (Ben. Act III of 1884), the Government of Bengal (Ministry of Public Health) are pleased to make the following rules subject to which the Commissioners of the Chandpur Municipality in the district of Tippera may allow communication pipes to be laid down from the service pipes of the Commissioners for the purpose of leading water to holdings for domestic purposes only:—

Rules.

So long as the Commissioners deem it practicable and consistent with the maintenance of an efficient water-supply, they may allow any owner or occupier of a holding paying a water-rate imposed under the provisions of Part VII of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884, on the annual value of such holding, when such annual value is not less than Rs. 100, or such higher amount as may be fixed from time to time by the Commissioners at a meeting, to lay down communication pipes from the service-pipes of the Commissioners for the purpose of leading water to such holding for domestic purposes only, subject to the following rules and conditions:—

Provided that connections shall be permitted in houses below the annual value of Rs. 100 the owners of which have already made full payment of the requisite fee before the adoption of these rules.

1. The owner or occupier of any holding requiring water to be laid on to such holding for domestic purposes, or requiring any addition or alteration to an existing water-supply, must apply for the same on a printed form to be supplied, free of cost, at the municipal office. The work must be commenced within three months from the date of sanction, failing which the sanction shall be deemed to be withdrawn and a fresh application and sanction shall be required.

2. A fee of Rs. 150 must be paid to the Commissioners by such owner or occupier for each connection to a municipal main supply-pipe or a common communication-pipe laid in accordance with rule 3 before any work is commenced, such fee to be in addition to all other costs and charges imposed under these rules.

3. Except as provided below such holding must have a separate connection to the municipal main supply-pipe, and extensions from the communication-pipe of one holding to another holding shall not be permitted.

Provided that with the consent of the Commissioners in meeting connections to two or more holdings may be permitted from a common communication-pipe. Any such communication pipe must be laid in a street or common passage and a stop-cock and meter as provided for in rule 7 must be fixed on the connection to each holding:

Provided also that no holding shall have more than one separate connection, but if in any case the Commissioners are satisfied that an adequate supply to any holding cannot be given through a single connection, they may sanction second connection thereto.

4. The owner or occupier of the holding in respect of which the connection is required must pay the entire cost of the connection, including the supply and fixing of the fittings referred to in rule 7, and must also pay the cost of such alterations in, or repairs to, roads, drains, sewers, gas or water mains or pipes, and the cost of such other works, as may be necessitated by, or result from, the work of making such connection.

Provided that if from one supply-pipe in the street several connections are taken to different holdings at a time through any municipal or private by-lanes, the cost is to be apportioned among the owners of such several holdings.

5. The owner or occupier of the holding to which a connection has been given must, at any time, on receipt of a notice to do so from the Commissioners, pay the entire cost of any repairs or alterations to the connection or any part thereof that the Commissioners may consider necessary to put it into a satisfactory condition or which may be necessitated by any change in the municipal waterworks or system of distribution or by the defective condition of the connection or any part thereof or by any other cause whatever.

6. (1) The works required under rules 4 and 5 may, at the option of the Commissioners, either be carried out by the Commissioners themselves at the expense of the owner or occupier of the holding in respect of which the works are required, or may be carried out by a person or firm employed by such owner or occupier and approved by the Commissioners.

(2) No work shall be carried out under sub-rule (1), except under the supervision of a municipal officer authorised in that behalf and no connection must be made with the municipal water main except at such time as may be appointed, and in such position as may be selected, by an authorised municipal officer.

7. A holding connection shall comprise the following parts or fittings:—

(a) a brass or gun-metal ferrule inserted in the main supply-pipe;

(b) a galvaized iron communication-pipe from the ferrule to the meter;

(c) a stop-cock and its surface-box;

(d) a meter;

(e) service-pipes from the stop-cock to the taps; and

(f) taps.

8. (1) All the fittings referred to in rule 7 shall be exact duplicates of standard samples kept in the office of the Commissioners, and approved by them in meeting.

(2) All fittings shall be inspected and tested and stamped by an officer of the municipality before being fixed.

(3) If any owner or occupier shall desire to adopt any fitting of a pattern different from the standard patterns, he must present such fitting for the approval of the Municipal Commissioners in a meeting and any fittings so presented may, if considered satisfactory by them, be stamped, and samples thereof may be purchased and placed among the standard fittings.

9. The holding connection, when fitted in position, must be capable of standing a pressure of 100 feet, and no water shall be supplied until it has stood such a test applied by the Commissioners.

10. The size of the ferrule and the diameter of the communication-pipe referred to in clauses (a) and (b) of rule 7, and the number of taps shall be fixed in accordance with the annual valuation of the holdings as follows:—

Annual valuation of holding.			Sizes of ferrule in inches.	Diameter of communication pipe in inches.	Number of taps.
Rs.		Rs.
Under .. 200		..	½	½	2
From .. 200	to	399	½	¾	3
„ .. 400	„	599	¾	¾	4
„ .. 600	„	899	¾	¾	5
„ .. 900	„	1,199	¾	1	6
„ .. 1,200	„	1,499	¾	1	7
„ .. 1,500	„	1,999	1	1	8

From 2,000 and over—an extra tap for every additional Rs. 1,000, and when necessary, a corresponding increase in the size of ferrule or tee-piece on the municipal main and in the diameter of communication-pipe.

11. (1) On every communication-pipe a brass or gun-metal stop-cock having the same water-way as such pipe shall be placed as near as practicable to the point where that pipe enters the holding to be supplied.

(2) The stop-cock shall be built in a brick chamber provided with a cast-iron surface cover-box so designed that it can be locked, and the key of this box shall remain under the control of the Chairman.

(3) The stop-cock shall be capable of adjustment so that the supply to the holding may be regulated thereby.

12. (1) The meter shall be placed as near to the stop-cock as possible and in a position where it can be conveniently examined.

(2) The meter must be fixed in a brick chamber covered over with a cast-iron surface box of approved pattern.

13. Neither the stop-cock nor the meter must be placed in any private premises.

14. The Commissioners shall depute an authorised person to read every meter not less than once a quarter, and shall give notice to the occupier at least twenty-four hours before the reading is recorded.

15. (1) Every owner or occupier of any holding, in respect of which a connection has been made under these rules, shall be entitled to a supply of—

(a) 2,500 gallons of water per quarter for each rupee,

(b) a further proportionate number of gallons per quarter for every additional fraction of a rupee, paid by him quarterly as water-rate in respect of such holding.

(2) For all water in excess of the amount allowed under sub-rule (1) such owner or occupier shall be charged quarterly as follows:—

	Annas per 1,000 gallons.
(a) For any excess quantity of water exceeding one half of the amount of the allowance prescribed in sub-rule (1) ..	6 annas.
(b) For any excess quantity of water exceeding one half of the amount of the allowance prescribed in sub-rule (1), but not exceeding that amount ..	8 annas.
(c) For any excess quantity of water exceeding the amount of the allowance prescribed in sub-rule (1), but not exceeding twice that amount ..	12 annas.
(d) For any excess quantity of water exceeding twice the amount of the allowance prescribed in sub-rule (1) ..	Re. 1-4

16. The Commissioners may cut off the connection between the waterworks of the municipality and any holding to which water is supplied from such works, or may turn off such supply, in any of the following cases, namely:—

(a) If the holding is unoccupied (with notice to the municipality);

(b) if the occupier refuses to admit any officer duly empowered in that behalf into the holding for the purpose of making any examination or inspection authorised under this Act, or under any by-law or rule framed under this Act, or prevents such officer from making such examination or inspection;

(c) if the owner or occupier of the holding touches or interferes with his meter in any way except with the permission of the Chairman, or wilfully or negligently injures or damages it;

(d) if the owner or occupier of the holding wilfully or negligently permits waste of water in such volume as will, in the opinion of the Chairman, endanger the water-supply in the neighbourhood;

(e) if the owner or occupier of the holding shall refuse or neglect to pay any of the fees or charges imposed in accordance with these rules for a space of fourteen days after he has been served with a notice of demand for the same;

(f) if the owner or occupier of the holding constructs or fixes any cisterns, tanks, reservoirs, taps, pipes or any other works in connection with the water-supply not authorised by these rules;

(g) if the pipes, taps, ball-cocks, cisterns, or any other parts of the connection are, in the opinion of the Commissioners, in a leaking condition or in a state of disrepair:

Provided that such disconnection or turning off of water-supply shall not relieve any person from any liabilities which he may have incurred under these rules.

In the circumstances contemplated in clause (d) an officer authorised by the Commissioners in this behalf by a general order shall have the power to turn off the supply for a period not exceeding eight hours on his previously recording his reason in writing.

17. Every tap shall be of the same size as the pipe to which it is attached and shall be of brass and of the pattern known as "screw-down." Every tap shall be at least 3 feet above the surface of the ground beneath.

18. No cistern, tank or reservoir of any description which is intended to be supplied with water from the municipal water-works shall be permitted to any holding except with the sanction of the Commissioners in meeting and such sanction shall distinctly specify the dimensions and capacity of the cistern, tank or reservoir allowed. The inlet to every such cistern, tank or reservoir must be controlled by an efficient ball-cock so that the discharge thereinto is completely stopped when the cistern, tank or reservoir is full. Any taps fed from such cistern, tank or reservoir must be included in the number of taps allowed under rule 10.

19. No connection shall be permitted to any holding unless and until the owner or occupier makes effective provision to the satisfaction of the Commissioners for draining all waste water away.

20. No communication-pipe or service-pipe shall be laid along or adjacent to any drain or water course or in any place where, in the opinion of the Commissioners, there is risk or likelihood of the water in such pipe becoming contaminated.

21. Whenever a communication-pipe has to be laid across a sewer or open drain, or in any place where it is liable to injury, such pipe must be passed through a cast-iron pipe of sufficient length and strength to afford due protection.

NOTIFICATIONS.

No. 8-I.—19th January 1931.—The following draft of rules and schedule of rates of tolls, which, in exercise of the powers conferred by sections 6 and 11 of the Canals Act, 1864 (Bengal Act V of 1864), the Governor in Council intends to make and fix for the Rampur Bil Khal joining the Gazipur Khal at Gazipur and Chechri on the north and Amua Done at Amua on the south in the district of Bakarganj, is hereby published for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby.

2. The draft will be taken into consideration on or after the 15th March 1931, and any objections or suggestions received by the undersigned before that date will be considered:—

Draft rules and schedules of rates of tolls.

1. Every vessel on entering the channel and before passing the gate at either end or even when entering the channel from a side khal between the gates shall be liable to measurement for the purpose of ascertaining the tolls payable; in case of any reasonable doubt arising, a vessel may be measured again by any person appointed by the District Board of Bakarganj on this behalf.

2. Vessels for the purpose of the determination of maundage shall be divided into two classes as below:—

Class I.—To include all vessels of the types of country boats, including saltees and hapors (fish cages), house boats, kosh boats, green boats, etc.

Class II.—To include steam boats, motor boats, flats and barges and other square-built vessels.

3. The maundage of every vessel, whether laden or empty, shall, for the purpose of Act V (B. C.) of 1864 and of these rules, be determined by the following measurements:—

CLASS I.

A. The product of one quarter the length of the vessel from stem to stern, measured along the water line, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the depth from the water-line to the interior bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which tolls shall be levied.

B. The measurement of the length is to be made in feet, rejecting inches; the measurement of breadth and depth is to be made in feet and quarters of a foot, rejecting any remainder of less than a quarter of a foot.

C. The maundage on which the amount of toll is calculated shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 12½ maunds, any remainder of less than 12½ maunds being rejected. In the case of vessels exceeding 500 maunds by measurement, the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 50 maunds, rejecting any remainder of less than 50 maunds.

D. Saltees.—The product of one quarter of the inside length of the vessel, measured along the centre line from stem to stern, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the greatest depth measured from the top to the interior bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which tolls shall be levied.

CLASS II.

For vessels of class II the number of maunds obtained by the system of measurement prescribed for vessels of class I shall be increased by one-half. For vessels of this class above 5,000 maunds measurement, the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 500 maunds, rejecting any remainder of less than 500 maunds. In the case of steamers and motor boats the maundage determined as above shall be reduced by one-third as an allowance of engine space.

For vessels of class II which are furnished with reliable way bills, the gross maundage of cargo shown by the way bills or in the case of steamers, the maundage obtained from multiplying the registered tonnage of the steamer by 27, may, at the option of the employer of the vessel or the steamer (as the case may be), be taken as the maundage on which tolls will be charged.

4. After the measurement the person in charge of the vessel shall be provided with a slip showing the maundage to be charged, which must be presented at the toll office where he will be provided with a ticket, after payment of toll, which will permit the vessel to pass the gate or proceed through the channel.

5. Every ticket shall have entered on it the name of the sarang, manjee or other person in charge of the vessel, the date of entry, the maundage, the cargo, the amount of toll charged and the number of days for which the ticket remains current.

6. All tolls are payable on demand and shall be paid at the toll office before a vessel is permitted to proceed.

7. The ticket must be kept on board the vessel and in possession of the person in charge of the vessel and must be produced for inspection when demanded by the person authorised to collect tolls, or by any officer to whom such person is subordinate. If on demand the ticket is not produced, such person or officer shall assess the tollage as provided in rules 3 and 12, and shall require payment of toll, and unless and until the toll is paid, or the original ticket or a duplicate is produced as evidence that toll has already been paid, the vessel shall be liable to seizure and detention under the provisions of section 9 of the Act.

8. Duplicates of lost tickets, of which the numbers and dates can be satisfactorily established, will be granted by the collector of tolls on payment of a fee equal to one quarter of the total tollage, subject to a minimum fee of one anna per ticket.

9. All vessels, whether the property of Government, District Board, other local bodies or of private persons, are liable for toll except those specially exempted under these rules or by a resolution passed by the District Board of Bakarganj from time to time.

10. The canal may be closed once a year for effecting the necessary repairs to it on seven days' notice of the intention so to close it being given; but in the event of any sudden emergency the canal may be closed at any time without prior notice, and no claim in such case by owners of vessels or others for compensation on account of detention shall be entertained.

11. No rafts exceeding 50 feet in length and 5 feet in breadth shall be permitted to enter the canals.

12. The rates of toll shall be as follows:—

(1) On all vessels empty or laden, per hundred maunds—Twelve annas.

(2) On all vessels empty or laden, for 12½ maunds or less—One anna six pies.

(3) On rafts of bamboos, grass, timber, etc., not exceeding 50 feet in length and 5 feet in breadth—Six annas each raft.

Tolls will be levied at Amua.

13. For boats frequently using the canal, such as boats carrying passengers, grass or perishable articles monthly tickets will be issued at 10 times the ordinary toll.

14. Every vessel which has paid toll shall be allowed to remain in the canal for three days inclusive of the days of entry into and leaving the canal. A vessel remaining in any part of the canal longer than three days shall be charged demurrage equal to one-half of the toll for each day in excess of three days. No vessel shall be permitted to remain in the canal for more than one month. Provided that this rule shall not apply to vessels holding monthly tickets under rule 13 above, which may remain in the canal for more than three days without payment of demurrage but not for more than one month at a time.

15. No vessel carrying exclusively police officers or servants, soldiers and officers of the British Army, post mail runners, officers of the Irrigation Department on duty, officers and servants of the toll office for the canal referred to in these rules while on duty, or the vessels of such other persons as may be exempted by a resolution of the District Board of Bakarganj, shall be liable for toll in the canal.

16. Any matter relating to the mode of collection of tolls and other relevant points, not provided for in these rules, shall be decided by the District Board of Bakarganj at a meeting, and shall be subject to the approval of the local Government.

Press Communiqué.

Three State technical scholarships of the value of £240 per annum each (inclusive of a bonus of £40) tenable in England for the training of Indians in Marine Engineering will be awarded during the year 1931. The training in Marine Engineering consists of (i) workshop service (i.e., practical training in the construction and erection of marine engines), and (ii) sea service. The total period of training will extend from six to seven years. Of this four to five years will be required to complete the training at such private firms of marine engineers as may be arranged by the High Commissioner for India. This period of workshop apprenticeship will be followed by training for 18 months at sea in a foreign-going ship, arrangements for which will also be made by the High Commissioner.

2. The scholarships will be awarded after a competitive examination which will be held at different centres in India on the 20th April 1931 and the following days. Rules and conditions for the grant of these scholarships and the rules for the competitive examination for the selection of candidates for the scholarships are being published in Part I of the Gazette of India, dated the 24th January 1931. Applications for entry to the examination must be made on the prescribed form copies of which can be obtained from the Secretary to the Government of India, Department of Commerce, and they must reach that Department on or before the 20th March 1931.

Rules and conditions for the grant of three scholarships in 1931 tenable in England for the training of Marine Engineers.

I. Candidates will be required to appear at an examination. The regulations prescribing the qualifications of candidates, the rules for the examination and the method of selection are detailed in Appendix II to these rules.

II. The selected candidates will be apprenticed for training at such private firm or firms of marine engineers as may be arranged by the High Commissioner for India. This apprenticeship will extend over a period of 4 to 5 years.

III. The period of apprenticeship will be followed by training for 18 months at sea in a foreign-going ship in order to enable the candidates to sit for the Second Class Engineers' Examination of the Board of Trade.

IV. The selected candidates will be required to observe the rules laid down by the Government of India or the High Commissioner (vide below).

Rules required to be observed by the scholar.

1. All Government scholars are required to avail themselves of the information and advice which the High Commissioner for India is in a position to give them, and to apply to the Education Department of the High Commissioner's Office for instructions as regards their studies and in any circumstances of difficulty, and in regard to any matter requiring the sanction of the High Commissioner or the Government of India.

2. Every scholar should, on reaching England, at once report himself to the Education Department of the Office of the High Commissioner for India in London, India House, Aldwych, W. C. 2. Accommodation for new arrivals is provided at 21, Cromwell Road, South Kensington, S. W. 7.

3. Every scholar must obey all instructions which he may receive from the Office of the High Commissioner.

4. Every scholar must from time to time, whenever the High Commissioner for India requires it, submit a certificate from the authority under whom he is working, showing that his conduct and progress have been satisfactory.

5. Every scholar must give a written undertaking that he will at once and without discussion of possible alternatives devote himself exclusively to the course of training laid down for him, comply with whatever instructions are given and do whatever work they may involve. Any scholar who neglects his studies, or tries to work for any other profession concurrently, will render himself liable to forfeiture of his scholarship.

6. Every scholar will be required to keep a concise diary of his work to be submitted to the High Commissioner for India at the dates laid down in the rules for the keeping of such diaries.

7. Subject to a due compliance with the above conditions, the scholar's allowance will be paid quarterly in advance by the Office of the High Commissioner. It will begin from the date of the scholar's reporting his arrival in England, and the High Commissioner will disburse it to the scholar in such instalments as convenience may dictate. Three months after the date of reporting arrival the amount to the ensuing official Quarter Day* will be paid and subsequent payments will be made in advance on or after each official Quarter Day.

8. Every scholar is required to lodge with the High Commissioner in London, before his arrival in England, the sum of £40 for initial expenses. He will have no claim to payment of any instalment of his scholarship until this deposit has been made.

9. The necessary travelling expenses of scholars by second class or by third class if no second be available, will, if sanctioned, be defrayed by the High Commissioner. Applications for payment of these charges should be made to the High Commissioner. But charges for private tuition, unless specially sanctioned, for books, instruments, hotel bills and medical attendance must be paid by the scholar himself.

* NOTE.—The official quarter days are the 1st January, the 1st April, the 1st July and the 1st October.

10. No claim can be admitted for the payment of any expenditure unless the scholar has obtained previous sanction from the High Commissioner.

11. The allowance will be at the rate of £200 a year plus a bonus of £40 a year and will be reduced or withdrawn while the scholar is being trained at sea on a foreign-going ship. Every scholar who, not being disabled by illness or prevented by any other cause which the High Commissioner may consider sufficient, fails to comply with the rules here set forth will forfeit his scholarship. It may be terminated at any time by the High Commissioner; if a scholar fails in health or conduct, in which case he will be provided at the discretion of the High Commissioner with a second class passage to India.

12. He must also execute a bond in the form appended (Appendix I) undertaking to pay a sum up to Rs. 20,000 if he fails to return to India when instructed to do so or if he settles in some other country within five years of the termination of his scholarship.

13. A free second class passage from the port of embarkation in India to England will be provided and the cost of the overland journey from Marseilles will in no circumstances be refunded to a scholar, unless he is expressly instructed by Government to travel overland and is provided with a steamer ticket to Marseilles only. In the latter event the High Commissioner for India will refund the rail and baggage expenses on the direct instructions of the Government of India.

14. The scholar should clearly understand that the grant of the scholarship does not entitle him on completion of his course to an appointment in Government service, but he should immediately on his return to India report his arrival to the Government of India.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Ramna, Dacca, the 29th January 1931.

Final Forecast of the Sugarcane Crop of Bengal, 1930-31.

(NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1928-29, the area under sugarcane in Bengal has represented some 7·1 per cent. of the total area under sugarcane in British India.)

Character of the season.—In the second forecast issued in October last the weather was reported to be uniformly favourable in the most important districts of the province, although some damage was caused by heavy rain in Mymensingh. Since then harvesting was carried on under favourable conditions and a good outturn is expected to be reaped for the province, as a whole, this year.

Acreage.—The total area planted is estimated at 198,500 acres this year as against 197,600 acres last year.

Outturn.—According to the estimates of District Officers the average outturn of the crop for the province works out at 92 per cent. of the normal this year as against 82 per cent. last year.

Taking 37 maunds as the normal yield of cane gur per acre, the gross outturn for the province is estimated at 248,200 tons this year as against 220,200 tons last year.

Other sources of gur.—The total quantity of gur likely to be obtained from date-palm juice and others is estimated at 103,700 tons this year as against 101,700 tons last year.

The quantity of gur for the province from all sources is thus estimated at 351,900 tons this year as against 321,900 tons last year.

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

Midnapore.—No. 528L.S.-G.—4th February 1931.—In exercise of the power conferred by section 18A of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act, 1885 (Bengal Act III of 1885), the Government of Bengal (Ministry of Local Self-Government) direct that Babu Mohini Mohan Das be removed from his office as a member of the Midnapore district board.

Birbhum-Bankura.—No. 592L.S.-G. — 6th February 1931.—In exercise of the power conferred by clause (a) of section 138 of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885 (Bengal Act III of 1885), the Government of Bengal (Ministry of Local Self-Government) are pleased to direct that, for the election of members of local boards in the districts of Birbhum and Bankura, the following amendments be made in the rules published with the notification, dated the 15th December 1885, as subsequently amended, viz.:—

(1) Delete rules 36 and 41.

(2) In rule 42 for the words "on the ground that he is not the person under whose name as entered in the voters' register he claims to vote" substitute the words "under rule X."

(3) Delete rules 43 and 43-A.

(4) After rule 44, insert the following rules:—

I. Votes shall be given by ballot and in person and no votes shall be received by proxy.

II. The presiding officer shall keep order at the polling station, shall see that the election is fairly conducted, shall regulate the number of voters to be admitted at one time, and shall exclude all other persons except—

(a) the polling officers, the candidates, and one agent of each candidate (hereinafter referred to as the polling agent) appointed in writing by the candidate and authorized in this behalf by the Magistrate of the district;

(b) the police or other public servants on duty; and

(c) such other persons as the presiding officer may from time to time admit for the purpose of identifying voters.

III. Each polling station shall be furnished with such number of compartments, in which voters can record their votes screened from observation, as the presiding officer thinks necessary.

IV. The presiding officer shall provide at each polling station one ballot box for each of the candidates, which shall be numbered and on which the name of the candidate shall be written. The boxes for the several candidates shall be distinguished by the use of separate colour and symbol for each box. A notice of the number, colour and symbol assigned to each candidate's box shall be published at each polling station at least seven clear days before the date of polling, though, if possible, a longer notice may conveniently be given.

V. (1) The presiding officer shall provide at each polling station instruments for stamping an official mark on the ballot papers, as many ballot boxes as may be necessary and copies of the final register of voters (i.e., the electoral roll) or of such part thereof as contains the names of the electors entitled to vote at such station.

(2) The official mark shall be kept secret, and a period of not less than seven years shall intervene between the use of the same official mark at elections for the same thana.

VI. Every ballot box shall be so constructed that the ballot papers can be introduced therein, but cannot be withdrawn therefrom, without the box being unlocked. The presiding officer at any polling station, immediately before the commencement of the poll, shall show the ballot box empty to such persons as may be present in such station, so that they may see that it is empty, and shall then lock it up, and place his seal upon it in such manner as to prevent its being opened without breaking such seal, and keep it so locked and sealed.

VII. Immediately before a ballot paper is delivered to a voter, it shall be marked with the official mark, and the number, name and description of the voter as stated in the electoral roll shall be called out, and the number of the voter shall be entered in a ballot paper list which shall be in Form A appended to these rules, and a mark shall be placed in a copy of the electoral roll against the number of the voter, to denote that he has received a ballot paper, but without showing the particular ballot paper which he has received. On the ballot list shall be entered the name of the thana and the name or distinctive number of the polling station.

VIII. The voter, on receiving the ballot paper, shall forthwith proceed into the compartment in the polling station and shall put his ballot paper into the ballot box of the candidate for whom he wishes to vote. Every voter shall vote without undue delay and shall quit the polling station as soon as he has put his ballot paper into the ballot box.

[NOTE.—No objection shall be taken to a voter on the ground that he does not want any secrecy in his voting.]

IX. The presiding officer shall give such assistance as may be required to any voter, who by reason of infirmity or illiteracy is unable to vote in the manner prescribed.

X. At any time before a ballot paper is delivered to a voter the presiding officer or polling officer may of his own accord, if he has reason to doubt the identity of the voter or his right to vote at such station, and shall, if so required by a candidate, put to the voter the following questions:—

(1) Are you the person enrolled as follows (reading the whole entry from the roll)? and,

(2) Have you already voted at the present election in this thana?

(3) Have you already voted at this general election for the board in any other thana in the district?

and the voter shall not be supplied with a ballot paper if he refuses to answer one of the questions and unless he answers the first question in the affirmative, the second question in the negative, and, at a general election, the third question also in the negative.

XI. The ballot paper, which shall be in Form B shall be serially numbered. The serial number shall be printed on the face of the counterfoil and on the back of the ballot paper.

XII. If a person representing himself to be a particular voter named on the electoral roll applies for a ballot paper after another person has voted as such voter the applicant shall, after duly answering such questions as the presiding officer may ask, be entitled to receive a ballot paper. Such ballot paper (hereinafter referred to as a tendered ballot paper) shall be of a colour different from the other ballot papers and, instead of being put into the ballot box, shall be given to the presiding officer and endorsed by him with the name of the candidate for whom such person desires to vote and with the name of the voter and his number on the electoral roll and shall be set aside in a separate packet and shall not be counted by the presiding officer. The name of the voter and his number in the electoral roll and the name of distinctive number of the polling station to which the roll relates shall be entered in a list in Form C, which shall bear the heading "Tendered votes list." The person tendering such ballot paper shall sign his name and address thereon or affix his thumb impression against the entry in that list.

XIII. A voter who has inadvertently dealt with his ballot paper in such a manner that it cannot conveniently be used as a ballot paper may, on delivering it to the presiding officer and satisfying him of the inadvertence, obtain another ballot paper in place of the spoilt paper and the latter shall, together with the entry relating to it in the ballot paper list, be marked as cancelled.

XIV. Where there is only one polling centre in the thana the presiding officer shall, on the conclusion of the poll, open the ballot boxes and scrutinise and count the votes before the candidates or their agents who may be present, in the manner laid down in the following rules.

XV. Where there is more than one polling centre in the thana, the presiding officer of each polling station, as soon as practicable after the close of the poll, shall, in the presence of any candidates or polling agents who may be present, make up into separate parcels and seal with his own seal and the seals of such candidates or agents as may desire to affix their seals:—

(1) each ballot box in use at each station unopened but with the key attached and the slit in the lid sealed up;

(2) the unused ballot papers;

(3) the tendered ballot papers;

(4) the spoilt ballot papers;

(5) the marked copy of the electoral roll;

(6) the ballot papers lists; and

(7) the tendered votes list;

and shall deliver such packets to the presiding officer nominated by the District Magistrate in this behalf as chief presiding officer.

XVI. The packets shall be accompanied by a statement made by the presiding officer, showing the number of ballot papers entrusted to him and accounting for them under the heads of ballot papers in the ballot box, unused, spoilt, and tendered ballot papers.

XVII. The chief presiding officer shall, as soon as may be practicable after the close of the poll, appoint a date, time and place for the counting of votes and shall give notice in writing thereof to all candidates.

XVIII. (1) No person shall be allowed to be present at the counting of the votes except the presiding or chief presiding officer and such persons as he may appoint to assist him in counting the votes, and each candidate and one representative of each candidate authorized in writing by the candidate.

(2) No person shall be appointed to assist in counting the votes who has been employed by or on behalf of any candidate for any purpose whatsoever connected with the election.

XIX. On the day and at the time appointed under rule XVII the chief presiding officer shall proceed as follows:—

(a) The ballot box or boxes relating to each polling station shall be opened one after another, and the chief presiding officer shall take out the papers therefrom, count them or cause them to be counted, and record the number thereof in a statement. Such statement shall not be shown to any candidate or agent.

(b) After the number of ballot papers received in each box from each polling station has been recorded, the ballot papers for each candidate will be put together in convenient bundles and thereafter the chief presiding officer shall allow the candidates, and any representatives duly authorized under rule XVIII, reasonable opportunity to inspect without handling the ballot papers, and shall on every ballot paper which is rejected endorse the word "rejected." If any candidate or representative present questions the correctness of the rejection, the chief presiding officer shall also record on the ballot paper the grounds for the rejection. No candidate or representative shall be allowed to see the serial number on the back of any ballot paper.

(c) The chief presiding officer shall, as far as practicable, proceed continuously with the counting of the votes; and shall, during any necessary intervals during which the counting has to be suspended, place the ballot papers, packets and other documents relating to the election under his own seal and the seals of such candidates or representatives as may desire to affix their seals, and shall cause adequate precautions to be taken for their custody.

XX. (1) A ballot paper shall be rejected if—

(a) it has not the official mark, or

(b) it bears any mark by which the voter can be identified.

(2) The decision of the presiding or chief presiding officer as to the validity of a ballot paper shall be final.

XXI. The presiding or chief presiding officer shall not open the sealed packets of the tendered votes, the marked copy of the electoral roll or the ballot paper lists. He shall verify the statement submitted by the presiding officer under rule XVI by comparing it with the number of counted votes and rejected ballot papers, the unused ballot papers in his possession and the tendered votes list, shall then reclose and reseal each packet which has been opened by him, and shall record on each packet a description of its contents and the date of the election to which it refers.

XXII. When the counting of the votes has been completed, the presiding or chief presiding officer shall forthwith declare the candidate or candidates, as the case may be, to whom the largest number of votes have been given to be elected.

XXIII. The presiding or chief presiding officer shall without delay report the result of the election to the District Magistrate and shall prepare and certify a return setting forth:—

(a) the result of the verification referred to in rule XXI,

(b) the names of the candidates for whom valid votes have been given,

(c) the number of valid votes given for each candidate,

(d) the name of the candidate elected,

(e) the number of votes declared invalid, and

(f) the number of tendered votes given, and shall forward a certified copy thereof to the District Magistrate.

He shall also permit any candidate, or any representative duly authorized in writing by the candidate, to take a copy or an extract from such return.

XXIV. The presiding or chief presiding officer shall, after reporting the result of the election, forward the return (in original) and all the packets relating to the election in his possession to the District Magistrate.

XXV. While in the custody of the officer to whom they have been so forwarded, the packets of ballot papers whether counted, rejected or tendered and of the ballot paper and tendered vote lists and in the case of postal elections the declaration papers and the rejected declaration papers with their connected ballot papers, shall not be opened and their contents shall not be inspected or produced except under the order of the District Magistrate or of a competent court.

XXVI. The packets aforesaid shall be retained for a period of one year and shall thereafter be destroyed subject to any direction to the contrary made by the District Magistrate, or by a competent court.

CALCUTTA, THE 9TH FEBRUARY 1931.

RESOLUTION—No. 621M.

Minister-in-charge: The Hon'ble Mr. Bijoy Prasad Singh Roy.

The revision of the Bengal Municipal Act, III of 1884, has been recognised for some time past to be a matter of growing urgency if municipalities in Bengal are to be given full scope for normal development. At the time when this Act was passed not only were constitutional conditions entirely different but the municipal experience and practice on which it was based were those of a generation ago; but, notwithstanding a few special amendments Bengal municipal law outside Calcutta has remained substantially unchanged.

The problem was approached by the late Sir Surendra Nath Banarji when Minister-in-charge of Local Self-Government, and a Bill was framed and placed before the Legislature. This Bill was rejected at the first reading in 1925. The considered proposals embodied in this Bill must necessarily form the basis of any further examination of the amendment of the Bengal Municipal Act; but even in the few years which have elapsed since the Bill was prepared developments have occurred and new suggestions have been made which render it undesirable now to initiate legislation by re-introduction of this Bill. The Government of Bengal (Ministry of Local Self-Government), have therefore decided to constitute a small advisory committee to consider and advise what modifications are desirable in the Bill introduced in 1925 with a view to framing a new Bill for the amendment of the Bengal Municipal Act.

The Committee will be composed as follows:—

Chairman.

(1) The Hon'ble Mr. Bijoy Prasad Singh Roy, Minister-in-charge of Local Self-Government.

Members.

(2) Rai Keshab Chandra Banerjee Bahadur, M.L.C.

(3) Khan Bahadur Maulvi Alimuzzaman Chaudhuri, M.L.C.

(4) Khan Bahadur Maulvi Azizul Haque, M.L.C.

(5) Mr. N. R. Luke, M.L.C.

(6) Mr. S. M. Bose, M.L.C.

(7) Khan Sahib Shamsuddin Ahmed, Bengal Civil Service.

(8) Mr. C. W. Gurner, Secretary, Local Self-Government Department.

2. Ordered that the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

3. Ordered also that copies of the Resolution and the Bengal Municipal Bill, 1925, be forwarded to the Chairman and Members of the Committee.

By order of the Government of Bengal

MARINE ENGINEERING.

New Delhi, the 24th January 1931.

No. 201-M.-II (12)/30.—The following Press Communique regarding the grant of three scholarships in 1931 tenable in England for the training of Indians in Marine Engineering and also the rules and conditions for the grant of these scholarships are published for general information:—

Press Communiqué.

Three State technical scholarships of the value of £240 per annum each (inclusive of a bonus of £40) tenable in England for the training of Indians in Marine Engineering will be awarded during the year 1931. The training in Marine Engineering consists of (i) workshop service (i.e., practical training in the construction and erection of marine engines), and (ii) sea service. The total period of training will extend from six to seven years. Of this four to five years will be required to complete the training at such private firms of marine engineers as may be arranged by the High Commissioner for India. This period of workshop apprenticeship will be followed by training for 18 months at sea in a foreign-going ship, arrangements for which will also be made by the High Commissioner.

2. The scholarships will be awarded after a competitive examination which will be held at different centres in India on the 20th April 1931 and the following days. Rules and conditions for the grant of these scholarships and the rules for the competitive examination for the selection of candidates for the scholarships are being published in Part I of the Gazette of India, dated the 24th January 1931. Applications for entry to the examination must be made on the prescribed form copies of which can be obtained from the Secretary to the Government of India, Department of Commerce, and they must reach that Department on or before the 20th March 1931.

Rules and conditions for the grant of three scholarships in 1931 tenable in England for the training of Marine Engineers.

I. Candidates will be required to appear at an examination. The regulations prescribing the qualifications of candidates, the rules for the examination and the method of selection are detailed in Appendix II to these rules.

II. The selected candidates will be apprenticed for training at such private firm or firms of marine engineers as may be arranged by the High Commissioner for India. This apprenticeship will extend over a period of 4 to 5 years.

III. The period of apprenticeship will be followed by training for 18 months at sea in a foreign-going ship in order to enable the candidates to sit for the Second Class Engineers' Examination of the Board of Trade.

IV. The selected candidates will be required to observe the rules laid down by the Government of India or the High Commissioner (vide below).

Rules required to be observed by the scholar.

1. All Government scholars are required to avail themselves of the information and advice which the High Commissioner for India is in a position to give them, and to apply to the Education Department of the High Commissioner's Office for instructions as regards their studies and in any circumstances of difficulty, and in regard to any matter requiring the sanction of the High Commissioner or the Government of India.

2. Every scholar should, on reaching England, at once report himself to the Education Department of the Office of the High Commissioner for India in London, India House, Aldwych, W. C. 2. Accommodation for new arrivals is provided at 21, Cromwell Road, South Kensington, S. W. 7.

3. Every scholar must obey all instructions which he may receive from the Office of the High Commissioner.

4. Every scholar must from time to time, whenever the High Commissioner for India requires it, submit a certificate from the authority under whom he is working, showing that his conduct and progress have been satisfactory.

5. Every scholar must give a written undertaking that he will at once and without discussion of possible alternatives devote himself exclusively to the course of training laid down for him, comply with whatever instructions are given and do whatever work they may involve. Any scholar who neglects his studies, or tries to work for any other profession concurrently, will render himself liable to forfeiture of his scholarship.

6. Every scholar will be required to keep a concise diary of his work to be submitted to the High Commissioner for India at the dates laid down in the rules for the keeping of such diaries.

7. Subject to a due compliance with the above conditions, the scholar's allowance will be paid quarterly in advance by the Office of the High Commissioner. It will begin from the date of the scholar's reporting his arrival in England, and the High Commissioner will disburse it to the scholar in such instalments as convenience may dictate. Three months after the date of reporting arrival the amount to the ensuing official Quarter Day* will be paid and subsequent payments will be made in advance on or after each official Quarter Day.

8. Every scholar is required to lodge with the High Commissioner in London, before his arrival in England, the sum of £40 for initial expenses. He will have no claim to payment of any instalment of his scholarship until this deposit has been made.

9. The necessary travelling expenses of scholars by second class or by third class if no second be available, will, if sanctioned, be defrayed by the High Commissioner. Applications for payment of these charges should be made to the High Commissioner. But charges for private tuition, unless specially sanctioned, for books, instruments, hotel bills and medical attendance must be paid by the scholar himself.

* NOTE.—The official quarter days are the 1st January, the 1st April, the 1st July and the 1st October.

10. No claim can be admitted for the payment of any expenditure unless the scholar has obtained previous sanction from the High Commissioner.

11. The allowance will be at the rate of £200 a year plus a bonus of £40 a year and will be reduced or withdrawn while the scholar is being trained at sea on a foreign-going ship. Every scholar who, not being disabled by illness or prevented by any other cause which the High Commissioner may consider sufficient, fails to comply with the rules here set forth will forfeit his scholarship. It may be terminated at any time by the High Commissioner; if a scholar fails in health or conduct, in which case he will be provided at the discretion of the High Commissioner with a second class passage to India.

12. He must also execute a bond in the form appended (Appendix I) undertaking to pay a sum up to Rs. 20,000 if he fails to return to India when instructed to do so or if he settles in some other country within five years of the termination of his scholarship.

13. A free second class passage from the port of embarkation in India to England will be provided and the cost of the overland journey from Marseilles will in no circumstances be refunded to a scholar, unless he is expressly instructed by Government to travel overland and is provided with a steamer ticket to Marseilles only. In the latter event the High Commissioner for India will refund the rail and baggage expenses on the direct instructions of the Government of India.

14. The scholar should clearly understand that the grant of the scholarship does not entitle him on completion of his course to an appointment in Government service, but he should immediately on his return to India report his arrival to the Government of India.

Pages 181-182—Rule 21 in F. R. Appendix No. 3.—Substitute the following for Note 1 under clause (d) of rule 21 in F. R. Appendix No. 3:—

NOTE 1.—(i) Taxes which are levied by local rule or custom on the owner are treated by Government as part of the rent. If the building is occupied by an officer rent free, no part of the owner's taxes is recovered from him.

(ii) The following rules govern the payment by officers occupying Government residences, i.e., residences belonging to Government or hired by Government for occupation by their officers, of the municipal taxes which by local rule or custom are recoverable from the tenant:—

(a) Officers on a pay not exceeding Rs. 150 per mensem.—The Local Government exempt from the payment of the occupier's share of municipal taxes (whether the amount is based upon the rental or on the actual amount of service rendered) all officers occupying Government residences whose pay does not exceed Rs. 150 per mensem.

N.B.—In these cases the occupier's taxes will be paid by the heads of offices concerned.

(b) Officers other than those mentioned in (a) above who occupy Government residences within the Calcutta and Howrah municipal area.—The Local Government reduce the amount of taxes based on the rental value of the house and payable by the occupier to an amount equivalent to 1 per cent. of the officer's pay. In these cases the occupier's taxes will be paid in the first instance by the head of the department concerned, and the amount payable by the occupier under this rule will be recovered monthly from the occupier by deductions from his pay. The heads of departments concerned will be responsible for seeing that these recoveries are regularly and correctly made.

N.B. (1)—Where the taxes are less than 1 per cent. of the officers' pay the actual taxes should be recovered.

N.B. (2)—The exemption in (b) above does not apply to charges which are levied, not on the basis of rental, but as payment for a definite amount of service rendered, e.g., quantity of water or electric current supplied. Charges of the latter nature must be borne by the tenant, unless specifically exempted therefrom by orders of Government.

(c) All officers not included in (a) and (b) above, who occupy Government residences, are liable to pay the entire amount of the occupier's share of the municipal taxes, including the one-fourth share of the water-rate referred to in section 281 of the Bengal Municipal Act.

N.B. (1)—The Local Government have from time to time exempted certain officers from the payment of the occupier's share of the taxes on residences which they are compelled to occupy solely for the proper performance of their duties. These exemptions will remain in force so long as these officers occupy the posts, or exactly similar posts to which the exemptions at present apply.

N.B. (2)—If the residence occupied by an officer falling under (b) and (c) above forms part of a building which is partly used as a residence and partly as an office and the like, and if the residential portion is not separately assessed to taxes, the total taxes payable by the occupier shall be apportioned between the portion occupied by the officer as residence and the portion occupied as office or the like, by the head of the department concerned in consultation with the Public Works Department and the Accountant-General, Bengal.

(d) The following procedure will be followed by departments responsible for the recovery of taxes in 1 (b) above:—

(i) Each head of a department will maintain a register in P. W. A. Form 49. The word "rents" in the heading will be changed to "taxes" and for the column showing "standard rent" will be substituted a column showing the occupier's share of taxes as assessed on the building.

(ii) Recoveries will be made by monthly deductions from the pay bills of the officers concerned. The head of the department will, before the close of each month, send a statement in duplicate in P. W. A. Form 48 (the heading of which will be changed to "Statement of taxes recoverable from pay bills") to the Accountant-General, Bengal, or the Treasury Officer concerned, who will make necessary recoveries and return one copy of the statement duly completed.

N.B. (1)—Treasury Officers will recover the amounts specified without prior reference to the tenants.

N.B. (2)—If the pay of an officer falling under paragraph 1 (b) above be changed restrospectively the amount of taxes payable will also be changed retrospectively.

2. These rules take effect from the 1st of April 1927.

II.—Description of the Colliery.

General.—Dishergarh West Colliery, situated close to the north bank of the Damuda river, about half a mile south of Sanctoria village, is in the Asansol subdivision of the Burdwan district.

About three hundred persons are employed underground on each of the two shifts worked per day, and the production of the mine is about 8,000 tons of coal per month.

Two seams are worked: the Dishergarh seam, 19 feet in thickness, and the Sanctoria seam, 8 feet in thickness, lying 430 feet below the Dishergarh seam. The strata are inclined at an angle of 1 in 5, and with the exception of a few small igneous dykes the seams are undisturbed. The analysis of the coal in the Dishergarh seam is as follows:—

Moisture	...	... 2
Ash	...	... 10
Volatile matter	...	... 33
Fixed carbon	...	... 55
		100 per cent.

The mine is served by two shafts sunk to the Sanctoria seam, the upcast shaft, known as No. 8 pit and used only for raising and lowering men, is 1,136 feet deep: the downcast shaft No. 9 pit, is used for coal raising purposes and is 1,167 feet deep. Old workings in the Dishergarh seam extend from the outcrop to a point some 600 feet to the dip of the shafts, but are not connected to the shafts, a solid pillar of coal having been left for the support of the shafts.

Reference to Plan 1 shows that the Dishergarh seam is now being exploited in an area lying between the southern boundary of the property and the solid barrier which is being left against the old workings. This area is 5,800 feet long in the direction of the strike and 1,400 feet wide in the direction of the dip, and it contains about four million tons of coal. Access to the area from the Sanctoria seam has been obtained by two stone drifts, 1,400 feet long. One of these drifts is inclined at 1 in 4½ and serves as a gravity haulage road and intake airway: the other, inclined at 1 in 7, is the return airway and travelling road. It was in this district in the Dishergarh seam that the explosion occurred.

Supervision.—The number of persons employed in the district at the time when the accident occurred was 116, and the supervising staff employed was as follows:—

Mr. F. L. Cork, first class certificated agent, not only of this colliery but also of six other collieries worked by the same managing agents (Messrs. Macneill and Company) and lying within a radius of about five miles.
Mr. B. Morrell, first class certificated manager.
Mr. G. V. Knight, second class certificated underground assistant.
Babu Ashitanga Mukherjee, certificated overman.
Ram Naresh Upadhaya, certificated sirdar.

Ram Prasad Koeri, certificated sirdar.

Of this staff Ram Naresh Upadhaya and Ram Prasad Koeri worked on the night shift, and both of them were present when the explosion occurred.

Method of working.—The coal is worked on the "pillar and stall" system, galleries being driven from 12 to 15 feet wide, on centres 100 feet apart, forming rectangular pillars approximately 85 to 90 feet square, none of which have been extracted or reduced. To the rise and dip of the main levels barrier pillars are being formed, and as the workings develop similar barrier pillars in the direction of the dip will be formed so as to form rectangular "panels" or sub-districts which can readily be isolated when the time comes to extract the pillars.

All galleries in the district were being undercut by machinery—a Goodman chain coal cutting machine being used in the galleries to the dip of the main level and a Mavor and Coulson chain coal cutter in those to the rise. Shot holes were bored by means of hand drilling machines, and the coal was loaded into tubs by hand. The thickness of coal worked at the faces was from 6 to 7 feet and it was customary to drill six shot holes, three near the roof and three in the middle of the working; the lower holes were fired first and the upper holes were not fired until the coal broken down by the lower shots had been cleared. A contractor, paid at the rate of Rs. 1-2 per ton of coal raised, recruited the labour and paid machinemen about Rs. 1-8 for each gallery undercut; coal loaders annas 5 per tub; and shotfirers and drillers Re. 1 and annas 12 per shift worked, respectively.

Ventilation.—The mine was ventilated by a steam driven Turbon fan designed to circulate a maximum quantity of 150,000 cubic feet of air per minute at a water gauge of $1\frac{1}{2}$" when running at 195 revolutions per minute. The normal speed of the fan was from 140 to 150 revolutions per minute, and the water gauge about $\frac{3}{4}$ of an inch. Prior to the explosion the last measurements of the air were made on 5th October when, according to the entries recorded, a total quantity of 71,245 cubic feet per minute was measured in the return airways near the upcast shaft, and 14,950 cubic feet per minute was measured in the return airway of the Dishergarh seam district. The course of the air current in the workings of the Dishergarh seam affected by the explosion is shown on Plan No. 2. The brattices in the main west level and No. 1 west level were 240 and 200 feet long, respectively. They consisted of bamboo matting supported by wooden poles, and at places where travelling ways through the brattices had to be provided sheets of hessian cloth were used. As the roof was uneven there would be considerable leakage over the brattices in addition to the leakage passing through the interstices of the bamboo matting. These leakages were probably so considerable that the quantity of air circulating at the working faces was likely to be small.

Safety Lamps.—Open lights were not being used in any part of the underground working. The safety lamps in use were of the Marsaut type, approved in Great Britain and manufactured by Messrs. Thomas and Williams, Limited; they were fitted with double gauzes and magnetic locks.

Explosives.—The explosive used was Stonobel—an explosive which has passed the test for "permitted" explosives in fiery coal mines in Great Britain. The conditions attaching to its use are contained in "The Explosives in Coal Mines Order of the 15th April 1930." The composition of the explosive must be as follows:—

Ingredients.	Parts by weight.
	Not more than.	Not less than.
Nitro-glycerine	26·0	24·0
Nitro-cotton	1·5	0·5
Nitrate of ammonium	42·5	39·5
Woodmeal (dried at 100° C.)	6·0	4·0
Chloride of potassium	29·0	27·0

and the greatest weight of the explosive which may be used in any one shot hole may not exceed 28 ounces.

The charges of Stonobel were fired by means of electric detonators, and the detonators were exploded by a magneto exploder operated by handle and press button. This exploder appears to be capable of firing some five or six shots in series; it is not of a type certified in Great Britain as safe for use in gassy mines.

Electricity.—Electric coal cutting machines were being used at the faces, and there was an electric hauling engine situated close to the main west level in the position shown on Plan No. 2. These machines were all of a flame-proof type suitable for use in gassy mines. Electricity was also used for lighting, but not at any point beyond the hauling engine.

Coal-Dust.—It was the practice to remove all slack coal and dust from the galleries, but no special precautions had been taken to prevent explosions of coal-dust as presumably no danger from this cause was anticipated. The galleries are invariably damp in the first instance. As the faces advance, however, the galleries in the rear become drier; a number of them are dry and dusty, but not to a pronounced degree.

Fire-damp.—Explosions of fire-damp occurred in other parts of Dishergarh colliery in 1910, 1915, 1916 and 1918 when 11, 3, 14 and 10 lives, respectively, were lost. In each of these cases the ignition was due to an open light. Since 1918 no open lights have been used underground.

During the four days preceding the recent explosion accumulations of fire-damp had been reported on different days in the main west level, No. 1 east level, No. 2 east level, No. 1 west rise and No. 4 west rise. The quantity of gas ordinarily given off was not, however, large. The presence of gas in the main west level and in No. 1 west rise and No. 4 west rise was reported on 12th October, and again in the main west level and No. 4 west rise on 13th and 14th October. On the 13th October the underground assistant, G. V. Knight, thought fit to make a special report, under Coal Mines Regulation 72, that conditions in No. 1 west rise and No. 4 west rise were dangerous.

III.—Narrative of the accident.

The explosion.—The explosion occurred at about 10-30 p.m. on 14th October. At that time the night shift of workmen, consisting of some 116 persons, had not been very long in the district. Some of them were already at work, but a large number—about 40 persons—were sitting on the main west level within 100 feet of the top of the stone drift known as the "jig," which forms both the main intake airway and the main haulage road. Budhan Singh, shotfirer, and his assistant Akloo Singh, must have been at some point on No. 1 west level near No. 2 rise. Moti Dome, the driver of the coal cutting machine, and his two assistants, Bira Majhi and Sonaman Singh, were changing picks in the coal cutter on the main west level at the bottom of No. 2 rise, and Rasoo Mahato, the driver of the haulage engine, was operating the haulage engine. In their dying depositions Rasoo, Bira and Moti said that they heard a sound of blasting, and immediately after saw fire coming towards them, and that the fire burnt them. Birbal, hookman, who was on No. 1 west level at the top of the haulage dip, was blown over by a strong wind carrying small pieces of stone. He was slightly burnt on the arm, leg and thigh, but he and his companion were able to find their way out. Two drillers and three persons employed in bailing water were on the main west level in the vicinity of No. 5 dip. They "heard a big noise, louder than an ordinary blasting noise." They did not see flame or feel wind, but smoke came towards them and some of their lamps went out. They had no difficulty in finding their way out of the mine via the dip workings. Jugal Mahato, jig brakesman, was near the junction of the main west level with the dip haulage road. His account of what happened may be quoted as follows:—"There was a big noise and a strong wind and I saw fire along the west level. It did not come near me. The wind knocked me down. I got up and went west towards the hauling engine where my son, Rasoo, was at work. I found him on the main level near the hauling engine. He was shouting 'Father I am burnt.' My brother and I carried him out of the mine." Sirdar Ram Prasad Koeri was walking along the main west level and was near the hauling engine when he heard what he first thought to be the noise of blasting. Then came strong hot wind carrying with it small pieces of coal. He was blown over and his hair was singed. Sirdar Ram Naresh Upadhaya was near the top of the jig when he heard a sound like blasting and then felt a strong blast of hot wind laden with coal-dust; he saw no flame. People near him fell over; he himself bent down and hid his face. None of the witnesses heard any sound of blasting that night prior to the sound which accompanied the explosion.

The serious character of this occurrence can be appreciated when it is stated that a very small extension of the flame would probably have increased the number on the death roll by some forty or fifty persons.

Treatment of the injured.—The six severely injured men and the four men slightly injured obtained prompt treatment at the hands of the colliery doctor, but all of the former succumbed within forty-eight hours after the accident to shock and exhaustion resulting from severe burns. None of them had sustained any other injury. The four slightly injured men had completely recovered by the time our enquiry was opened.

IV.—Rescue operations and observations made immediately after the explosion.

Messrs. B. Morrell and G. V. Knight, manager and underground assistant, respectively, heard of the explosion at about 10-30 p.m. Some five minutes later they saw Rasoo Mahato, engine driver, at the top of the pit. He was suffering from severe burns, and the manager sent for the colliery doctor and gave instructions for his treatment at the dispensary, and for the treatment of any other persons who might have been injured. When they descended the shaft at about 11 p.m. they found that practically all the workmen had already left the mine. They went into the workings of the Dishergarh seam via the return airway and met smoke at a point about 50 feet from the bottom of the stone drift. When they got near the air crossing (see Plan No. 2) they heard groaning and on travelling round to the other side of the air crossing they found two machinemen (Moti Dome and Bira Majhi) lying at the corner of No. 2 west dip level. As they went on they found Akloo Singh (shotfiring assistant) on No. 1 west dip level. Mr. Knight then went out of the mine and returning with a rescue gang took these three men to the surface on stretchers. By this time the manager had found Budhan Singh, shotfirer, on No. 1 west level at the top of No. 2 rise. He also was removed to the surface. Mr. F. L. Cork, the agent, entered the Dishergarh workings at about 11-15 p.m. When he reached the haulage dip he noticed a smell of nitrous fumes and obtained the impression that a canister of explosives had exploded. He spent some four hours examining the workings, and neither he nor any other member of the rescue parties felt any ill-effects from poisonous or irrespirable gases. They found smoke in the main west level and No. 1 west level, and they saw smouldering brattice but nothing alight was found. A gang of labourers was employed in putting up brattice stoppings to replace the broken stoppings which had been blown down in the three dip galleries south of the main west level, and in repairing screens which had been damaged on the main haulage dip and the galleries on the west near the haulage engine and elsewhere. At about 4 a.m. Mr. Knight, leaving his safety lamp behind and carrying an electric torch, entered No. 4 rise and went to the face where he noticed that shots had been fired. He did not test for fire-damp.

At about 4 a.m. Mr. N. Barraclough, Inspector of Mines No. 2 Circle, received telephonic intimation that a number of people had been severely burnt by an explosion. He rang up Mr. N. G. Chatterjee, Junior Inspector of Mines, and instructed him to come to the mine and record the statements of the injured persons. Mr. Barraclough reached the mine at about 5 a.m. and accompanied by the agent and manager entered the Dishergarh workings at about 6 a.m. At that time conditions were precisely as they were after the explosion except for the repairs done to the brattices. It is fortunate that so competent an observer was on the spot so soon after the occurrence. The greater part of our knowledge of the conditions after the explosion is due to the intelligent and accurate observations made and recorded by him. We quote from his evidence as follows:—

> "Accompanied by the agent and manager I reached the district at about 6 a.m. and made a tour of inspection of the main west level, No. 1 west level and galleries immediately to the rise or dip of these levels. On the main west level, about 60 feet from the top of the jig, I found picks, baskets and about 35 extinguished safety lamps, which had been left by the miners who had been sitting there at the time of the explosion. Proceeding to the haulage set I found the main spur wheel broken, the haulage rope was slack and appeared to have been crushed between the teeth of the spur and pinion, the driver's seat was overturned and some bricks on which the seat had been supported had fallen on to the platform, an extinguished safety lamp covered with smoke and soot was standing upright on the left of the platform under the main switch, and over the whole haulage gear, switch, controller and resistances, there was a coating of fine soot and coked coal dust. Along the main west level three stoppings had been blown down from rise to dip, there were pieces of burnt bamboo matting and brattice cloth in a few places and there was coked coal dust on the floor, on roof bars and side plugs and in one or two places on the side.

The Mavor and Coulson coal cutting machine was found at the corner of No. 2 rise off the main west level with the pommel in position and trailing cable leading up the rise gallery to the gate-end box the switch of which was in the on position. There were three extinguished safety lamps lying at the side of the machine. A pair of rails had been removed from the tramline on the main west level indicating that the machinemen were about to flit the machine to the face of the level. A brattice along the main west level from the corner of No. 2 rise was demolished. Coked dust was found on the coal cutting machine and for about 40 feet further along the main west level.

From the main west level we went up No. 2 rise to No. 1 west level and found coked dust on the floor.

The brattice which had extended from the top of No. 2 rise to within about 30 feet of the face of No. 1 west level had been demolished, but there was little evidence of burning until we reached a point about 10 feet beyond No. 4 rise gallery where bamboo matting attached to the top of a brattice prop, which was still erect, was seen to have been burnt. There was a small accumulation of gas at the end of No. 1 west level extending to a point 15 feet from the face. From the top of No. 2 rise to the face of No. 1 west level no coked coal dust was observed. A magneto shot exploder was found about 30 feet along the level from No. 2 rise corner on the dip side of the gallery. The shot-firing cable was not attached to the exploder, the end being found some 8 feet further along the gallery. The other end of the shot-firing cable was found 15 feet from the face of No. 4 rise gallery and no detonator wires were attached to this end of the cable.

The brattice in No. 4 rise gallery was also demolished, but no sign of burning was observed. There was an accumulation of gas in No. 4 rise gallery extending to a point 25 feet back from the face. An examination of the face of No. 4 rise with the aid of an electric torch light showed that three shots had been fired in the top canch and about 1½ tons of coal had been blown down. The right hand shot had done its work and blown the coal to the end of the hole. The centre shot hole which appeared to have been 4 feet in depth had "blown out," for 2½ feet on the hole still remained intact. The left hand shot appeared to have done its work, but 15 inches of the hole still remained. Some thin props and pieces of wire which might have been used for fencing purposes were observed near the bottom of the gallery.

Proceeding eastwards along No. 1 west level we found just beyond No. 2 rise a pile of bamboo matting, brattice poles, a basket, tamping clay, 9 cartridges of Stonobel primed with detonators, a number of loose cartridges of Stonobel and a broken shotfirer's wooden tamping rod. Along the level as far as the main dip haulage road the jute braiding of the electric cable was scorched, in a few places there were pieces of burnt bamboo matting and on the floor coked coal dust was found. In No. 1 rise off No. 1 west level there was no actual evidence of flame having traversed any part of the gallery, but there was a sprinkling of coked dust on the floor for a distance of about 40 feet.

At the junction of No. 1 west level with the main dip haulage road a ventilation sheet had been demolished and burnt, the burning hessian cloth having set on fire some small coal at the side of the tramline; two empty tubs under which there was a brattice pole appeared to have been pushed forward and overturned by the force of the explosion and a third empty tub was standing upright across the track of the dip haulage road. Beyond this point neither to the rise dip nor along the level could any further sign of burning or of coked coal dust be found.

Outside the area in which signs of flame or coking were observed a stopping in No. 1 rise off the main west level, the door in the main dip haulage road and ventilation sheets and brattices in a number of places were damaged".

V.—Cause of the explosion.

That there was an accumulation of gas in No. 4 rise has been proved by several witnesses. That the explosion was initiated either in No. 4 rise or in No. 1 west level seems probable from the fact that brattice poles and other articles were projected from the junction of No. 2 dip with No. 1 west level for a distance of some 10 or 15 feet towards the east. The evidence clearly shows that at the time of the explosion a shot or shots were being fired in No. 4 rise. For these reasons we have little doubt that the initial explosion was due to the ignition of gas in the face of No. 4 rise gallery.

The ignition might have been due to an open light, a defective safety lamp, a defective electrical apparatus, the use of a magneto exploder for firing shots or to a "blown-out" shot of explosive.

It was customary to search the workmen at the top of the pit so as to prevent matches being taken underground. Male and female searchers had been appointed for the purpose. No matches or smoking materials were found underground after the explosion, and none were found in the clothing of the men who were burnt. The possibility of gas having been ignited by an open light may, therefore, reasonably be ruled out.

All safety lamps found in the district after the explosion were collected and brought to the surface for examination. Only one lamp No. 203 was found to be defective, in that a triangular piece, about 1" at the base and 1" in height, was missing from the glass. This lamp was found on No. 1 west level about 35 feet to the east of No. 2 rise, and, according to the lamp register, it had been issued to a man named Kanchan Singh. At the time of the explosion this man was sitting near the top of the jig. When questioned by Mr. Barraclough on 18th October he denied that he had handed his lamp over to the shotfirer or to the shotfirer's assistant. After his interrogation he disappeared and his whereabouts could not be ascertained. Lamp No. 176 was found 5 feet east of No. 2 dip on No. 1 west level. It had been issued to a miner, named Ama Bouri, and this man in his evidence deposed as follows:—

"I was sitting at the top of the jig with others. The shotfirer came out and said 'Here miner, my lamp is out, give me your lamp and I will go and fire shots and when I come round I will give the lamp back to you'. The shotfirer Budhan Singh put his lamp on the floor and took my lamp. I did not see the shotfirer's coolie. I think it was about half an hour afterwards that the explosion occurred."

The safety lamp (No. 746) issued to shotfirer Budhan Singh was one of the lamps found near the top of the jig. Lamp No. 367, issued to the shotfirer's assistant Akloo Singh, was not found in the district nor was it returned to the lamp cabin. It is presumed that after the explosion one of the workmen at the top of the jig took it away from the mine. Nine lamps which could not be traced after the explosion were still missing fourteen days later. At the time of our inquiry seven of them were still missing. It appears to be fairly clearly proved that the safety lamps of both Budhan Singh, shotfirer, and Akloo Singh, his assistant, had become extinguished, and that they had exchanged them for lighted lamps issued to Ama Bouri and Kanchan Singh. After an examination of the broken lamp glass in safety lamp No. 203 we are of the opinion that the fracture of the glass was probably due either to heat or a blow, possibly to a combination of those causes. We, therefore, consider it unlikely that the ignition of fire-damp was caused by a defective safety lamp.

A careful examination of the electrical machinery and plant was made by Mr. Llwellyn, colliery engineer, soon after the explosion. He found no sign of arcing or other defect. A critical examination was made at a later date by Mr. H. M. Mitra, Electric Inspector of Mines, who found nothing which would be likely to cause an ignition of fire-damp. We think, therefore, that this possible cause may be ruled out.

We heard a great deal of evidence as to the possibility of the ignition of gas by a magneto exploder. A magneto exploder operated by handle and press button and capable of firing some five or six shots in series was found within 100 feet of the face of No. 4 rise, and the cable which had evidently been attached to it extended to within a short distance of the face of No. 4 rise. Mr. H. M. Mitra told us that experiments in other countries have shown that exploders of this type are capable of igniting gas, and that the danger is not so much of a flash in the exploder itself as in the detonator leads at the place where the shot is being fired. He says that the conditions which might cause an ignition of gas are as follows:—

(1) If the circuit be accidentally broken during the operation of the magneto;

(2) If the two bare ends of the shot firing cable be accidentally short circuited during the operation of the magneto; and

(3) If a defect in the firing cable gives rise to a spark.

Mr. Mitra also told us that—

"If (multiple shot) exploders are used to fire a lesser number of shots in series than their rated cap (i.e., detonator) capacity, the current supplied by the machine to the firing circuit is increased roughly in the inverse ratio of shots fired to its rated cap capacity. The current being larger, the spark that may be obtained at the bare ends of the wires or by accidental breakage of the circuit would be more intense than would be the case had the rated number of shots been fired. The use of multiple shot exploders to fire single shots in gassy mines entails greater risk than would be the case had they been used to fire a large number of shots. This aspect of the use of multiple shot exploders is of great importance."

In Great Britain and in the United States of America the regulations do not permit of the use of multiple shot exploders in mines which are gassy or dry and dusty.

So far as we have knowledge there is no case on record in which an ignition of gas in a coal mine has been traced to the use of a shot firing exploder. Although we think that in this case there is little reason to believe that the ignition was caused by the shot firing exploder yet we consider that the possibility is one which merits careful attention.

Having disposed of the other possible causes of the ignition of gas we now proceed to discuss the last mentioned possible cause, i.e., shot firing.

After the explosion a magneto shot exploder was found on No. 1 west level about 30 feet west of the junction of that level with No. 2 rise. From a point 8 feet further west a shot firing cable extended to within 15 feet of the face of No. 4 rise gallery. In the upper part of the face of No. 4 rise gallery there were the remains of three shot holes (see Plan No. 4). It was obvious that the middle shot had blown out, and that the shot on the left side had partially blown out. The sockets of the holes showed no trace of stemming material. From the evidence available it seems probable that all three shots had been fired at one time.

The explosive used was undoubtedly Stonobel and the charge used in each hole was probably not more than 6 ounces, the maximum permissible charge of Stonobel being 28 ounces. Although the principal test of a "permitted" explosive is to fire the maximum charge in a gun or cannon without any stemming into an explosive mixture of gas and air without causing an ignition, the firing of shots of "permitted" explosives continues to cause ignitions of fire-damp at the working face. In the Annual Report for 1929 of His Majesty's Chief Inspector of Mines in Great Britain it is stated that eight explosions of fire-damp due to the firing of shots of "permitted" explosives occurred during the year. It should be remembered that none of the devices used in mines to prevent fire-damp being ignited has been introduced in order to allow work to be carried on where fire-damp is present. Safety lamps, "permitted" explosives, and flame proof electrical machinery are additional precautions and must be looked upon as no more than such; the main preventative being constant and adequate ventilation to render fire-damp harmless.

In view of the facts that at the time when the shot or shots were fired there was inflammable gas in the face of the gallery, that the lamps issued to the shotfirer and his assistant had been extinguished and they had borrowed other lamps, and that there were no traces of stemming material, we consider it reasonable to presume that the charging of the holes had been done in darkness or by the dim light of a lamp placed some distance back from the face. It is probable, therefore, that the stemming of the "blown-out" shot or shots was ineffectively done, or that no stemming at all was used.

A sample of the Stonebel found at the time of the explosion was analysed, and the result of the analysis showed that the composition of the explosive was reasonably within the prescribed standard. There is, therefore, no reason to think that the ignition was in any way due to deterioration of the explosive used.

Our conclusion on this matter is that inflammable gas in the face of No. 4 rise gallery was ignited by flame or heated particles from a "blown-out" charge of Stonobel.

VI.—The extent and character of the explosion.

It is evident from the statements of eye-witnesses and from the absence of evidences of violence that the explosion was comparatively mild in character. Light articles such as brattices were displaced, weakly constructed stoppings were blown over and at one point tubs were derailed, but nowhere was any considerable damage done.

The extent of the area covered by the explosion has been shown with considerable precision by Mr. Barraclough on Plan No. 2. The furthest point to which the flame extended is 460 feet distant from the face of No. 4 rise gallery. According to Mr. Knight the gas in No. 4 rise on the morning of 14th October extended to a point some 20 feet from the face. As his estimate that the brattice extended to within 15 feet is 6 feet less than the actual distance (21 feet) it may be assumed that the gas extended to a distance of 26 feet from the face. The gas was detected at a point 4 feet above the floor, and, therefore, as can readily be understood by reference to Plan No. 4, must have extended to the lower end of No. 4 rise, where it might have been detected at a point 6 feet from the floor and 3 feet from the roof if a test had been made. It is possible, therefore, that in addition to the gas in No. 4 rise a layer of gas 3 feet thick extended for some considerable distance along No. 1 west level on the return side of the brattice. There may also have been gas in No. 3 rise which had been standing at a dyke for some time and was fenced. For this reason we are inclined to the view that the quantity of fire-damp may have been much greater than the inspections gave reason to suppose. Making due allowance for this we are, however, distinctly of the opinion that the observed effects of the explosion were not produced entirely by the ignition of fire-damp.

Throughout the greater part of the area affected by the explosion coked coal dust had been deposited in numerous places. Details of these occurrences, as recorded by Mr. Barraclough, are given in Part III of this report, and we have satisfied ourselves by personal inspection that they are substantially correct.

The analysis of the coal given shows that the coal is one which contains a small percentage of water and a high percentage of volatile matter, and is, therefore, one which can be readily inflamed. This property was illustrated by the disastrous explosion of coal dust which took place at an adjacent colliery (Parbelia) in 1923, when seventy-four persons lost their lives*. In the present case some of the cakes of coked coal dust were as much as three-eighths of an inch in thickness, and analysis showed that the volatile matter originally present in the coal had been reduced from 33 to 24 per cent.

The results of a dryness and wetness survey of the whole district have been shown by Mr. Barraclough on Plan No. 3, from which it can be seen that the explosion traversed a part of the workings which was dry.

The results of a dust survey of the workings made by Mr. Barraclough are shown on Plan No. 5. Samples of dust were taken at suitable places in the area traversed by the flame and also at a few points on the outskirts of that area. Seventeen samples in all were taken. The results confirm our opinion that round about the junction of No. 1 west level and No. 2 dip the quantity of dry coal dust present was more than sufficient to account for the coked coal dust found throughout the area affected by the explosion. They also show that the limited extent of the explosion was to some extent due to the presence of moisture, but mainly to the circumstance that beyond the area affected by the explosion there was comparatively little dust lying in the galleries, and what dust there was contained a high percentage of non-combustible matter. This latter feature is accounted for by the fact that boiler ashes had been used as ballast for the tramways.

We conclude this part of our report by expressing our opinion that the explosion was augmented by the inflammation of coal dust, and, but for the fortunate circumstances that there was not very much coal dust, that ash packing had been used on the roadways, and that the roadways were wet in places, might have been propagated throughout a much larger part of the workings of the mine. An additional fact which supports this opinion was the existence of a sooty deposit on all exposed surfaces throughout the area affected by the explosion. It has been stated* that this phenomenon appears to be characteristic of a coal dust explosion.

VII.—General remarks, conclusions and recommendations.

Ventilation.—The capacity of the ventilating fan appears to be sufficient for present needs, but its performance prior to the explosion was unsatisfactory. We are pleased to note that it has since been improved.

The quantity of air passing into the workings of the Dishergarh seam may have been sufficient, but there was so much leakage that the current of air at the face was insufficient to dilute and render harmless the fire-damp issuing and to carry it away. In our opinion there should have been either a larger current of air or better distribution. Accumulations of gas had been allowed to remain and had not been speedily dissipated as they should have been.

Previous inspections.—The statutory inspections required under Coal Mines Regulation 70 appear to have been duly made, but in our opinion they were not sufficiently thorough. The fence in No. 4 rise had not been placed far enough back from the face. There was probably much more gas present than the tests made gave reason to believe.

In the case of the shot or shots which ignited fire-damp in No. 4 rise no test for fire-damp was made in accordance with Coal Mines Regulation 115 immediately prior to the firing of the shot or shots. In spite of the evidence to the contrary we consider it unlikely that tests were ordinarily made. In our opinion the Coal Mines Regulations are in this respect defective, in that shotfirers are not required to hold a certificate of competency to test for inflammable gas. The day shift shotfirer (Uma Singh) admitted that he had no knowledge of fire-damp.

The quality of the subordinate staff.—The standard of intelligence of the overmen, sirdars and shotfirers who gave evidence was low and they did not appear to be capable of exercising a proper authority. An overman should have technical knowledge and experience superior to a sirdar, but neither the overmen nor the sirdars knew anything of percentages of fire-damp, and presumably they did not know what an explosive mixture means. Better men would probably not be obtainable on the low pay offered. We are of opinion that the important duties of overmen and sirdars in a gassy mine should be entrusted to men possessing a higher standard of intelligence, education and training.

The manner in which explosives were being issued and used.—The issue of explosives was not under sufficient control and the check on the return of unused explosives was unsatisfactory. Although canisters were provided for carrying the explosives into the mine they were not being used for conveying the explosives into the working places.

The medical and surgical relief provided.—Although it appears that the persons injured were given proper surgical treatment yet proper accommodation for injured persons was lacking. In our opinion a hospital with proper accommodation for indoor patients of both sexes should be provided

The Regulations contravened and the persons responsible for such contraventions.—We are of opinion that the shotfirer Budhan Singh, deceased, contravened the Coal Mines Regulations, in that he passed through a fence (Coal Mines Regulation 148) and fired a shot or shots without sufficient stemming (Coal Mines Regulation 107). We do not think, however, that he was so much to blame as the victim of his own ignorance and the general slackness in supervision.

We consider that the manager contravened the Coal Mines Regulations, in that he did not take immediate steps to improve the ventilation and clear out the gas when he had seen the special report of dangerous conditions made by Mr Knight (Coal Mines Regulation 121), and had not made proper arrangements for the return of unused explosives (Coal Mines Regulation 103).

The additional precautions advisable to prevent an explosion of fire-damp or coal dust.—(a) In a gassy mine in Great Britain the firing of more than one shot at a time in coal is prohibited. When shots are fired singly it is of great importance that a careful test for fire-damp should be made immediately prior to the firing of each successive shot. In India, however, shotfirers are less likely to make the necessary tests than are such men in Great Britain and other more advanced countries. The firing of shots singly, therefore, would introduce a new possibility of danger. It is certain that the prohibition of the firing of more than one shot at a time would be a great hindrance to the production of coal, and might compel the abandonment of the use of coal-cutting machines in the coal mines affected. After careful consideration of this question we do not feel that the evidence of danger is such that the firing of more than one shot at a time should be prohibited.

(b) We consider that in gassy mines shots should be fired only by persons holding certificates of competency to test for and detect inflammable gas.

(c) We consider that by-laws for stone dusting or watering in dry and dusty places in the workings of the Dishergarh seam at this mine should be introduced, and we append a draft of by-laws which seem to us to be suitable for the purpose:—

Draft by-laws for stone dusting.

(1) The floor, roof and sides of the air ways, haulage and travelling roads and working places shall be systematically cleared so as to prevent, as far as practicable, coal dust accumulating, and such coal dust shall be sent out of the mine.

(2) All air ways, haulage and travelling roads and working places or parts of same which contain dry coal dust shall be treated in one of the following ways:—

(a) they shall be treated with fine incombustible dust in such manner, and at such intervals, as will ensure that the dust on the floor, roof and sides throughout shall always consist of a mixture containing not more than 50 per cent. of combustible matter;

(b) they shall be treated with water in such manner and at such intervals, as will ensure that the dust on the floor, roof and sides throughout is always combined with 30 per cent. by weight of water in intimate mixture; or

(c) they shall be treated in such manner as the Chief Inspector of Mines may approve.

(3) The incombustible dust used for the purposes of this rule shall be prepared from shale or other material containing no injurious free silica.

(4) The coal tubs shall be so constructed and maintained as to prevent, as far as practicable, coal dust escaping through the sides, ends or floor of the tubs.

VIII.—Summary of conclusions and recommendations.

(1) Inflammable gas in the face of No. 4 rise gallery was ignited by flame or heated particles from a "blown-out" charge of Stonobel, and although the explosion was primarily and mainly an explosion of fire-damp it was to some extent augmented by the inflammation of coal dust.

(2) The air current at the working faces was insufficient to remove the fire-damp as speedily as it was given off from the coal.

(3) The statutory inspections required under Coal Mines Regulation 70 were not sufficiently thorough.

(4) The subordinate staff employed was of a low standard of intelligence, education and training.

(5) The issue and return of explosives was not under sufficient control.

(6) Proper accommodation for injured persons was lacking and should be provided.

(7) The deceased shotfirer Budhan Singh contravened Coal Mines Regulations 107 and 148, and the manager contravened Coal Mines Regulations 103 and 121.

(8) In gassy mines shots should be fired only by persons holding certificates of competency to test for and detect inflammable gas.

(9) By-laws for stone dusting or watering in dry and dusty places in the workings of the Dishergarh seam should be introduced at this mine.

We invite the attention of the Coal Dust Committee to the circumstances of this explosion, and suggest that it would do well to consider whether there are in India other mines in which it would be advisable to take precautions against the danger of explosions of coal dust.

In conclusion we desire to express our thanks to Messrs. James Mackie and E. P. Bateson, who ably represented the interested parties throughout the inquiry. We also gratefully acknowledge the unfailing courtesy and assistance extended to us by Mr. F. L. Cork, agent of the colliery. We record our appreciation of the services of Mr. N. Barraclough, Inspector of Mines, who not only prepared the plans attached to this report but also gave valuable assistance in the enquiry.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 8-I.—19th January 1931.—The following draft of rules and schedule of rates of tolls, which, in exercise of the powers conferred by sections 6 and 11 of the Canals Act, 1864 (Bengal Act V of 1864), the Governor in Council intends to make and fix for the Rampur Bil Khal joining the Gazipur Khal at Gazipur and Chechri on the north and Amua Done at Amua on the south in the district of Bakarganj, is hereby published for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby.

2. The draft will be taken into consideration on or after the 15th March 1931, and any objections or suggestions received by the undersigned before that date will be considered:—

Draft rules and schedules of rates of tolls.

1. Every vessel on entering the channel and before passing the gate at either end or even when entering the channel from a side khal between the gates shall be liable to measurement for the purpose of ascertaining the tolls payable; in case of any reasonable doubt arising, a vessel may be measured again by any person appointed by the District Board of Bakarganj on this behalf.

2. Vessels for the purpose of the determination of maundage shall be divided into two classes as below:—

Class I.—To include all vessels of the types of country boats, including saltees and hapors (fish cages), house boats, kosh boats, green boats, etc.

Class II.—To include steam boats, motor boats, flats and barges and other square-built vessels.

3. The maundage of every vessel, whether laden or empty, shall, for the purpose of Act V (B. C.) of 1864 and of these rules, be determined by the following measurements:—

CLASS I.

A. The product of one quarter the length of the vessel from stem to stern, measured along the water line, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the depth from the water-line to the interior bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which tolls shall be levied.

B. The measurement of the length is to be made in feet, rejecting inches; the measurement of breadth and depth is to be made in feet and quarters of a foot, rejecting any remainder of less than a quarter of a foot.

C. The maundage on which the amount of toll is calculated shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 12½ maunds, any remainder of less than 12½ maunds being rejected. In the case of vessels exceeding 500 maunds by measurement, the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 50 maunds, rejecting any remainder of less than 50 maunds.

D. Saltees.—The product of one quarter of the inside length of the vessel, measured along the centre line from stem to stern, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the greatest depth measured from the top to the interior bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which tolls shall be levied.

CLASS II.

For vessels of class II the number of maunds obtained by the system of measurement prescribed for vessels of class I shall be increased by one-half. For vessels of this class above 5,000 maunds measurement, the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 500 maunds, rejecting any remainder of less than 500 maunds. In the case of steamers and motor boats the maundage determined as above shall be reduced by one-third as an allowance of engine space.

For vessels of class II which are furnished with reliable way bills, the gross maundage of cargo shown by the way bills or in the case of steamers, the maundage obtained from multiplying the registered tonnage of the steamer by 27, may, at the option of the employer of the vessel or the steamer (as the case may be), be taken as the maundage on which tolls will be charged.

4. After the measurement the person in charge of the vessel shall be provided with a slip showing the maundage to be charged, which must be presented at the toll office where he will be provided with a ticket, after payment of toll, which will permit the vessel to pass the gate or proceed through the channel.

5. Every ticket shall have entered on it the name of the sarang, manjee or other person in charge of the vessel, the date of entry, the maundage, the cargo, the amount of toll charged and the number of days for which the ticket remains current.

6. All tolls are payable on demand and shall be paid at the toll office before a vessel is permitted to proceed.

7. The ticket must be kept on board the vessel and in possession of the person in charge of the vessel and must be produced for inspection when demanded by the person authorised to collect tolls, or by any officer to whom such person is subordinate. If on demand the ticket is not produced, such person or officer shall assess the tollage as provided in rules 3 and 12 and shall require payment of toll, and unless and until the toll is paid, or the original ticket or a duplicate is produced as evidence that toll has already been paid, the vessel shall be liable to seizure and detention under the provisions of section 9 of the Act.

8. Duplicates of lost tickets, of which the numbers and dates can be satisfactorily established, will be granted by the collector of tolls on payment of a fee equal to one quarter of the total tollage, subject to a minimum fee of one anna per ticket.

9. All vessels, whether the property of Government, District Board, other local bodies or of private persons, are liable for toll except those specially exempted under these rules or by a resolution passed by the District Board of Bakarganj from time to time.

10. The canal may be closed once a year for effecting the necessary repairs to it on seven days' notice of the intention so to close it being given; but in the event of any sudden emergency the canal may be closed at any time without prior notice, and no claim in such case by owners of vessels or others for compensation on account of detention shall be entertained.

11. No rafts exceeding 50 feet in length and 5 feet in breadth shall be permitted to enter the canals.

12. The rates of toll shall be as follows:—

(1) On all vessels empty or laden, per hundred maunds—Twelve annas.

(2) On all vessels empty or laden, for 12½ maunds or less—One anna six pies.

(3) On rafts of bamboos, grass, timber, etc., not exceeding 50 feet in length and 5 feet in breadth—Six annas each raft.

Tolls will be levied at Amua.

13. For boats frequently using the canal, such as boats carrying passengers, grass or perishable articles monthly tickets will be issued at 10 times the ordinary toll.

14. Every vessel which has paid toll shall be allowed to remain in the canal for three days inclusive of the days of entry into and leaving the canal. A vessel remaining in any part of the canal longer than three days shall be charged demurrage equal to one-half of the toll for each day in excess of three days. No vessel shall be permitted to remain in the canal for more than one month. Provided that this rule shall not apply to vessels holding monthly tickets under rule 13 above, which may remain in the canal for more than three days without payment of demurrage but not for more than one month at a time.

15. No vessel carrying exclusively police officers or servants, soldiers and officers of the British Army, post mail runners, officers of the Irrigation Department on duty, officers and servants of the toll office for the canal referred to in these rules while on duty, or the vessels of such other persons as may be exempted by a resolution of the District Board of Bakarganj, shall be liable for toll in the canal.

16. Any matter relating to the mode of collection of tolls and other relevant points, not provided for in these rules, shall be decided by the District Board of Bakarganj at a meeting, and shall be subject to the approval of the local Government.

Report on Public Instruction in Bengal for the year 1929-30.

Introductory.

Institutions and pupils.—This report summarises the educational work undertaken in the Presidency of Bengal during the year ending on the 31st March 1930. The total number of recognised and unrecognised institutions rose from 65,493 in 1928-29 to 66,973 in 1929-30, and that of pupils attending them from 2,625,222 to 2,687,836. Recognised institutions increased in number from 63,910 to 65,452; unrecognised institutions on the other hand fell from 1,583 to 1,521. The number of pupils reading in recognised institutions rose from 2,567,357 to 2,633,082, while in unrecognised institutions it decreased from 57,865 to 54,754. Of the total number of pupils reading in all classes of educational institutions on the 31st March 1930, 2,176,886 were males and 510,950 were females as compared with 2,129,098 boys and 496,124 girls, respectively, returned on the corresponding date of the previous year.

2. Different classes of recognised institutions.—Of the total number of recognised institutions returned on 31st March 1930, 67 (including the University classes and the Board of Intermediate and Secondary Education, Dacca) were arts and professional colleges; 1,123 were high schools; 1,909 middle schools; 59,124 primary schools and 3,229 special schools. The corresponding figures for the previous year were 68, 1,086, 1,874, 57,656, and 3,226 respectively. Of the recognised institutions 320 were maintained by Government, and 4,487 by District and Municipal Boards; of the rest 51,188 were aided and 9,457 unaided. The corresponding numbers in 1928-29 were 317, 4,379, 49,686 and 9,528 respectively.

3. Expenditure on public instruction.—The total expenditure on public instruction amounted in the year under review to Rs. 4,43,99,993 as compared with Rs. 4,33,98,109 spent in the preceding year. Of the total expenditure Rs. 1,54,89,869 was met from Provincial Revenues, Rs. 17,77,842 and Rs. 11,72,486, respectively, were provided from District and Municipal funds; while Rs. 1,88,06,773 accrued from fees and Rs. 71,53,023 from other private sources. The corresponding figures in 1928-29 were Rs. 1,53,04,485, Rs. 17,23,334, Rs. 10,02,621, Rs. 1,78,30,680 and Rs. 75,36,989, respectively. Contributions from public sources thus increased by Rs. 4,09,757 and from private sources by Rs. 5,92,127. The increase per capita annual expenditure (Rs. 16·0) is a little below even the average very small expenditure of Rs. 16·5 in the province for each pupil under instruction.

4. Noteworthy features of the year 1929-30.—The following were some of the outstanding features of the period under report:—

(i) Starting of Agricultural Classes in 15 high and middle schools after completion of the necessary training of selected teachers.

(ii) Impetus given to Physical Education as a result of the grants given to many schools for the purchase of physical apparatus and for the acquisition of playgrounds.

(iii) Constitution of an Arbitration Board by the University of Calcutta having jurisdiction over non-Government high schools for dealing with differences arising between teachers and managers.

(iv) Remarkable increase of 40 per cent. in the number of girls reading in High schools. This was partially due to the opening of 9 new High schools for girls, but another factor was undoubtedly the passing of the Sarda Act (vide last year's Report, page 36).

(v) Withdrawal of the Bengal (Rural) Primary Education Bill—as reported on by the second Select Committee—by a motion brought by Government in the Legislative Council in view of the many changes introduced therein by the Select Committee: and publication by Government in March 1930 of a revised Bill. (This was subsequently—on the 26th August 1930—passed into an Act by the Legislative Council.)

(vi) As anticipated would be the case if no additional block grants were given, the rate of increase of pupils in boys' primary schools was more than halved (1·9 per cent. against 4·2 per cent). This shows the urgent need for the increased funds that the new Primary Education Act will ultimately provide.

(vii) Formation of a single Provincial Text-book Committee in place of the former Committees at Calcutta and Dacca.

CHAPTER II.

Controlling agencies.

Education in Bengal is controlled mainly by the Education Department, the two Universities of Calcutta and Dacca; the Board of Intermediate and Secondary Education, Dacca; District and Municipal Boards; and Missionary Societies (both Indian and non-Indian). During the first portion of the year when there was no Minister, the Education portfolio as a whole was held by the Hon'ble Member in charge of European Education acting on behalf of His Excellency the Governor. Later, from 18th December 1929, when Ministers were again appointed, the Education Department, except for European Education (which, in terms of the Government of India Act, is administered by a Member of His Excellency the Governor's Executive Council) was controlled by a Minister, the Hon'ble Mr. Khwaja Nazimuddin, C.I.E.

2. The Education Department is manned by members of (1) the Indian Educational Service, (2) the Bengal Educational Service, (3) the Subordinate Educational Service and (4) officers holding miscellaneous gazetted posts not included in any of the services mentioned above. Proposals for replacing the existing Indian Educational Service by a new Grade I Provincial Educational Service are still under the consideration of Government.

3. Indian Educational Service.—(i) Men's Branch.—The Men's Branch of the Indian Educational Service continued nominally to include 67 posts (apart from that of the Director of Public Instruction). Three of these were in the higher selection grade, 10 in the lower selection grade and one on a special rate of pay, the remaining 53 appointments being in the ordinary time-scale of the service. Of the 67 posts, however, no less than 28 were vacant, while 3 were held in abeyance. Of the remaining 36 posts 17 were held by Europeans and 19 by Indians.

(ii) Women's Branch.—Similarly, in the Women's cadre of the the Indian Educational Service, 3 of the 4 posts were vacant, the exception being the selection grade post held by Mrs. Woodthorpe, the Inspectress of Schools, Eastern Circle. As in the case of the vacant posts of the Men's branch, the work was done by officers who were not members of the Indian Educational Service.

4. Bengal Educational Service.—(i) Men's Branch.—The strength of the cadre of this service was increased from 221 posts (inclusive of 8 temporary posts) to 223 posts (of which 10 were temporary).

(ii) Women's Branch.—This branch included 21 appointments during 1929-30 against 22 in the preceding year.

5. Miscellaneous posts (gazetted).—(i) Special posts.—The total number of these posts remained unchanged at 43.

(ii) Posts outside the classified list.—The number of such posts was 15 on the 31st March 1930, against 14 on the same date of the preceding year, one additional post being created to provide for the appointment of a Lecturer in Civil Engineering at the Bengal Engineering College against the Indian Educational Service vacancy consequent on the retirement of Mr. J. V. Francies. Of the 15 posts, 6 are permanent, 5 are on contract, and the remaining 4 temporary.

6. Subordinate Educational Service.—The services below the Bengal Educational Service include teaching, inspecting, ministerial and miscellaneous posts outside the classified lists, each class having different time-scales of pay. The figures published in this year's report have been compiled on a more systematic basis than in previous reports and in order to compare last year's figures with this year's they have been adjusted so as to bring them into line with the classification now adopted. Again, the total of 1,379, teaching posts mentioned in last year's report included 53 posts (3 in the scale of Rs. 50—110 and 50 in the scale of Rs. 35—90) which had actually ceased to exist in consequence of the abolition of Circle Schools and the replacement of old-type Guru Training Schools by the improved-type Guru Training Schools. The number of actual appointments in each branch as they stood on the 31st March 1930 as compared with the corrected number of appointments on the same date of the previous year, is shown in the sub-joined table:—

	On 31st March 1929.	On 31st March 1930.
Teaching	1,349	1,361
Inspecting	320	318
Ministerial	420	422
Miscellaneous (non-gazetted) ..	83	83

The increase of 12 posts in the teaching branch during the year under report is due to the creation of 7 posts in the scale of Rs. 150—10—400, 3 in the scale of Rs. 75—5—200 and 2 in the scale of Rs. 60—160. The posts of 2 Assistant Sub-Inspectors were abolished on retirement of the officers in accordance with the policy of Government to do away gradually with this grade of appointment: while the increase in the number of ministerial officers was caused by the appointment of 2 additional clerks at the Government School of Art, Calcutta.

7. Direction.—During the year under review Mr. H. E. Stapleton continued to act as Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, during the absence on leave of Mr. E. F. Oaten. He was assisted by Mr. R. Wolfenden, Assistant Director of Public Instruction, Mr. J. M. Bottomley, Assistant Director of Public Instruction for Muhammadan Education, Mr. K. C. Ray, the temporary Additional Assistant Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, and Mr. J. Buchanan, Director of Physical Education.

8. The subjoined table indicates the strength of the departmental inspecting staff as it stood on the 31st March 1930. There was no change in the duties of the various grades of the inspecting officers.

* Includes the post of a second Inspector of Schools which has been kept in abeyance.

† Includes the post of the Special Sub-Inspector of Schools, Calcutta, for the surveillance of ex-pupils of Reformatory Schools.

‡ Excludes four posts not yet filled for want of funds.

9. Extra-departmental agencies.—Among the extra-departmental agencies assisting in the development of education in the Presidency which deserve special mention are the District and Municipal Boards, whose activities are chiefly connected with primary and technical education, and the newly formed Union Boards. District and Subdivisional Officers, many of whom are Presidents of the Managing Committees of Secondary Schools, continued to afford cordial cooperation and ungrudging assistance in educational matters. The Department is also greatly indebted to the various Indian and non-Indian missionary bodies and societies for rendering valuable service in the promotion and advancement of education, especially that of girls and of the backward classes. Finally, Railway authorities help the cause of education by maintaining schools at important centres. These schools are open to children of all classes although they are meant chiefly for the sons and daughters of Railway employés.

CHAPTER III.

University and College Education.

Universities.—The Universities of Calcutta and Dacca continued to work during the year, each on its own lines, the Vice-Chancellor of Calcutta University being the Rev. Professor W. S. Urquhart, M.A., D.LITT., and the Vice-Chancellor of Dacca University, Mr. G. H. Langley, M.A., I.E.S.

(i) Calcutta.—A Committee was appointed by the Senate of Calcutta University to consider the draft Bill of Dr. W. A. Jenkins for the reconstitution and reorganisation of Calcutta University but had not submitted its final report by the close of the year. The consideration of the report, of the University Organisation Committee, mentioned in the last Annual Report, was postponed by the Senate until February 1930. The Senate made some further amendments to the report at meetings held in March and April and the report was submitted to Government shortly after the close of the year under review. The numbers on the rolls of the Arts and Science classes of the Post-graduate Departments of the University of Calcutta were 1,177 (including 26 women) and 306 (including 2 women) respectively on the 31st March 1930 as against 953 and 274 on the same date of the previous year. There were also 121 students in the Commerce classes of the University.

(ii) Dacca.—On the 31st March 1930 there were 826 students (including 17 women and 21 research scholars) in the Arts and Science classes of the University of Dacca as against 771 students on the same date of the previous year. In addition, there were 32 students under instruction in the Commerce classes of the University. The Social Service League of the Halls of Residence carried on successfully 3 night schools and various other kinds of social welfare work. The League has also established a Labour Bank. Several changes were made in the Ordinances and Regulations affecting the studies and conduct of examinations. Among these, the most notable change consists of certain modifications in the course of studies for the M.A. Examination which will take effect from the session 1931-32. This modification also involves the abolition of the preliminary M. A. Examination. The second year M. A. students in Psychology had a successful educational tour in December 1929 in the shape of a visit to the Mental Hospital at Kanke (Ranchi). A fresh scheme of physical training will come into force shortly for students of Dacca University. During the year under review the foundation stone of the Salimullah Muslim Hall was laid by His Excellency the Governor of Bengal.

2. Board of Intermediate and Secondary Education, Dacca.—The Board which was constituted in 1921 has now completed the ninth year of its existence. Dr. Jenkins' draft Bill for the constitution of a Board of Secondary Education in Bengal was placed during the year 1929-30 before the Board for consideration, but the Board opposed the Bill on the ground that the Board's position would be much worse if the conduct of the Matriculation Examination were left to Calcutta University and that the proposal for a single controlling body with its seat in Calcutta would be beset with serious practical difficulties which could only be removed by the creation of another Board at Dacca. The total cost of the Board amounted in the year under review to Rs. 53,348 of which Rs. 23,397 was met from Provincial Revenues. There were, as previously, 4 Intermediate Colleges under the Board (in addition to 3 Islamic Intermediate Colleges at Dacca, Chittagong and Serajganj). Of these four Colleges the Dacca Intermediate College and the Eden Intermediate College for Girls continue to be maintained by Government, while the Jagannath Intermediate College and the Salimullah Intermediate College are aided. In spite of some retrenchments effected in the expenditure of the Jagannath Intermediate College during the preceding year the financial position of the College has not improved.

3. Arts and Science Colleges.—On the 31st March 1930 the number of Arts Colleges for men and women remained unchanged at 44 and 4, respectively. They together enrolled 20,871 students against 20,822 in the previous year. The cost of maintaining Arts Colleges amounted during the year under review to Rs. 37,52,295 as compared with Rs. 36,57,438 in the year preceding, the average annual cost per college and pupil being Rs. 78,172 and Rs. 179, respectively.

4. Number of colleges for men and their enrolment.—Out of the 44 colleges for men, 10 were, as before, maintained by Government the rest being managed by private bodies. The number of students reading in colleges for men increased from 20,469 in 1928-29 to 20,496 in 1929-30, of whom 17,434 were Hindus, and 2,613 were Muhammadans, while 449 belonged to other communities. The corresponding figures for the previous year were 17,463, 2,584, and 422, respectively.

5. Expenditure.—The total expenditure for the upkeep of colleges for men increased during the year under review from Rs. 35,10,693 to Rs. 36,12,210, of which Rs. 13,63,928 was met from Provincial Revenues, Rs. 4,720 from District and Municipal funds, Rs. 19,02,106 from fees and Rs. 3,41,456 from other sources.

6. Grants to private colleges.—On the basis of recommendations made by the Syndicate of Calcutta University a sum of Rs. 1,29,000 was, as in previous years, distributed by Government among private colleges, chiefly for the improvement of libraries, laboratories and gymnasia. Besides, a sum of Rs. 2,64,511 was disbursed by Government direct, in giving recurring and capital grants to non-Government colleges during the year under review.

7. Government colleges.—There were, as before, 10 Government colleges, with 3,479 students on the rolls on the 31st March 1930 as compared with 3,544 on the corresponding date of the previous year. Of these students 2,446 were Hindus, 1,007 were Muhammadans and the rest belonged to other communities. The cost of maintaining these colleges amounted during the year under report to Rs. 14,98,711 (of which Rs. 10,64,512 was provided from Provincial Revenues), so that the average cost per student was Rs. 431, of which Government met Rs. 306. Details of the individual colleges will be found below:—

(i) Presidency College.—On the 31st March 1930, the Presidency College had on its rolls 961 students (including 158 post-graduate students) against 1,011 on the corresponding date of the previous year. Of these students, 824 were Hindus, 133 were Muhammadans and 4 were of other creeds. The upkeep of the college cost Rs. 5,75,861 during the year under review, of which Rs. 3,80,306 came from Provincial Revenues. The average annual cost of educating a student worked out at Rs. 584, of which Rs. 386 was borne by Provincial Revenues. Mr. R. B. Ramsbotham held the post of Principal up to 1st July 1929, after which date, for the rest of the year under review, Mr. J. R. Barrow was in charge of the college. Professor Punchanandas Mukherjee died on the 28th of October 1929 after having done many years' valuable work for the college. In the opinion of the Principal the urgent needs of the college are (1) the provision of servants' quarters, and (2) the erection of a hostel for Muhammadan students. During the year under review the college obtained affiliation to the Intermediate Standard in Geography.

(ii) Dacca Intermediate College.—This college had 338 students on its rolls on the 31st March 1930 as compared with 358 students returned on the same date of the previous year. The fall in the numerical strength of the college is due to the restriction imposed on the admission of second division matriculates. Of the students admitted 230 were Hindus and 108 were Muhammadans. The cost of maintaining the college amounted to Rs. 1,45,980 during the year under review, of which Rs. 1,16,226 was provided from Provincial Revenues. The average annual cost of educating each student amounted in the year under review to Rs. 430, of which Rs. 342 came from Provincial Revenues. The fine Assembly Hall of the college—one of its most valuable assets—was furnished during the year at a cost of Rs. 1,920.

(iii) Hooghly College.—On the 31st March 1930, this college registered 302 students as compared with 293 on the corresponding date of the previous year. Of these students 283 were Hindus and 19 Muhammadans. During the year under review the upkeep of the college cost Rs. 1,20,428, of which Rs. 93,602 was met from Provincial Revenues. The average annual cost of educating a student worked out at Rs. 405, of which Rs. 315 was borne by Provincial Revenues. The electric installation in the Physical Laboratory at a cost of Rs. 2,050 has removed a long-felt want of the college. The College Platoon continued to do useful work but, owing chiefly to the delay in obtaining the Government approval to the selected recruits, the annual camp was thinly attended.

(iv) Sanskrit College.—On the 31st March 1930 there were 100 students (all Hindus) in the English Department of the Sanskrit College as against 123 on the same date of 1929. The Tol or Oriental Department had 87 students. The cost of maintaining the College Department amounted during the year under report to Rs. 70,255, of which Rs. 65,431 was provided from Provincial Revenues. Owing to the fall in numbers the education of each student cost on an average Rs. 675 in 1929-30, of which Rs. 629 was borne by Provincial Revenues against Rs. 553 and Rs. 500, respectively, in the previous year. The rate of tuition fee in the College Department is Rs. 6 a month, but there is provision for the admission of 60 students at the concession rate of Rs. 2 a month if they are the sons of bona fide Pandits. The college students continued to attend lectures in Honours History and Honours Philosophy at the Presidency College without any additional fees. During the year under review, owing to financial stringency, only one issue of the college magazine could be brought out. The magazine is well spoken of by distinguished Sanskrit scholars of various Universities. The College Union functioned satisfactorily. Government dealt with the recommendations made by the Sanskrit College Committee in their Resolution No. 936 Edn., dated the 8th March 1930. Certain proposals of the Committee were accepted, but the carrying them into effect will only be possible, where new expenditure is involved, when the financial condition of the province improves.

(v) Krishnagar College.—On the 31st March 1930 the college had 249 students as against 243 on the corresponding date of the previous year. Of the students under instruction 232 were Hindus, 16 Muhammadans and one an Indian Christian. The maintenance charges of the college amounted last year to Rs. 1,22,204, of which Rs. 97,665 was borne by Provincial Revenues, and the average annual cost of educating a student decreased from Rs. 538 to Rs. 487, of which Rs. 389 was provided from Provincial Revenues. During the year under review four officers, viz., Shams-ul-Ulama Mr. Kamaluddin Ahmed, Mr. Bejoy Gopal Mukherjee, Babu Kiran Chandra Mitra and Mr. A. K. Chanda held successively the post of Principal of the college, the last named being appointed on the 27th March 1930. Mr. Chanda observes in his report that the college loses students for want of affiliation in Honours History and Honours Economics in the B.A. Standard and in Civics for the I.A. Standard. He also considers that the staff in both the Mathematics and History Departments is inadequate. Owing to indiscipline among the students, the college had to be closed in February 1930 for a month by Government order. It was reopened later when conditions had become more normal. Disciplinary action was taken against those students who took an active part in fomenting trouble.

(vi) Chittagong College.—This college reported an enrolment of 455 students on the 31st March 1930 as compared with 478 on the corresponding date of the previous year. Of this number 330 were Hindus, 104 Muhammadans, 18 Buddhists,

2 Anglo-Indians and one Indian Christian. Decrease in numbers is due to the introduction of a higher standard of admission. The cost of maintaining the college amounted in the year under review to Rs. 1,38,815, of which Rs. 99,655 was provided from Provincial Revenues. The cost of educating each pupil rose from Rs. 249, on an average, to Rs. 309, of which Rs. 222 was met from Provincial Revenues. The college building is in need of improvement in several directions. Amended schemes for additional college buildings as well as quarters for the Principal are under the consideration of the department. Mr. P. C. Kundu who acted as Principal of the college at the beginning of the year 1929-30 was succeeded by Mr. R. B. Ramsbotham who took charge of the college on the 9th July 1929. The Buddhist hostel of the college continued to occupy two rented buildings in the town. In the opinion of the Principal, the the staff for Bengali, Arabic and Persian, and Mathematics is inadequate.

(vii) Rajshahi College.—On the 31st March 1930, 759 students were on the rolls of the Rajshahi College as compared with 775 on the corresponding date of 1929. Of these students 598 were Hindus and 161 were Muhammadans. The cost of running the college amounted in the year under report to Rs. 2,14,755, of which Rs. 1,41,619 was met from Provincial Revenues, so that the average annual cost of educating each student came to Rs. 288, of which Rs. 190 was met from Provincial Revenues. In January 1930 the attendance registers of the first, third and fourth year classes were stolen by some miscreants and thrown into the river. As a result, the fourth year students had to appear in the University Examinations for 1930 as non-collegiate students, and many students of the first year and third year classes will not be able to appear as collegiate students in 1931.

(viii) Islamia College.—On the 31st March 1930 there were 345 students (all Muhammadans) on the rolls of the Islamia College as compared with 308 returned on the corresponding date of the previous year. The upkeep of the college cost Rs. 63,843, of which Rs. 31,191 was borne by Provincial Revenues. The average cost of educating each pupil increased from Rs. 169 to Rs. 181, of which Rs. 88 came from Provincial Revenues. Mr. J. W. Holme was in charge of the college up to May 1929 when Mr. A. H. Harley, the permanent Principal, resumed charge on his return from leave. The majority of the Islamia College students who were members of the University Training Corps attended the camp held in the beginning of January 1930 under the command of Lieutenant A. M. Chaudhury, a member of the teaching staff of the college.

8. Aided colleges.—There were again 20 aided private colleges in 1929-30, with 9,416 students on the rolls as compared with 9,826 pupils returned on the corresponding date of the previous year. Of the total number of students 7,908 were Hindus, 1,199 were Muhammadans and the rest belonged to other communities. The total cost of maintaining aided colleges amounted during the year under review to Rs. 13,26,224, of which Rs. 2,84,059 came from Provincial Revenues. The education of each student in an aided college cost on an average Rs. 140 during the year, of which Rs. 30 was met from Provincial Revenues. Dr. Watt, the Principal of the Scottish Churches College, retired from service during the year under review after having rendered distinguished services to the cause of higher education in Bengal, but unfortunately did not long survive his retirement. The women students of the Scottish Churches College increased during the year from 23 to 38. The authorities of the college contemplate the appointment of a woman teacher. The night school run by the School Service Union of this college has continued to do good work. Government contributed Rs. 10,500 towards the cost of the new Sports Pavilion on the college playing field. During the year under report Krishnath College, Berhampur, sustained an irreparable loss through the death of Maharaja Sir Manindra Chandra Nandi of Kasimbazar—the main financial supporter of the college. The college building was thoroughly repaired during the year with the help of the Government grant of Rs. 12,800. During the year under review land was acquired for the extension of the Victoria College, Comilla, and its playing fields. The enlargement of the Moslem Hostel attached to the college is proceeding. The large gymnasium of the Feni College was completed during the year under review. The Wesleyan College, Bankura, was affiliated in Botany for the I.A. and I.Sc. Examinations during the period under review. The Ashutosh College also obtained affiliation in Civics in the I.A. Standard. The pay and prospects of the staff of the Ananda Mohan College could not be improved for want of increased grant-in-aid from the department. The gymnasium of the Hindu Academy, Daulatpur, is reported to be enjoying increased popularity with the students. St. Xavier's College suffered an irreparable loss in the death of Mr. J. S. Hall, a teacher of the College, who captained the Indian team in the last Olympic Games at Amsterdam. Dr. Howells, Principal of the Serampur College, retired during the year after 20 years' devoted service to the cause of education and religion in Bengal.

9. Unaided colleges.—During the year under review the Presidency again had 14 unaided colleges for men, with 7,601 pupils against 7,099 for the previous year. The cost of maintaining the unaided colleges amounted during the year under review to Rs. 7,87,275, the average annual cost of educating a student being Rs. 103 (against Rs. 106). The Pravat Kumar College, Contai, and the Saadat College, Karatia, are working under heavy deficits. These colleges will have difficulty in continuing their existence if no help from outside comes forward to rescue them from their present financial condition. The Imperial Salimullah Intermediate College, Dacca, is also in a precarious state. The Krishna Chandra College, Hetampur, lost a great patron by the death of Maharaj Kumar Mahimaniranjan Chakrabarty during the year 1929-30. Affiliation in B.A. Honours History was obtained by the Vidyasagar College last year. The City College, after the fall to 852 reported last year, increased its roll number to 1,289, including 21 women students.

10. This chapter may fitly be closed by a reference to the munificent donation by Rai Bahadur Bihari Lala Mitra of a lakh of rupees to the Indian Association for the Cultivation of Science.

CHAPTER IV.

Secondary Education.

General statistics.—During the year under report the total number of secondary schools for both boys and girls rose from 2,960 to 3,032. High and middle English schools showed an increase in number—from 1,086 to 1,123 and from 1,798 to 1,842, respectively—while middle vernacular schools again showed a decline (from 76 to 67). There was a corresponding increase in the pupil strength of secondary schools from 448,273 to 468,834 or by 4·6 per cent. The total cost of maintaining secondary schools amounted to Rs. 1,49,42,143 as compared with Rs. 1,43,17,108 in the preceding year, the average maintenance charges per school being Rs. 4,927·8 and the cost per pupil Rs. 31·9.

Secondary Education of Indian Boys.

(The secondary education of Indian girls and of Europeans is dealt with later in Chapters VIII and IX.)

2. Schools and pupils.—The total number of secondary schools for Indian boys rose during the year under review from 2,825 to 2,893. High schools increased from 1,020 to 1,046 and middle English schools from 1,742 to 1,792. Middle vernacular schools on the other hand declined from 63 to 55. The increase of secondary English schools was due to the opening of schools under private management and the conversion of middle vernacular schools to middle English status. Pupils reading in high and middle English schools rose by 12,241 and 6,736, while middle vernacular schools reported a loss of 575 pupils.

3. Expenditure.—The total direct expenditure incurred on secondary schools for Indian boys amounted during the year under review to Rs. 1,25,41,532 as compared with Rs. 1,20,42,214 in the previous year. Of the direct expenditure Rs. 21,66,934 was borne by public funds and Rs. 1,03,74,598 by private sources, the corresponding figures for the previous year being Rs. 21,39,382 and Rs. 99,02,832, respectively. High English schools cost Rs. 96,40,158 and middle English schools Rs. 28,46,369, against Rs. 92,86,489 and Rs. 26,95,239 in the previous year. The cost of maintaining middle vernacular schools decreased from Rs. 60,486 to Rs. 55,005.

4. Manual instruction.—Twenty-eight high and 7 middle English schools in the Presidency had definite arrangements for giving manual instruction to their pupils, but other high and middle English schools are also reported as teaching subjects like dyeing, weaving, carpentry, smithy-work, etc. These courses add variety to the curriculum but do not, except in rare cases, claim, or aim at, vocational value.

5. Agricultural education.—In accordance with the recommendations of the 1925 Bengal Committee's Report on Agricultural teaching in secondary schools of the Punjab and United Provinces, a scheme for the introduction of agricultural classes in non-Government secondary schools was sanctioned by Government in 1927 on an experimental basis for a period of seven years. During each of the last 3 years groups of 15 teachers have been deputed to the Dacca Agricultural Farm for a 2-year course of training. Of these, all the teachers of the first group successfully completed their training in January 1930 and have commenced work in the following schools:—

(1) Durgapur High School, district Chittagong.
(2) Sultanpur Sriram High School, district Birbhum.
(3) Benodepur B. K. High School, district Jessore.
(4) Nalininath Memorial High School, district Jessore.
(5) Amarpur Bimala Agricultural Institution, district Burdwan.
(6) Amtola High School, district Murshidabad.
(7) Chapra Middle English School, district Nadia.
(8) Ushagram Middle English School, district Burdwan.
(9) Bhimgole Middle English School, district Malda.
(10) Shahzadpur High School, district Pabna.
(11) Mahamaya Institution, Singur, district Hooghly.
(12) Habashpur Kasimbazar Raj High School, district Faridpur.
(13) Belda Gangadhar Academy, district Midnapore.
(14) Babupur Middle English School, district Midnapore.
(15) Baptist Mission Middle English School, Barisal.

The schools numbered 1 to 8 possess farms and they were given an equipment grant of Rs. 2,000 each. The schools numbered 9 to 15 have gardens and they each received a garden grant of Rs. 550. The trained teachers receive an allowance of Rs. 10 per mensem.

6. School Final Classes (Science Side).—The Science course classes attached to 7 Government high schools in the Presidency had an enrolment of 93 pupils on the 31st March 1930. Out of 40 candidates who were sent up for the School Final Examination 24 were successful.

7. Grant-in-aid system.—In distributing the grant-in-aid to secondary schools consideration is given to the geographical importance of the place, the size of the school and the backwardness of the locality. Emphasis is particularly laid on the point that the entire expenditure ought to be covered by fees plus Government grant, as little reliance can be placed on subscriptions and donations.

8. Experiments in education.—An experiment was started in the Dacca Division in February 1930 with the immediate purpose of devising standard tests in English, Arithmetic and Bengali, so as to find out the norms of each class in each of these subjects. It may thus be possible to recommend the introduction of a system of general tests to ascertain the merits of students more efficiently than by the essay-type of examination now in vogue. The tests, with their respective norms may also afford means of securing information as to the relative status and efficiency of schools.

The new method of teaching English as devised by Dr. West has been introduced in a fairly large number of high schools in the Dacca and Rajshahi Divisions. The method, though it promises well, is still at its experimental stage and it is too early as yet to pronounce any definite opinion on it.

The supervised study plan which was tried in the Jalpaiguri and Bogra Zilla Schools, continued in operation but was not attended with much success. The Dalton Plan that was being tried in the Malda Zilla School was abandoned, and in the Torkona High School (Burdwan district) it is reported not to be popular. A modified plan hitherto followed in the Bogra Zilla School has met with no better success: but the project method continued to be experimented with in the Santhal High School at Bhimpore in Midnapore district and the Ushagram Middle English School in Burdwan. The causes which retard successful attempts at educational experiments on these lines were enumerated in the last annual report.

9. Provident Fund for teachers in non-pensionable service.—In most high and middle English schools provident fund schemes have been instituted for the benefit of their teachers which school authorities are required to maintain as a condition of recognition. The position of unaided schools is not however quite satisfactory as the contribution of the managers and also the subscription of the teachers are in many cases not found to be regular, while the accumulated funds are reported to be sometimes temporarily diverted to entirely unconnected expenditure.

10. Results of the Matriculation Examination.—Out of 15,155 male candidates who appeared at this examination in March 1930, 9,415 were declared to have passed as against 14,334 and 9,485 respectively in the preceding year. The percentage of passes was therefore 62·1 as compared with 66·7 per cent. in the previous year.

11. Conclusion.—The condition of secondary education continues to be unsatisfactory. By the institution of provident funds and by the adoption of increased rates of fees the condition of teachers has been somewhat improved; but the majority of schools under private management, which depend on fee-income only, maintain a precarious existence. Teachers are underpaid, and consequently are forced to supplement their meagre income by private tuition work and other extraneous activities to the detriment of school work. Moreover many schools suffer from unhealthy rivalry owing to the indiscriminate starting of new schools in the vicinity of old established ones. The following extract from the annual report on the progress of education in the Chittagong Division for 1929-30 is typical of the general situation:—"The managers and teachers alike are anxious to swell the number of their pupils by all imaginable means and hence indiscriminate promotions and admissions are rampant." Little or no change is likely to occur until further Government grants are available for aiding secondary schools, and the recognition of high schools is placed in the hands of an independent Board. Nothing, however, has yet been settled regarding the latter proposal, and the Bill for the establishment of a Board of Secondary Education referred to in last year's report is still under consideration.

CHAPTER V.

Primary Education.

General statistics.—In the year under review the total number of primary schools for boys and girls in the province rose from 57,656 in 1928-29 to 59,124 or by 2·5 per cent. and the pupils reading in them from 1,959,098 to 2,000,255, or by 2·1 per cent. The continued fall in the percentage of increase is undoubtedly due to the inability of Government to distribute further block grants for the promotion of primary education: but this should soon be put right when the Rural Primary Act comes into force. The total cost of maintaining primary schools amounted to Rs. 83,76,809, as compared with Rs. 81,12,862 in the previous year. Each primary school cost on an average Rs. 141·6 annually (against Rs. 140·7) and the cost of educating each pupil was Rs. 4·2 (against Rs. 4·1).

Primary Education of Indian Boys.

(The Primary Education of Indian girls and of Europeans is dealt with in Chapters VIII and IX.)

2. Schools.—Primary schools for Indian boys increased from 41,232 to 42,363 in 1929-30, the increase being shared by all the Divisions as will be evident from the following table:—

Division.	Primary schools for Indian boys (1929-30).					1928-29.

3. Pupils.—On the 31st March 1930, primary schools for Indian boys were attended by 1,590,834 pupils (including 73,006 girls) as compared with 1,561,307 pupils (including 70,450 girls) on the corresponding date of the previous year. Besides this number the primary classes of secondary schools contained 210,434 against 204,071 pupils on the corresponding date of 1929. Pupils reading in primary schools for Indian boys and in the primary departments of secondary schools therefore numbered 1,801,268 as against 1,765,378 in the previous year, or a total increase of 35,890 pupils in the primary stage of instruction.

4. Relative progress of Hindus and Muhammadans.—Primary schools for Indian boys registered 713,447 Hindus and 863,593 Muhammadans on the 31st March 1930 as compared with 704,092 and 842,794, respectively, on the corresponding date of 1929, the percentage of increase being 1·7 and 2·4, respectively. Taking the figures of the last census, 6·7 per cent. of the Hindu male population and 6·5 per cent. of the Muhammadan male population were enrolled in boys' primary schools on the 31st March 1930. A clearer idea of the relative actual progress of Hindus and Muhammadans in primary education may be obtained by studying the figures of the number of pupils reading in classes IV and V of boys' schools. In these classes, on the 31st March 1930, 137,653 were Hindus and 76,245 were Muhammadans as compared with 134,036 Hindus and 69,692 Muhammadans on the corresponding date of the previous year. From this it will be seen that while the Hindus in these classes increased by 2·7 per cent. the Muhammadans increased by 9·4 per cent. The corresponding increases last year were 6·7 per cent. and 10·3 per cent., respectively.

5. Expenditure.—The total cost of maintaining primary schools for Indian boys amounted during the year under review to Rs. 68,95,245 as compared with Rs. 66,42,352 in the preceding year. Of the total maintenance charges Rs. 34,35,203 or 49·8 per cent. was borne by public funds and Rs. 34,60,042 or 50·2 per cent. was provided from private sources. The last-named figure increased by ·1 per cent. over that of the previous year, with a corresponding decrease in the relative contribution from public funds. The expenditure in the latter case was made up to Rs. 21,39,383 from Provincial Revenues (+Rs. 23,607 over that of the previous year) and Rs. 771,585 and Rs. 524,235 from District and Municipal funds (+Rs. 45,202 and + Rs. 52,648), respectively. The expenditure on primary education by the District Boards of Burdwan, Jalpaiguri, Rangpur, Bogra, Malda and Darjeeling is reported to have been less than what it was in the previous year. In the case of the Burdwan District Board, reduced income from collieries is said to be mainly responsible for the smaller expenditure.

6. Panchayati Union schools.—The number of Panchayati Union schools for boys rose from 760 in 1928-29 to 846 in 1929-30. A sum of Rs. 1,33,562 was sanctioned during the year under report for the maintenance of these schools, but no grant could be sanctioned for the construction of fresh buildings for schools of this type. The scheme of providing each Union with a good primary school under the direct management of the District Board has no doubt increased the number of publicly managed schools but the following difficulties (which will have to be overcome by the new School Boards to be established under the new Rural Primary Education Act) are reported to have hitherto handicapped the progress of the schemes:—

(a) A central site cannot always be chosen.

(b) As the schools have been started on the lower primary basis (which has been definitely condemned by the Hartog Committee), they cannot teach the full five years' course of a primary school.

(c) The pay of a Panchayati Union school teacher is often lower than that of a trained teacher of an aided school.

(d) The local public and local bodies do not take any special interest in these schools.

7. Primary schools under Mr. Biss' Scheme.—The progress of the scheme continues to be slow as, under the scheme, local bodies are required to bear half the cost both recurring and capital, and no great enthusiasm has hitherto been shown in providing this share of the money. The following new schemes were however sanctioned during the year under report:—

		Capital.	Recurring.
		Rs.	Rs.	A.
1.	South Dum Dum Municipality	75	1,110	0
2.	Naihati Municipality	300	1,530	0

6.	Establishment of a free primary school at Noapara in the Baikunthapur Union	1,400	373	0
7.	Establishment of a free primary school at Rupsa, Tippera district	..	590	0
8.	Anatheswar Sweepers' Primary School within the Suri Municipality	50	235	0
9.	Nayabasti Free Primary School within the Jalpaiguri Municipality	1,450	277	8

On other hand, 3 schools in urban areas in the districts of Hooghly, Bankura and Jessore and 8 schools in the rural areas of Bankura and Midnapur had to be abandoned owing to the inability of the local bodies to contribute their share of the cost.

8. Primary schools in Calcutta.—On the 31st March 1930 there were 460 primary schools for Indian boys in Calcutta with 35,171 pupils as compared with 451 schools and 33,873 pupils in the preceding year. Of these pupils 21,984 were Hindus and 13,034 were Muhammadans. The number of Hindu pupils increased by 1,440, but there was a regrettable decrease of 149 in the number of Muhammadan pupils. The number of pupils reading in primary schools for boys and in the primary department of secondary schools together numbered 46,994 on the 31st March 1930 against 46,012 on the corresponding date of the previous year. The total cost of maintaining the primary schools of Calcutta amounted during the year to Rs. 5,32,721 as compared with Rs. 4,96,929 in the previous year. Of the total expenditure Rs. 4,24,270 was borne by public funds and Rs. 1,08,451 came from private sources. The Corporation free primary schools which are included in the above figures increased in number from 126 to 134. The Corporation of Calcutta continued to employ seven Inspecting Officers, including the Education Officer and an Inspectress, for supervision of the schools controlled and aided by it.

9. Night and continuation schools.—On the 31st March 1930 the Presidency had 1,590 night schools with 36,137 pupils in them as compared with 1,506 schools, and 34,937 pupils in the previous year. Ordinarily they sit in the evening for about two hours daily and are attended mostly by adults who desire to acquire a knowledge of reading and writing.

The continuation schools, which exist only in the Presidency Division and Calcutta, are of two types—Group I and Group II schools. The former teaches simply the 3R's, while the latter gives general as well as technical instruction. On the 31st March 1930 the number of continuation schools was 203 and they taught 5,849 pupils at a cost of Rs. 15,535 from public funds. The question of adult education has been under consideration for some time and a comprehensive scheme for its improvement was sent up to Government shortly after the close of the year under review. As the method of instruction in adult schools should be fundamentally different from that in children's schools and as the subjects treated should be of a higher standard than those dealt with in ordinary boys' schools it will be necessary to exclude children from them. Moreover the presence of children in the existing schools presents a psychological hindrance to the attendance and educational progress of adult pupils.

It is proposed that the new scheme should be carried out with the assistance of the Central Co-operative and Rural Banks. The chief proposals are noted below:—

(i) introduction of more suitable books and a simpler curriculum for existing night schools;

(ii) acquisition of lands for building new adult schools;

(iii) production of literature adopted to the needs of the rural population;

(iv) general education through propaganda by means of magic lanterns, lectures and social entertainments; and

(v) starting of aided village libraries.

10. Examinations.—During the year under report 11,003 boys appeared in the Primary and Maktab Final Examinations and of these 6,982 were successful. The corresponding figures for the previous year were 9,585 and 4,573, respectively.

11. Double shift system.—The experiment introduced in the three primary schools in the district of Rangpur had to be abandoned on financial grounds, but five primary schools in Bogra continued to work satisfactorily and were placed on a permanent footing by the grant of aid under the Biss scheme.

12. The Bengal (Rural) Primary Education Bill.—The Rural Primary Education Bill of 1927 was withdrawn after considerable discussion in the Council, as the second Select Committee to which it was referred made radical changes that Government were unable to accept. The Bill in nearly the same form as it emerged from the first Select Committee was again published in March 1930, and the Bill was passed into an Act by the Legislative Council on 26th August 1930.

13. School Post Offices.—The number of teachers who worked as Post Masters during the year under review was 503 against 471 in the preceding year. The remuneration for postal work varied from Rs. 5 to Rs. 20 a month.

CHAPTER VI.

The Training of Teachers of Indian Schools.

A.—The Training of Men Teachers.

Training Colleges (general).—The two Government Training Colleges at Calcutta and Dacca, which train teachers for secondary schools, had a total enrolment of 134 students on the 31st March 1930 as compared with 135 under training in the two colleges on the corresponding date of 1929. The majority of the pupils now admitted to the training colleges are teachers of private schools and graduates, intending to enter the teaching profession, who take the B. T. course. The scheme of short-course training at Dacca for teachers with special reference to spoken and idiomatic English has received the administrative approval of Government and the Dacca University held a Vacation course for teachers during the year under review. Of the 19 candidates who took this course 16 passed.

2. David Hare Training College, Calcutta.—On the 31st March 1930 the David Hare Training College had again on its rolls 59 students, all in the B. T. class. The cost of maintaining the institution was Rs. 64,981 as compared with Rs. 63,578 in the previous year. Out of the 59 students, who sat for the B. T. examination, 53 were successful. Just after the close of the year the college bade farewell to Mr. Griffith, who had been Principal of the college off and on since its inception in 1908, and who was entirely responsible for the layout of the excellent buildings now occupied by the college and its practising high school at Ballygunge. The college continued to do very useful work throughout the year, and a revised course of studies has been submitted to Calcutta University. In addition to the usual visits to various institutions of special interest in Calcutta, such as the Museum, the Mint, the Survey of India Office, and the Deaf and Dumb School, subjects outside the prescribed curriculum included lectures on experiments on self-Government in a German school, the comparative study of animal and human anatomy and physiology, and hygiene. A medical examination of the students of the college revealed the fact that only two of the students were in a perfectly normal state of health. The chief defect was bad teeth. Remedial measures were suggested and in most cases adopted.

3. Teachers' Training College, Dacca.—The Teachers' Training College, Dacca, had 72 students in the B. T. and 3 students in the L. T. classes on the 31st March 1930. Of these students 56 belonged to Bengal, 18 came from Assam and one from Hyderabad. The cost of maintaining the college amounted during the year under report to Rs. 98,184 (against Rs. 91,014). The college presented 71 candidates in the B. T. and 3 at the L. T. Examinations, of whom 60 were successful in the former case and 2 in the latter examination. Investigations and experiments on the teaching of English and Bengali were continued in the year under report. Abstracts of articles written by the Principal and some members of the staff for the Indian Science Congress held at Allahabad were published by the Asiatic Society of Bengal.

The remarks of Sir Philip Hartog, a member of the Public Service Commission, and Chairman of the Auxiliary Committee of the Simon Commission deserve quotation to give some idea of the activities of the college. He writes: "Dr. Michael West has followed up his investigations on the best method of teaching English to Indian children with remarkable results. Dr. West brings a fresh mind to all the problems that he tackles and his staff on the Training College collaborate not only by loyal support but by valuable contributions of their own. I regard the Dacca Teachers' Training College as one of the most live institutions in India. It is a great asset to Bengal and deserves every possible encouragement from Government."

4. State scholarships.—The two State scholarships created by Government for the professional training of graduate teachers employed in secondary schools in the Presidency were again awarded during the year under report to one Moslem and one non-Moslem teacher to enable them to undergo a two-year course of training in Great Britain.

5. Normal schools.—On the 31st March 1930, the Presidency had 5 normal, or first-grade training schools, with a total of 431 pupils in them as against 6 and 463 respectively on the corresponding date of the previous year. Owing to financial reasons, the aided Training School at Krishnagar under the management of the Church Missionary Society was abolished with effect from the 1st January 1930. The cost of maintaining these schools amounted during the year to Rs. 1,26,275 (as against Rs. 1,32,934 in the preceding year), out of which Rs. 1,24,555 was borne by Provincial Revenues. Out of 171 students who sat for the Final Examination, 136 passed. A scheme for the reorganisation of normal and other training schools and for the unification of the rules and curricula has been prepared by Mr. Griffith, and is now under consideration by the department.

6. Guru and muallim training schools.—During the year 1929-30 there were 88 guru and muallim training schools in the province with an enrolment of 2,006 pupils against 87 schools attended by 2,001 pupils in the previous year. The increase in the number of schools was due to the recognition by the department of the Mission Training School for Gurus at Birisiri in the district of Mymensingh. Of the total number of schools 81 were managed by Government, one by the Corporation of Calcutta and 6 by Missionary Societies. The total cost of these schools was Rs. 3,66,204, of which Rs. 3,37,114 was borne by Provincial Revenues, as compared with Rs. 3,22,244 and Rs. 2,98,301 respectively in the previous year. Out of 1,675 students who sat for the Final Examination 1,397 passed.

B.—Training of Women Teachers.

7. Training colleges for women.—The scheme for the establishment under departmental control of a Women's Training College at Calcutta is still under discussion. Pending orders on this proposal, women teachers of secondary schools continue to be trained at the training departments attached to the Diocesan College and to the Loreto House, which had 16 and 15 students respectively on the 31st March 1930, as compared with 13 and 9 students in the previous year. The expenditure incurred for the upkeep of the Diocesan College Training Department amounted during the year under report to Rs. 8,148, of which the whole was met from public funds. The expenditure of the Loreto House Training Department is included in that for the general department of that college. The Diocesan Training class passed 13 out of 16 students at the last B. T. Examination. The Loreto Training class presented 6 candidates in the B. T. and 9 in the L. T. Examinations, of whom 4 and 8 students respectively came out successful. The authorities of the Diocesan College are very anxious to give up their Training Department and the Principal has informed Government that, it will be impossible to continue the department much longer. It is therefore essential that Government should establish a women's training college as soon as possible as it would be deplorable if the province were left without adequate training facilities for women teachers.

8. Training schools for women.—The number of training schools and classes for training women teachers employed in primary and the lower classes of secondary schools in Bengal remained unchanged at 10, viz., 3 directly managed by Government and 7 under the management of Christian and Brahmo Missions. These schools had altogether 220 pupils on their rolls on the 31st March 1930 as compared with 199 on the corresponding date of 1929. The total cost of maintenance amounted in the year under report to Rs. 95,689, of which Rs. 78,456 was borne by Provincial Revenues, the corresponding figures for the previous year being Rs. 91,276 and Rs. 75,948, respectively. The Hindu and Moslem Women Training Schools, Calcutta, are still located in rented buildings and the Dacca Training School also is reported to be badly accommodated. The training class attached to the High School at Kalimpong had 13 students on the 31st March last. The rules for the Bengal Vernacular Teachership Examination for women issued in July 1928 were again revised and the new rules will come into operation in January 1931. The results of the Training School Examinations for 1929-30 were as follows:—

Examinations.	Candidates.
	Presented.	Passed.
Senior Vernacular Teachership	35	29
Junior Vernacular Teachership	43	30

The decrease in the number of candidates for the Junior Vernacular Examination (from 107 in 1928-29) is due to extension of the Junior Vernacular Course from one to two years.

CHAPTER VII.

Professional and Technical Education.

Law colleges and classes.—As in the previous year, facilities for the study of law were afforded by the University Law College, Calcutta, the Law Departments of the Ripon College, and the University of Dacca. The number of students in the three institutions again decreased (from 3,035 to 2,908 including 4 women). Of these students 2,196 were Hindus, 682 were Muhammadans and 30 were drawn from other communities. The total expenditure of the University Law College, Calcutta, and the Law Department of the Ripon College amounted during the year to Rs. 2,70,225 against Rs. 2,80,510 in the previous year. The cost of maintaining Law Classes attached to Dacca University, which has not been shown separately in the University returns, is included in the General tables under the head "Universities." Of the 1,914 candidates who appeared at the Final B. L. Examination from these three institutions, 1,027 were successful. The percentage of passes was therefore 53·6, as compared with 41·5 per cent. in the previous year.

2. Medical colleges and schools.—Three institutions in Bengal give advanced medical education, viz., the Calcutta Medical College, the Carmichael Medical College, Belgachia, and the School of Tropical Medicine and Hygiene. These institutions had 1,333 students (including 14 women) on the rolls on the 31st March 1930 against 1,399 students (with 14 women) returned on the corresponding date of 1929. Of the total number of students under instruction, 1,141 were Hindus, 124 Muhammadans, 53 Christians and 15 of other creeds. The total cost of maintaining the three institutions amounted during the year under report to Rs. 9,84,536 as compared with Rs. 9,07,227 spent for the purpose in the previous year. Out of 601 candidates who appeared in the Final Examination 259 were declared to have passed as compared with 759 and 270 respectively in 1928-29, the percentage of passes being 43·0 (against 35·5 per cent.).

On the 31st March 1930 there were 13 medical schools in Bengal with 2,869 pupils (including 20 women) on their rolls, against 10 schools attended by 2,429 pupils (with the same number of women) in 1928-29. The cost of these medical schools was Rs. 5,43,013 against Rs. 4,47,932 in the preceding year, of which Rs. 2,24,848 (against Rs. 2,48,645) was borne by Provincial Revenues. The medical schools presented 731 candidates at the Final Examination (against 557) and of these 412 (in place of 313) were successful, giving a percentage of 57·3 as compared with 56·2 per cent. in the previous year. The scheme for starting a medical school at Chinsura has been dropped for the present owing to the financial stringency.

3. Veterinary College, Belgachia.—The Veterinary College, Belgachia, had 163 students on the rolls on the 31st March 1930 as compared 168 pupils on the corresponding date of the preceding year. Of these students, 116 were Hindus, 34 were Muhammadans and 13 came from other communities. The cost of maintaining the college amounted during the year under report to Rs. 2,16,160 against Rs. 2,13,026 in 1928-29, which was met entirely from Provincial Revenues. Out of 163 students who sat for the Annual Examination in 1929-30, 117 came out successful.

4. Bengal Engineering College.—On the 31st March 1930, the Bengal Engineering College, Sibpur, had 298 pupils (viz., 158 in the Civil Engineering Classes, 82 in the Mechanical and Electrical Engineering Classes and 58 in the Industrial Classes) against 277 on the corresponding date of the previous year. Of these students, 261 were Hindus, 27 Muhammadans, 9 Europeans and Anglo-Indians, and one an Indian Christian. Owing to the retirement of senior officers and absence of others on leave in England the cost of maintaining the college decreased during the year under report to Rs. 3,11,694 (of which Rs. 2,62,021 was met from Provincial Revenues), the corresponding figures for the previous year being Rs. 3,73,888 and Rs. 3,31,408, respectively. The cost per pupil correspondingly fell from Rs. 1,349 in 1928-29 to Rs. 1,074, of which Rs. 903 was met by Government. The value of the work turned out by the college workshops decreased considerably (from Rs. 16,500 to Rs. 5,603). The results of the college in the various examinations held during 1929-30 are noted below:—

Examinations.	Candidates.	Passes.
B. E.	32	29
I. E.	64	37
Associateship in Mechanical Engineering ..	5	5
Diploma in Mechanical and Electrical Engineering	25	18

Altogether 89 students passed out as compared with 77 in 1928-29.

During the year under report the Bengal Engineering College lost through retirement the services of Mr. J. V. Francies, I.E.S., Assistant Professor of Drawing, and Babu Kamada Charan Chakravarti, Demonstrator in Chemistry. It is also to be regretted that Mr. T. H. Richardson, who retired from the Principalship of the College in the previous year, died during the year under report. Babu Jatindra Nath Rudra, B.E., stood first among the successful candidates at the Competitive Examination held at Purulia and has been posted for practical training to the Eastern Bengal. Railway with a view to his appointment to the Indian Service of Railway Engineers. Arrangements were again made for expert engineers, employed elsewhere, to act as Visiting Lecturers. They dealt with details of Construction, Railway Engineering, Irrigation, Sanitary Engineering and Water-supply. The question of the affiliation of the Mechanical Engineering Department of this college to the University of Calcutta for a Degree course in Mechanical Engineering is now under consideration. Arrangements are also being made whereby Physics and Chemistry may be completed by Civil Engineering students before they begin their third year course, as the time spent by them in these subjects in the third year is out of proportion to their serviceableness in the future career of the students.

5. Ahsanullah School of Engineering.—The Ahsanullah School of Engineering, Dacca, also reported a very satisfactory increase in roll number, there being 470 students (168 in the Upper Subordinate, 233 in the Lower Subordinate and 69 in the Artizan Classes) on its rolls on the 31st March 1930, against 417 in the previous year. Of these students 399 were Hindus, 67 were Muhammadans, 3 were Indian Christians and one was a Buddhist. The school cost Rs. 1,32,031 of which Rs. 1,03,038 was met from Provincial Revenues, the corresponding figures for the previous year being Rs. 1,38,517 and Rs. 1,13,047, respectively. Owing to the increase in the number of students, the cost per head decreased from Rs. 332 in 1928-29 to Rs. 276, of which Rs. 215 was met by Government. According to the new scheme of practical training mentioned in the last Annual Report the first twelve students domiciled in Bengal who pass the Overseer Examination have to undergo 17 months practical training in the Public Works, Irrigation, or Public Health Department, and thereafter appear at a practical examination to be held in November, usually at Dacca. These 12 students will receive during the period of their practical training stipends of Rs. 30 a month each of which Rs. 15 will be provided by the Education Department and the remainder by the Public Works, Irrigation or Public Health Department under which they will receive their practical training. This necessitated a revision of the Government order of 1926 sanctioning the award of 40 practical training stipends of Rs. 10 a month, each tenable for one year, and in February 1930 sanction was accorded by Government to the award of 28 practical training stipends of Rs. 10 per month each tenable for one year, in addition to the 12 practical training stipends of Rs. 30 a month, each tenable for 17 months. Sanction of Government was also given during the year under report to the introduction of increased rates of fees in the Ahsanullah School of Engineering with effect from July 1930. The school passed 58 out of 93 candidates sent up for the Overseer Examination, and 82 out of 133 for the Sub-Overseer Examination, the total number of passes being 140 against 103 in the previous year. Nine artizan students also completed their training during the year. The Pleaders' Survey Training Class was again held for six weeks under canvas at Gandaria; 11 out of 24 candidates who were registered for the Survey Examination came out successful. The practical survey training of Overseer and Sub-Overseer students was carried on for 7 weeks both locally and in the mufassal, the mufassal camp being held under canvas at Charmuguria near Madaripur in the Faridpur district. The value of the work turned out by the school workshop amounted to Rs. 6,286. The new hostel for 204 students could only be occupied from the beginning of the session 1930-31.

6. Bengal Survey School.—On the 31st March 1930 there were again 90 students (including 3 kanungoes) on the rolls of the Bengal Survey School, Mainamati. Of these 75 were Hindus, 14 were Muhammadans and 1 was a Buddhist. The total cost of maintaining the school amounted to Rs. 20,152 of which Rs. 14,358 was borne by Provincial Revenues, the corresponding figures for the previous year being Rs. 19,748 and Rs. 14,802, respectively. Thirty-six candidates were sent up for the Final Survey Examination of whom 27 were successful. In the Amin Examination 43 students passed out of 49 sent up. During the year under report the second year students were in camp for about three and a half months and carried out some traverse work offered by the Collectors of Dacca and Tippera.

7. Art schools.—On the 31st March 1930 the total number of art schools in Bengal was 5, with 574 pupils on their rolls, the corresponding figures for the previous year being 5 and 647, respectively. Of these the most important is the Government School of Art, Calcutta, which had 285 students on the 31st March 1930 against 373 returned in the preceding year. The maximum number of students to be admitted to the school has now been limited by Government order to 300 owing to want of accommodation and for the better management of classes. Of the total enrolment 271 were Hindus, 8 were Muhammadans and the rest were of other communities. The cost of maintaining the school amounted during the year under report to Rs. 55,828 against Rs. 59,161, of which Rs. 37,802 was borne by Provincial Revenues, the cost per pupil being thus Rs. 195 and Rs. 132, respectively. An exhibition of drawing, paintings and engravings by students and teachers of the school was held in December 1929 and opened by the Hon'ble Lady Jackson. A set of revised rules for the management of the school was drawn up for the consideration of Government during the year under review. The Commercial Art Section of the school still continues on a temporary basis.

8. Commercial schools.—The Government Commercial Institute is the chief among the 30 commercial schools which exist in Bengal. It had 355 students on the rolls on the 31st March 1930 against 278 on the same date of the preceding year. Of these students 346 were Hindus, 6 Muhammadans and 3 of other creeds. The upkeep of the institution cost during the year under report Rs. 63,628 of which Rs. 41,150 was met from Provincial Revenues, the corresponding figures for the previous year being Rs. 66,255 and Rs. 46,798, respectively. The cost per pupil thus decreased from Rs. 238 to Rs. 179, of which Rs. 116 was borne by Government. Thirty-six candidates appeared at the Final Commercial Course Examination and 30 passed. In the Special Commercial Course Examination 128 students passed out of 279 candidates (including private students and those of affiliated schools) who presented themselves. Rai Sahib Girindra Kumar Sen, M.A., who had ably managed the institution for about 18 years retired on the 29th May 1929, and Mr. M. K. Ghosh, M.A., B.COM. (Lond.), was appointed to the vacancy of Principal. The institute also lost, through retirement, the services of Babu Peary Mohan Banerjee, B.A., B.L., Lecturer in Commercial Bengali, after 19 years' meritorious service. The scheme for the reorganisation of the Government Commercial Institute Board has now received administrative sanction of Government but funds have not yet been provided. During the year under report sanction was accorded to the permanent affiliation of two schools in Calcutta to the Government Commercial Institute and temporary affiliation was also granted to 3 other institutions in the province.

9. Weaving schools.—There are 52 (against 55) weaving schools in Bengal under the control of the Director of Industries, Bengal, and the most important one is the Government Weaving Institute, Serampore, maintained by Government which returned 74 pupils (including 23 women) on the 31st March 1930 against 86 (including 32 women) on the corresponding date of the previous year. Of these students 49 were Hindus, 10 Muhammadans and 15 Indian Christians. The cost of maintaining the school amounted during the year under report to Rs. 44,210, towards which Provincial Revenues contributed Rs. 43,073; the corresponding figures for the previous year being Rs. 53,406 and Rs. 52,834, respectively. The cost per pupil was Rs. 597 as compared with Rs. 621 in the previous year. Nine students appeared from the institute at the Final Diploma Examination and of these 8 passed. Twenty-six Artizan students also completed their training last session, while 8 passed out of the Industrial Training class for females. The higher class for female students was abolished by Government as no students were forthcoming. In the City and Guilds Examinations held in April and May 1929, 19 candidates were successful. The permanent school building is likely to be ready for occupation shortly. The construction of a new workshop was also taken in hand during the year under report.

10. Music schools.—The number of music schools continued to be 9, of which 4 were aided and the number of pupils was reported to be 311. The Conference held at Writers' Buildings in connection with the question of introduction of the teaching of music in secondary schools and of the establishment of training classes for teachers in music made certain definite recommendations which were submitted for the consideration of Government in April 1930.

11. Agricultural education.—Chapter IV of this report describes in detail the steps taken by the department for the introduction of agricultural education in secondary schools. The three agricultural schools proper at Chinsura (Hooghly), Hatchapra (Nadia) and Manipur (Dacca), reported an enrolment of 109 pupils against 129 in the previous year. The Hooghly District Board has introduced a scheme for elementary agricultural education in primary schools and maktabs for boys, based on school gardening, and the subject has been made compulsory in the primary schools under the direct management of the Board.

12. Other Technical Centres.—Most of the technical and industrial schools are controlled by the Director of Industries, Bengal. Among these schools the following may be specially mentioned:—

(i) The Calcutta Technical School reported a total enrolment of 175 pupils on the 31st March 1930 as compared with 141 in the previous year. The upkeep of the school cost during the year under report Rs. 79,801, of which Rs. 60,555 came from Provincial Revenues. Owing to the increase in numbers, the cost per pupil fell from Rs. 574 to Rs. 456, of which Rs. 346 was met by Government. The most interesting development during the year under review has been the establishment, as an experimental measure, of the course in "Plumbing and Sanitary Fitting." Considerable progress has also been made in the direction of instituting a sound system of apprenticeship in the Printing Industry. Twenty students of the school appeared at the Board's Technical School Annual Examination, of whom 70 per cent. passed.

(ii) The Kanchrapara Technical School had 56 pupils on the 31st March 1930 against 48 on the corresponding date of the previous year. In the Board of Control's Annual Examination held in December 1929, 62 apprentices appeared, of whom 49 came out successful. The Board of Control having decided to hold the summer Admission Examination in May, the beginning of the school session has been altered from March to July. It was further decided to increase the maximum number of apprentices from 66 to 72, excluding those who return from the Bengal Engineering College for further training during the long vacation.

(iii) The Bengal Nagpur Railway Apprentices Night School at Kharagpur had 35 pupils on the 31st March 1930 against 40 in the previous year. In the Board of Control's Annual Examination held in December 1929, 18 students passed from this school out of 28 candidates sent up for the examination.

13. The B. Com. Degree was conferred by the Universities of Calcutta and Dacca on 67 and 9 students, respectively, during the year under report. Eleven students who had taken Commerce as a special subject passed from the Jagannath College with I. A. certificates while the number of students who passed the I. Sc. Examination (with Dyeing as a special subject) from the same college was 14. The Commerce Department of the Krishnath College, Berhampore, was abolished during the year under review owing to lack of pupils.

CHAPTER VIII.

Education of Indian Girls and Women.

Institutions and pupils.—The number of schools of all grades and types for Indian girls rose from 16,798 to 17,129 during the year under review, while the number of pupils attending them increased from 423,005 to 435,463. Girls under instruction in girls' schools (after excluding 5,713 boys reading in them) together with those reading in boys' schools totalled 505,770 on the 31st March 1930. Of this number 223,999 were Hindus, 271,990 were Muhammadans, and the rest belonged to other creeds. The percentage increase in the case of Hindu girls was 2·3 as compared with 3·5 per cent. for the Muhammadans.

2. Controlling agency.—The departmental inspecting staff for girls' schools in the Presidency consisted, as before, of 2 Inspectresses and 12 Assistant Inspectresses of Schools, divided equally between East and West Bengal.

3. Collegiate education.—During the year under report there were again 4 arts colleges for women in the province, including the Intermediate Department of the Eden High School, Dacca, and they had 375 pupils on the rolls as compared with 351 in 1928-29. Two of the arts colleges—viz., the Bethune College, Calcutta, and the Eden Intermediate College, Dacca—are directly managed by Government, while the Diocesan College and the Loreto House, Calcutta, are under private management, the former being aided.

The Bethune College had 182 students on its rolls on the 31st March 1930 as compared with 170 on the same date of the previous year. The total cost of its maintenance was Rs. 86,569, of which Rs. 74,134 was met from Provincial Revenues; and the average cost per pupil again decreased from Rs. 540 in 1928-29 to Rs. 475, of which Rs. 407 was met by Government. Out of the 25 students who appeared at the B. A. Examination from this college 21 were successful. In the Intermediate Examination 20 out of 22 students passed in Arts and 10 out of 11 in Science. Miss Webber did excellent work in organising Physical Training both in the College and attached Collegiate School. The Music classes, carried on under the auspices of the Sangit Sangha, also continued to be very popular. The college lost by retirement on 2nd February 1930, Mr. Narendra Nath Chakravarti, M.A., Senior Professor of English, who had served for 26 years in the Department.

The Eden Intermediate College, Dacca, had 61 students on the 31st March 1930 as compared with 49 students on the corresponding date of the previous year. The total upkeep of the College Department came to Rs. 21,093 (of which Rs. 17,942 came from Provincial Revenues) so that the cost per girl was Rs. 345. Out of 28 girls who appeared at the I. A. Examination held in the year under review 17 were successful. The college is in very great need of a building of its own, and proposals are under discussion to move both College and attached High School from their present rented quarters to a site offered by the University of Dacca at Ramna.

The numbers of students in the Diocesan College and Loreto House on the 31st March 1930 were 82 and 50 respectively, the corresponding figures for the previous year being 78 and 56 respectively. The cost of maintaining these two colleges amounted during the year under review to Rs. 21,573 and Rs. 10,850 respectively, so that the cost per pupil was Rs. 251 and Rs. 217. The Diocesan College passed all the 13 candidates sent up for the B. A. and 20 out of 22 girls in the I. A. Examinations. Loreto House presented 10 and 14 girls in the B. A. and I. A. Examinations, of whom 10 and 13 respectively passed. A good many lectures continued to be delivered at the Diocesan College on interesting subjects outside the curriculum such as Education of women in Bengal, Food, Modern English poetry and prose, etc.

Altogether 44 girls graduated from these colleges in 1929-30 against 39 in the previous year, while 80 obtained an Intermediate Certificate as compared with 81 in 1928-29.

4. Secondary education.—(i) High schools.—A remarkable increase in the number of high schools for Indian girls from 24 to 33 occurred during the year under review, owing to the conversion of 3 middle English schools in Calcutta, the Binapani Purdah School, the Beltola

School, and the Sakhawat Memorial School into high schools, and the starting of high schools for girls at Burdwan, Howrah, Midnapore, Berhampur, Dacca and Mymensingh. Of the 33 high schools for girls, 5 were managed by Government, 25 were aided, and 3 unaided. The total number of girls reading in high schools increased from 6,766 in 1928-29 to 9,492 in 1929-30. At the Matriculation Examination of 1930, 345 candidates (against 283) appeared from girls' high schools in the province, of whom 223 (against 211) passed. The percentage of passes thus fell from 74·5 to 64·6, which indicates that greater care should be taken in sending up girls for this examination and that better teaching is desirable in the higher classes.

(ii) Middle schools.—On the 31st March 1930 there were 48 middle English schools for Indian girls with 6,977 girls in them, as compared with 52 schools having 7,437 girls on the 31st March 1929. The decrease in the number of middle English schools for girls is due to the conversion of previously existing middle English schools into high schools, but the increased demand for secondary education is shown by a rise of 2,266 (or nearly 16 per cent.) in the total number of girls reading in both high and middle English schools. As the demand for higher education of girls is in evidence only in the bigger towns, the principle of establishing middle English schools in district and subdivisional headquarters where there are none at present is being consistently followed. Middle vernacular schools declined from 13 to 12, owing to the raising of the middle vernacular school at Kurigram in the district of Jalpaiguri to the middle English status. They had 1,354 girls on the 31st March 1930 against 1,401 on the corresponding date of the preceding year.

5. Primary schools.—During the year under review the number of primary schools for Indian girls rose from 16,406 to 16,743, and the number of girls reading in them from 462,627 to 476,573. Some indication of the actual progress of primary education that is likely to result in permanent literacy among girls is shown by the fact that the number of girls reading in Classes V and IV increased from 11,700 in 1928-29 to 13,181 in 1929-30. The number of panchayati union schools increased from 163 to 164 during the year under review, while the number of free primary schools for girls under the Calcutta Corporation rose from 73 to 80. The latter had an enrolment of 10,340 pupils, of whom 10,010 were girls, the corresponding figures for girls in the previous year being 8,770. Private agencies such as the Nari Sikha Samiti of Calcutta and the Society for the Improvement of Backward Classes continue to do good work in the spread of female education in the province. At Bhadrakali in the district of Hooghly a gentleman maintains a boarding school for girls and widows in which Sanskrit, English, spinning, weaving, and the making of sweetmeats are taught, in addition to the primary syllabus.

6. Special schools.—In 1929-30 there were 46 technical, industrial and other special schools for Indian girls as against 44 in the preceding year. They registered 2,439 girls on the 31st March 1930 as compared with 2,362 girls on the same date of the previous year. Many of these schools have been organised by Missionary Societies. They teach lace-making, tailoring and various kinds of needle-work, besides imparting general education.

7. Zenana education.—On the 31st March 1930 there were 55 governesses who taught 1,371 pupils. As in previous years, education was given to Zenana women both at central gatherings and by house-to-house visits. Neither of these methods are spoken well of by the Inspectresses of Schools and a scheme is under the consideration of the department for utilising the amount spent on the existing system of Zenana education more effectively.

8. Needle-work.—The standard of needle-work in girls' schools continued to improve under the guidance of trained mistresses. During the year under review 402 candidates from the Eastern Bengal districts entered for the Lady Carmichael Diploma Examination, of whom 358 were awarded diplomas.

9. Expansion of female education.—Mrs. Woodthorpe, Inspectress of Schools, Dacca Circle, was deputed during the first half of the year to make a survey of the present condition of the female education in the province and to collect materials for the preparation of a detailed scheme for its further development. Her report is now under the consideration of the department.

CHAPTER IX.

Education of Europeans and Anglo-Indians.

Schools.—The number of institutions for the education of Europeans and Anglo-Indians was again 68. Of these, 64 were schools for general education and 4 for special instruction, as in the preceding year. Twenty-four of the former schools were secondary, 18 higher grade, 20 primary and 2 ungraded. Government directly controlled 3 institutions, viz., the Victoria Boys' School, the Dow Hill Girls' School and the Dow Hill Training College, Kurseong, while the other institutions are under the management of Railway authorities and various Christian denominations.

2. Pupils.—The following table shows the distribution of pupils at the different stages of instruction in European schools:—

	Number of institutions.	Number of boys.	Number of girls.	Total.
Secondary	22	2,709	2,192	4,901
Higher grade	20	2,381	2 400	4,781
Primary	20	689	458	1,147
Ungraded	2	208	..	208
Special	4	51	74	125
Total ..	68	6,128	5,124	11,252
1929-30.
Secondary	24	3,105	2,665	5,770
Higher grade	18	2,249	1,982	4,231
Primary	20	671	468	1,139
Ungraded	2	196	..	196
Special	4	46	65	111
Total ..	68	6,267	5,180	11,447

The number of boys reading in European schools thus increased by 139 and that of girls by 56, as compared with 163 and 2 respectively in the previous year. It should be noted that the figures in the table include 2,173 non-European pupils attending European schools on the 31st March 1930 against 1,944 on the corresponding date of 1929. Of this total 1,302 were Armenians, Jews and Parsis.

3. Expenditure.—The total expenditure incurred on the education of European and Anglo-Indian children in Bengal amounted, during the year under review, to Rs. 40,50,171 (including boarding charges of Rs. 13,63,799) as compared with Rs. 39,68,243 in the preceding year. The amount was derived from the following sources:—

	Rs.
(1) Provincial revenues	9,64,556
(2) Municipal grants	36,514
(3) Fees	17,32,350
(4) Subscriptions, endowments, etc.	13,16,751
Total ..	40,50,171

From these figures it will be seen that expenditure from public funds again decreased (from 25·9 to 24·7 per cent.), so that out of every Rs. 4 spent in 1929-30 on European education, the State had to contribute less than Re. 1.

4. Scholarships.—A sum of Rs. 30,579 was expended on scholarships during the year 1929-30 as compared with Rs. 29,885 in the previous year. This figure excludes the amount of scholarships paid by other Provinces in Bengal.

5. Teachers.—In all 768 teachers were employed in European schools in Bengal on the 31st March 1930 as compared with 760 on the corresponding date of the previous year. Of this number, 115 were graduates, 432 (including 75 graduates) were trained and 336 (including 40 graduates) were untrained.

6. Training of teachers.—The Government of Bengal deputed during the year under review 3 European male teachers to the Chelmsford Training College at Ghora Gali in the Punjab, for training as elementary school teachers, as facilities for training European male teachers do not exist in this Presidency. In addition to these, 21 women teachers (the same number as in the previous year) were under training at the Dow Hill Training College on the 31st March 1930. At the Annual Examination held in November 1929, 13 senior, or second year students sat for the Final Examination. All of them passed, and all the 8 junior students of the first year class were also promoted.

7. Vocational training.—Under the new (1929) Code of Regulations for European Schools in Bengal, vocational training is included as an intrinsic feature of the higher grade school. Eighteen schools have taken up the courses prescribed in Appendix IV of the Code; 7 higher grade schools prepare their boys along the lines of the industrial courses; one school is working the course in Agricultural Science; 5 girls' schools have Commercial Courses and 11 schools include Domestic Science as part of the ordinary curriculum in certain classes. According to the returns on the 31st March 1930 the total number of pupils in the upper school classes of higher grade schools is 488, but the number of pupils actually going through a Domestic Science course cannot readily be shown as the secondary and higher grade schools are making courses in domestic science an ordinary part of the curriculum in various classes. Loreto House, St. Helen's Convent, Dow Hill School and Queen's Hill School have, in addition to the ordinary Domestic Science classes, a special Technical Department where selected pupils are trained in specific branches of domestic science. Domestic Science subjects were examined by the City and Guilds Examination Committee, London, in November 1929 at Kurseong in the case of candidates from Dow Hill School, St. Helen's Convent and Queen's Hill School. The entries and number of passes of that examination were as follows:—

	Entries.	Passes.
Plain needle-work	17	14
Plain cookery	4	3

It is satisfactory to note that a tendency is apparent for the adoption of such public examinations by other schools. St. Thomas' School for Girls has arranged for needle-work and dress-making to be annually examined by the London Institute, and this is not the only school in Calcutta that is taking the City and Guilds Examinations.

Special arrangements are made for the training of girl probationers in Sick Nursing in the school hospital at Loreto Convent, Entally, and at the St. Andrew's Colonial Homes, Kalimpong. Selected girls in the last-named school also received training as Children's Nurses. The proposed Salesmanship Class could not however be held in Calcutta owing to dearth of candidates.

8. Examinations.—The following table shows the comparative results of the various examinations for which pupils entered in 1928-29 and 1929-30:—

	Number sent up.		Number passed.
	Boys.	Girls.	Boys.	Girls.
Higher Grade Schools.
1. Final Examination	35	31	26	23
2. Matriculation	11	1	10	1
Secondary Schools.
1. Cambridge Junior Certificate ..	90	91	69	69
2. Cambridge School Certificate ..	74	74	55	40
3. Matriculation	39	..	33	..
1929-30.
Higher Grade Schools.
1. Final Examination	45	32	30	19
2. Matriculation	28	1	23	..
Secondary Schools.
1. Cambridge Junior Certificate ..	68	82	47	56
2. Cambridge School Certificate ..	89	64	61	46
3. Matriculation	20	..	19	..

There was therefore a decrease of 35 in the number of pupils who passed the Junior Certificate but an increase of 12 passes in the School Certificate. Matriculation passes decreased slightly (from 44 to 42), while the number of pupils who secured the Higher Grade School Certificate remained unchanged at 49. These figures bear far too small a proportion to the number of European children at school and indicate that greater efforts should be made by the school authorities to retain the older children at school so as to increase the number reading in Standards VIII and IX.

During the year under review 66 passed out of 161 appearing at the Apprenticeship Examination, conducted by the Board of Control for Apprenticeship Training, as compared with 35 out of 139 in the previous year. The number of Europeans and Anglo-Indians among the successful candidates was 25 against 22 in 1928-29.

9. Collegiate section.—An increasing tendency is evident among European and Anglo-Indian students to take advantage of University education through the facilities which the Intermediate classes attached to European Schools offer. St. Joseph's College, Calcutta, passed 11 out of 12 students who sat for the last I. Sc. Examination while all the 10 students presented for the I. A. Examination passed. La Martinière sent up 7 students for the I. A. Examination and all of them came out successful. Four students of St. James' College, Calcutta (out of 6 who appeared), also passed the last I. Sc. Examination. Altogether 32 European or Anglo-Indian students obtained an Intermediate Certificate against 17 in 1928-29.

10. Education of Sub-normal Children.—The Children's House, Kurseong, continued to look after physically and mentally defective European children. It had 20 (against 19) pupils on the rolls on the 31st March 1930 and received Rs. 1,800 as aid from Provincial Revenues. A scheme for the reorganisation of the institution was submitted to Government, but it was decided that the requirements of the institution should be considered and reported upon by the Board of Visitors of the Children's House. The report in question had not been received by the close of the year.

11. Sussex Trust.—The comparative expenditure from the income derived from the Sussex Trust Fund during the years 1928-29 and 1929-30 and the objects to which it was devoted are shown in the following table:—

	1928-29.			1929-30.
	Rs.	A.	P.	Rs.	A.	P.
(i) Scholarships	12,619	14	0	14,646	9	0
(ii) Maintenance charges of three schools for Backward Indian Communities ..	2,106	5	3	4,820	15	9
(iii) Miscellaneous charges	900	0	0	890	5	0
Total ..	15,626	3	3	20,357	13	9

Altogether 22 European and Anglo-Indian students were awarded scholarships from the Trust during 1929-30.

12. Doveton Trust Fund.—The total receipts during the year 1929-30 (including the closing balance of the previous year and also the interest accruing on the securities up to the half year ending the 31st October 1929), was Rs. 12,158-2-6 and the total amount of expenditure during the same period was Rs. 6,786-4 leaving a closing balance of Rs. 5,371-14-6. Ten scholarships at rates varying from Rs. 25 to Rs. 40 a month were renewed and ten scholarships at rates varying from Rs. 10 to Rs. 35 were awarded.

13. Milner Memorial Scholarships.—Regulations for the conduct of this scholarship examinations are now under the consideration of the department.

14. Controlling agency.—Mr. W. F. Papworth was in charge of the duties of the Inspector of European Schools, Bengal, throughout the whole of the year under review.

15. Religious training of students.—A Church of England Chaplain was appointed at the Victoria and Dow Hill Schools, Kurseong, for the purpose of imparting religious instruction to the children belonging to the Church of England. Government pay a subsidy of Rs. 150 per month to the Additional Clergy Society, Calcutta, towards the services of this Chaplain.

16. The new Code.—The introduction of the new Code of Regulations for European Schools, Bengal (1929), has led to a great deal of consolidation in the different groups of schools which work under the Code. Under the old Code of Regulations various subjects or courses were taken in which were described as "Special classes"; while, as already noted, these, under the new Code, are regarded as an intrinsic part of the curriculum of the institution. The terms "Free boarding grant" and "Salary grant" are replaced by the terms "Fixed grant" and "Teaching staff grant" in the new Code, and the power to sanction the last-named grant has been delegated to the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal.

CHAPTER X.

Education of Muhammadans.

Statistics of Muhammadan pupils in relation, particularly, to those of the Hindu community.—The number of Moslem pupils attending all types of educational institution for Indians rose, during the year under review, from 1,304,376 to 1,344,945. Moslems therefore constituted 50·2 per cent. of the total number of students under instruction against 49·9 per cent. in the previous year. Of the total number of Muhammadans under instruction 1,072,955 were males and 271,990 were females as compared with 1,041,572 males and 262,804 females in the preceding year, the corresponding figures for Hindus in the year under report being 1,076,272 and 223,999 respectively. In arts and professional colleges the proportion of Muhammadans to the total number of students under instruction on the 31st March 1930 was 13·8 and 16·8 per cent. against 12·8 and 15·3 per cent. respectively on the corresponding date of the previous year. The fall in the number of Muhammadans at colleges that was noted in last year's report has now ceased and the numbers rose from 3,789 in 1928-29 to 3,890, or by 101. In the high and middle stages of instruction the proportion of Moslem pupils was 16·6 and 22·2 per cent. respectively of the pupils of all creeds as compared with 15·6 and 20·4 per cent. in the preceding year. The number of Muhammadans in the high stage (20,118) showed an even greater increase than in the previous years, and the same remark applies to the increase in the case of Muhammadans in the middle classes of 3,688, viz., from 22,608 to 26,296. The above figures indicate that while in collegiate and secondary education some progress is evident, Muhammadans have still considerable leeway to make up. In the primary stage however the proportion was 52·5 against 52·2 while in other special schools it was 73·0 per cent. as compared with 72·6 in the year before. Taking classes V and IV only, we find—as already noted in paragraph 4 of Chapter V—that the percentage increase in the number of Mussalmans was much greater than that of the Hindus. The actual increase in the number of Muhammadans in these classes was 7,292 as compared with 4,313 Hindus. A proposal is under discussion to appoint a committee to enquire—among other matters—into the causes that stand in the way of Moslems taking fuller advantage of the existing facilities for secondary (other than Madrasah) education and to formulate proposals that may lead to an increase in the number of Muhammadan pupils in collegiate and secondary institutions of the ordinary types.

2. Special institutions for Muhammadans.—The Muslim Hall of Dacca University and the Islamia College, Calcutta, continued to afford special facilities for higher education to Muhammadan boys. The work of the Islamia College has already been dealt with in Chapter III of this Report. Other special institutions which are intended chiefly for Moslems are referred to below:—

(i) Islamic Intermediate Colleges.—The number of these was 3, as in the previous year, 2 being maintained by Government and one being aided. The three colleges had 143 pupils on the rolls on the 31st March 1930 as against 129 on the corresponding date in the previous year. Altogether 66 candidates appeared at the Islamic Intermediate Examination of 1930, of whom 37 came out successful and thus qualified to pass on to the Islamic Department of Dacca University. The results of the Serajganj College improved, 6 passing out of 9 sent up, as compared with 4 out of 13 in the previous year.

(ii) Madrasahs.—On the 31st March 1930, there were altogether 763 Madrasahs in the Presidency with an enrolment of 74,052 pupils. The corresponding figures for the previous year were 719 and 71,323 respectively. Out of these institutions, 627 were of the Reformed Madrasah type, the remaining 136 being old-type, as compared with 582 and 137 in 1928-29. The total cost for the maintenance of madrasahs amounted in the year under report to Rs. 14,61,233 towards which public funds contributed Rs. 4,92,606, the corresponding figures for 1928-29 being Rs. 13,50,702 and Rs. 4,65,804 respectively.

(a) Reformed-type madrasahs.—The number of high madrasahs in the province recognised by the Board of Intermediate and Secondary Education, Dacca, during the year under review was 21, as against 18 in 1928-29. Out of 403 candidates who appeared in the Islamic Matriculation Examination in 1930, 216 or 54·1 per cent. were successful as compared with 147 and 51·2 per cent. in the preceding year. The Rajshahi Madrasah, which was previously a junior madrasah under the management of Government was raised to the status of a senior madrasah towards the close of the year under review.

Junior madrasahs correspond to middle English schools but teach a much heavier language course. There were 606 of these institutions as compared with 564 in 1928-29. In the Junior Madrasah Final Examination which is conducted by the Assistant Director for Muhammadan Education, 2,255 candidates appeared, of whom 1,544, or 68·4 per cent., passed. This indicates a satisfactory improvement both in numbers and the percentage of passes, as the figures for the previous year were 1,835, 944 and 51·4 per cent. respectively.

(b) Old-type madrasahs.—Of the 136 old-type madrasahs, Calcutta Madrasah is the largest and the most important in the province. In the higher classes it caters for the students of advanced Islamic courses. In the Central Madrasah Examinations of 1930, 1,014 candidates appeared, while 476 (against 424) students passed giving a percentage of 46·9 as compared with 50·7 per cent. in 1928-29. Greater care is evidently needed in sending up students for the examination. The Alim and Fazil Examinations of the Central Madrasah Examination Board and the Title Examination in "Fiqh" and "Usul" were held for the first time during the year under review. In the lower (Alim) examination 84 passed out of 146 sent up; in the higher (Fazil) examination 80 out of 109, and in the Title Examination 22 out of 36.

(iii) Maktabs.—The number of maktabs, or primary schools for Moslems, rose from 24,186 in 1928-29 to 24,391 in 1929-30. Of the total number of maktabs 15,450 were for boys and 8,941 for girls. Pupils attending these institutions numbered 769,411 during the year under review (against 760,258 in the preceding year), the total being made up of 553,146 boys and 216,265 girls. The number of boys therefore increased by 8,108 and that of the girls by 1,045. The total direct expenditure incurred for the upkeep of maktabs amounted in 1929-30 to Rs. 22,74,024, as compared with Rs. 22,35,479 in preceding year, towards which public funds contributed Rs. 10,64,294 (against Rs. 10,15,316).

(iv) Qurān schools.—In these institutions the recitation of the Qurān is taught, as well as the rituals of Islam through the medium of Urdu. These schools, which are the lowest stage in the formation of secularised maktabs, numbered 622 in 1929-30, as compared with 591 in the previous year.

(v) Muallim training schools.—These provide facilities for the training of maktab teachers, or teachers of Moslem primary schools. The number of such schools remained unchanged at 6 during the year under report, and they had 164 teachers under training against 166 in 1928-29.

3. Education of Muhammadan girls.—On the 31st March 1930 the number of Moslem girls enrolled in recognised institutions was 267,924 as compared with 257,830 in the preceding year. Of these, 2 were in arts and professional colleges, 58 in the high stage, 131 in the middle stage and 267,373 in the primary stage, while 360 read in special schools. The corresponding figures for the previous year were 5, 38, 82, 257, 429 and 276 respectively. Some progress was therefore evident except in collegiate education, but the fact that only 3,591 girls or 1·3 per cent. (as compared with 2,852 and 1·1 per cent. in 1928-29) are reading in classes V and IV of the primary stage shows that a really sound foundation for general education among Moslem girls has still to be laid. The corresponding figures for Hindu girls were 8,778, 4·0 per cent. and 8,082, 3·9 per cent., respectively.

4. Special facilities for Muhammadans.—Special facilities, such as the reservation of seats in Government and aided schools and the grant of special scholarships and Mohsin stipends, as well as of free studentships to 15 per cent. of their own enrolment, etc., which existed in the previous years for Moslem students continued also during the year under review, but these are hardly adequate for the educational advancement of the Moslem community. The Committee alluded to in the first paragraph of this Chapter will probably deal with the adequacy of these facilities as one aspect of their enquiry.

CHAPTER XI.

Education of Special classes.

Bengal has no institution which is specially intended for the education of the sons and wards of Indian chiefs and nobles. In the Nawab Bahadur's Institution at Murshidabad, however, arrangements have been made for imparting instruction to the boys of the Nizamat family, one of the four hostels attached to the schools being exclusively reserved for the boys of that family. The number of Nizamat boys residing in the hostel during the year remained unchanged at 26, and the cost to Government for the upkeep of the hostel was Rs. 6,176.

2. Education of the children of backward classes.—The Sonthals, among aboriginal races, and the Mahishyas, Namasudras and Pods among educationally backward communities appear on the whole to be making good progress in education. One Inspector, indeed, in speaking of the Namasudras and Pods, observes that it is doubtful whether they can still be called educationally backward communities. A statement of the total number of boys and girls belonging to backward communities that were under instruction on the 31st March 1930 in all types of institutions in the Presidency is given below:—

	Boys.	Girls.	Total.
In arts colleges	807	..	807
In professional colleges	763	..	763
In secondary and primary schools ..	345,310	55,137	400,447

The corresponding figures for the previous years were 351,990, 53,653 and 405,643, respectively. There was a regrettable fall of 179 students in colleges, but a further increase of 13,713 in recognised schools. The following paragraphs will indicate what progress was made by the members of these communities during the year in each Division of the Presidency separately.

Calcutta.—During the year under review there were again 12 primary schools for the education of backward classes—7 for boys and 5 for girls—conducted by Missionary Societies. Their total enrolment was 542 pupils (against 566) on 31st March 1930. Almost all of these schools received subsidies from Government and the Corporation of Calcutta. The primary schools managed by the Hindu Relief Society increased during the year from 14 to 16 with an enrolment of 573 pupils, including 37 girls. The cost of the schools managed by the Society was Rs. 8,390 of which the Corporation of Calcutta paid Rs. 2,115. In addition to the industrial school for boys, the Society started during the year 1929-30 an industrial school for girls. The number of pupils in these two schools on the 31st March 1930 was 85—48 boys and 37 girls. Out of the total expenditure of Rs. 4,620 incurred for the maintenance of the schools, Rs. 700 come from Corporation funds.

The total number of pupils of backward communities in various grades of recognised and unrecognised institutions in the city on the 31st March 1930 was 9,789 against 8,409 in the previous year.

Presidency Division (outside Calcutta).—On the 31st March 1930 the total number of pupils of backward classes receiving instruction in various grades of institutions in the Division was 99,013, of whom 86,305 were boys and 12,708 girls. This showed a total increase of 7,428. There are altogether 5 high, 31 middle and 152 primary schools in the Division chiefly intended for the education of backward classes. Three of the primary schools were maintained as before from the income of the Sussex Trust Fund. During the year nine special middle and fourteen special primary final scholarships were awarded to children of the educationally backward classes.

Burdwan Division.—The total number of pupils under instruction on the 31st March 1930 belonging to the educationally backward classes rose from 124,184 to 130,020 in this Division, of whom 117,097 were boys and 12,923 girls. The Mahishyas of Midnapore and the Sonthals of Midnapore, Bankura and Birbhum formed the bulk of the pupils: and the American Baptist Mission of Midnapore and the Wesleyan Mission of Bankura continued to be the chief factors in the advancement of these classes. Of the 244 schools exclusively intended for the education of Sonthals, one was high, 2 were middle vernacular, 236 primary, 2 guru training and 3 industrial. The total cost of Sonthal education in the districts of Midnapore, Bankura and Birbhum was Rs. 54,551 during the year under review, to which Government contributed Rs. 33,390. In addition to 4 Bhumij schools in Bankura (with 127 pupils) and 7 primary schools in Howrah (with 446 pupils) for Mehtars, Dosadhs and Domes, etc., one sweeper's school was returned during the year from the district of Birbhum with 39 pupils. The post of Assistant Sub-Inspector of Schools for Sonthal education at Bankura was abolished during the year under review on the death of the former occupant.

Dacca Division.—The number of pupils of backward communities enrolled on the 31st March 1930 was 93,343 (against 95,253 in 1928-29) of whom 76,475 were boys and 16,868 were girls. The figures indicate a fall of 1,910 pupils which is partly attributed to economic distress in the Faridpur district. Of the total number of pupils of educationally backward classes 1,426 (including 278 girls) came from aboriginal races, while the majority of the pupils belonged to the Namasudra community. During the year under report there were 8 primary schools for Muchis, 15 for fishermen, 63 for aboriginal tribes, 2 for Maghs, 3 for Mehtars and 1,063 meant exclusively for Namasudras. There were also 9 high and 27 middle English schools attended almost entirely by Namasudra and Kapali boys.

Chittagong Division.—Of the non-aboriginal backward races that were under instruction on the 31st March 1930 in all classes of schools in the Division, 22,634 were boys and 5,180 girls. The number of boys showed a small increase of 478, while for the case of girls, the numbers decreased by 493. There were one high, 3 middle English, 1 middle vernacular, 155 primary and one training schools in the Chittagong Hill Tracts for the education of the children of the Hill tribes. The Lalmai Hills of Tippera district had 2 aided primary schools with 31 Tipra boys and 5 girls. In the Cox's Bazar subdivision there were one middle English and 7 primary schools with an enrolment of 393 Magh pupils and also 27 Kyang schools with 617 children. During the year under review 9 middle, 15 final primary and 21 preliminary primary scholarships were awarded to the pupils of backward communities.

Rajshahi Division.—Of the total number of 55,833 pupils, comprising 50,334 boys and 5,499 girls of backward classes under instruction in various grades of institution in the Division on the 31st March 1930, 53,397 were educationally backward Hindus and 2,436 were Sonthals and other aboriginal races. There was thus a total increase of 3,401 pupils (2,927 boys and 474 girls). Besides the 3 middle English schools —2 in Dinajpur and one in Bogra district (with 341 pupils)—chiefly intended for the education of Sonthals and aborigines, there were 120 Sonthal primary schools with 2,887 pupils in the districts of Dinajpur, Malda, Rangpur and Jalpaiguri. Of these 10, 31 and 10 schools were, as in the previous year, under the direct control of the Boards of Sonthal Education in Dinajpur, Malda and Rangpur, respectively. There were also two middle English schools (with 224 pupils including 18 girls)—one of which was under the control of the Roman Catholic Mission at Dinajpur. The proposal for an extended scheme for the education of aboriginal children in Rangpur is still under the consideration of Government. Meanwhile, the original scheme has been renewed.

3. Education of Criminal classes.—The Salvation Army continues to maintain their school at Nilphamari for the education of the children of the Kerwal Nuts, a criminal tribe, where instruction in farming, gardening, and weaving is given as well as some training in the 3 R's. There were 35 boys and 29 girls in the school on the 31st March 1930. The Reformatory and Industrial Schools, Alipore, had 235 students on the 31st March 1930 against 180 on the same date of the previous year, the total cost to Government for the upkeep of the school was Rs. 39,898 against Rs. 35,714. The sanction of Government to the reorganisation of the school is still awaited. During the year under review the Inspectress of Schools, Presidency and Burdwan Divisions, was appointed an Assistant Inspectress of Reformatory and Industrial Schools for Girls. The Borstal Institution at Bankura which is under the direct management of the Jail Department had 288 students on the rolls on the 31st March 1930 (against 164) and the cost to Government for the upkeep of the institution was Rs. 50,479.

4. Education of defectives.—On the 31st March 1930, there were 20 physically or mentally sub-normal children in the Children's House, Kurseong. The Blind School at Behala had an enrolment of 80 pupils and cost Government Rs. 7,620 out of the total expenditure of Rs. 39,729 for its maintenance. The Deaf and Dumb School, Calcutta, had 166 pupils (against 135) including 32 girls. There were 17 pupils, including 3 girls, in the Chittagong Deaf and Dumb School. The number of schools for defective children in the Dacca Division was reduced from 4 to 3 owing to the abolition of the school at Faridpur. These 3 schools altogether enrolled 48 pupils, including 6 girls. The total number of defective pupils under instruction in special schools was 331 (as compared with 301 in the previous year).

5. Education of factory and colliery children.—In the district of Burdwan the number of colliery schools was 8 during the year 1929-30 with 286 pupils. The total cost of these schools was Rs. 1,397, towards which Government contributed Rs. 1,172. In the district of Hooghly there were 27 primary schools with 1,425 pupils, mainly attended by the children of mill-workers. Besides the 3 primary schools at Titagarh, Ichapur and Kankinara in the 24-Parganas which are exclusively intended for the children of mill-hands and had 439 boys on the rolls, there were also 7 schools largely attended by mill-hand children. The latter had 539 boys on the rolls on the 31st March 1930, and the total cost of these 10 schools was Rs. 17,545 as compared with Rs. 13,277 in the previous year. The Titagarh school has a Telugu class intended for the children of Madrasi labourers.

6. Tea-garden schools.—During the year under report there were again 160 tea-garden schools (with 2,582 pupils) in existence in the districts of Jalpaiguri and Darjeeling. The maintenance charges of these schools totalled Rs. 25,076, of which Rs. 9,821 was met from Provincial Revenues. More attention in these schools is evidently necessary as the number of pupils fell by 10 per cent. in spite of increased expenditure from both sources.

7. Education of Jains.—On the 31st March 1930 altogether 817 Jain pupils were reported to be under instruction in various grades of institutions in the Presidency as compared with 836 pupils on the same date of the previous year.

8. The Society for the Improvement of Backward Classes and the Narisiksha Samiti have done very useful work in the Presidency during the year under review in subsidising schools specially set apart for backward communities. The question of increased provision of scholarships, stipends, free-studentships, etc., for the backward classes is still under the consideration of the department.

CHAPTER XII.

Unrecognised Institutions.

On the 31st March 1930 there were 1,521 unrecognised schools, attended by 54,754 pupils, as compared with 1,583 and 57,865, respectively, for the previous year. From this it would appear that some tendency is evident for unrecognised schools gradually to enter the ranks of recognised schools. Of the pupils 24,108 were Hindus and 29,051 were Muhammadans, the rest being of other communities. These schools do not adopt any of the courses of studies prescribed by the University of Calcutta, the Board of Secondary Education, Dacca, or the department; and are generally inferior to recognised institutions in management and discipline.

Important exceptions to this statement are the institutions at Goila (Bakarganj), Bolpur and Surul (Birbhum), Mymensingh and Barisal, mentioned in previous reports. They all continued to do very useful work.

CHAPTER XIII.

Physical and Moral Training.

Hostels.—On the 31st March 1930 there were 34,092 boarders residing in hostels and boarding houses attached to the various grades of schools and colleges in the Presidency, against 33,316 on the corresponding date of the previous year. Of the total number of boarders, 28,862 lived in hostels for Indians and 5,230 in boarding houses meant for Europeans and Anglo-Indians. Of the boarders resident in Indian hostels, 25,753 were males and 3,109 were females. Of the European and Anglo-Indian boarders, 3,106 were boys and 2,124 were girls.

Administrative approval of Government was accorded during the year under review to the construction of quarters for three Superintendents of hostels attached to the Rangamati High English School, quarters for the Superintendent of the Hemanta Kumari Hostel attached to Rajshahi College and also for the establishment of a new hostel for the accommodation of 30 students of the Anglo-Persian Department of the Calcutta Madrasah.

2. Messes.—The majority of students prefer messes to hostels on account of their cheapness and absence of strict supervision. As in previous years, the messes under the control of the University of Calcutta continued to be managed by the Students' Residence Committee through the Inspector of Messes. The messes in the City of Dacca were administered by the Board of Intermediate and Secondary Education with the assistance of the Assistant Inspector of Students, Residence and the standing Advisory Committee. In both Calcutta and Dacca the major portion of the expenditure incurred for the maintenance of Messes occupied by members of the backward classes is provided by Government.

3. Physical education.—The subject received considerable attention during the year under review. As before, western games like football, tennis and badminton are played by boys in town, while indigenous games are preferred in rural areas. The factors which stand in the way of the introduction of games as a compulsory subject in schools are inadequate playing fields, want of trained teachers and apparatus, apathy and conservatism of the boys and their guardians, inadequacy of funds and absence of provision for midday tiffin. A Physical Training Competition for the pupils of Indian schools for girls was held at the Young Women's Christian Association in November 1929 when the Senior cup was won by St. Margarets' School and the Junior one by the Diocesan Girls' High School. The Government grant to the Young Women's Christian Association to enable the Association to maintain a Physical Directress was continued throughout the year. The Physical Directress (Miss Pepler) held a class for Indian teachers who are qualifying in physical training, and also did much valuable work in developing physical education in Calcutta and mufassal schools.

No class for the training of drill and gymnastic masters of high schools was held during the year, but five short courses for the training of teachers of middle English schools, junior madrasahs and guru training schools were held in Calcutta, and certain mufassal centres. The number of teachers trained in these classes is shown in the statement below:—

Division.	Teachers of Middle English schools.	Teachers of Junior Madrasahs.	Guru training school teachers.
Burdwan	8	2	8
Presidency	15	2	22
Dacca	25	15	9
Chittagong	12	14	3
Rajshahi	9	7	9
Total	69	40	51

During the year 1929-30 a sum of Rs. 25,000 was sanctioned by Government for the improvement of physical education, out of which it was found possible to distribute Rs. 22,585 as noted below:—

	Rs.
Grants to Senior Madrasahs	1,844
Grants to Junior Madrasahs	915
Training of teachers of Madrasahs	468
Purchasing of apparatus for Government Training schools	600
Training of teachers of Guru Training schools ..	787
Grants to High schools	14,991
Grants to Middle English schools	2,140
Training of teachers of High and Middle English schools	840
Total	22,585

In a letter No. 237Edn., dated the 18th/21st January 1930, Government asked for certain particulars in respect of physical education and military training in colleges and schools, and also desired that future annual reports should summarise the position during the previous year. Instructions were accordingly issued to Divisional Inspectors of Schools to furnish particulars with regard to the physical training of the students in Government and aided high and middle English schools and Government and aided Senior and Junior Madrasahs, and Principals of Government and aided Colleges were asked to furnish particulars with regard to physical and military training in their colleges. Complete replies have not yet been received, but 187 high schools and 40 colleges have given full details of the work which is being carried on. From these replies it appears that many schools are not paying sufficient attention to the needs of the situation as explained in the Director's circular No. 23, dated the 9th June 1928, and subsequent communications. Until all schools realise that physical education must be made an essential part of the school curriculum, with definite periods set apart for it and a teacher in charge who knows something of the aims and methods of teaching it, litle improvement in the health and physique of school students can be expected.

In colleges the position improved slightly during the year, but in the absence of a definite ruling by the University of Calcutta regarding the physical education of students, each college has to decide for itself whether or not to take action. A number of colleges still exist which have taken no steps to organise physical activities for their students. In many of the others the control of this important subject has been placed in the hands of men of inadequate educational qualifications who have no knowledge of the subject. Satisfactory results cannot under these circumstances be expected.

4. Boy Scouts.—During the Scout year 1929 there were 55 local associations, 5,890 scouts, 1,379 cubs, 307 rovers and 411 scouters. This indicates there is a gradual increase in number and that the movement is gaining in popularity. As in the previous year, a sum of Rs. 4,000 was distributed amongst Government and non-Government institutions for equipment and camp expenses. The Boy Scouts Association also received the usual annual grant of Rs. 6,000. The question of a supplementary grant of Rs. 1,000 for non-Government institutions has received the administrative approval of Government and the extra grant of Rs. 750 to the Provincial Organisation was also administratively sanctioned.

5. Girl Guides.—Generally speaking, the Girl Guide movement is making very slow progress in Bengal, but in the Vidyamayee Girls' High School at Mymensingh and Dr. Khastagir's School at Chittagong the girls are reported to be doing fairly good work.

6. Medical supervision.—Since the issue of the last report, the scheme for the medical examination of pupils in Government high English schools and senior madrasahs outside Calcutta and in hostels attached to them has been approved by Government. During the year 1929 the Medical Board attached to the Students' Welfare Committee, Calcutta University, visited 8 colleges and examined 1,801 students. Nearly 600 defect cards were issued from the office of the Committee to students with a view to remedial action being taken. The After-care Officer followed up the defects of the students, saw their guardians or the heads of the institutions and also kept himself informed of the steps taken by the students or their guardians for treatment. Doctors from the Department of Public Health examined the boys of certain schools at district headquarters in the Burdwan Division, and the Medical Officer appointed by the Asansol Mines Board of Health also made regular inspection of school children in the mines area during the year under report. In some districts of the Presidency Division the Sanitary Inspectors belonging to the District Boards are reported to have examined the health of school boys.

7. Hygiene.—As in previous years, Sanitary Inspectors employed under local bodies and officers of the Social Service League delivered lectures on sanitation and hygiene illustrated by lantern slides and their work seems to have been much appreciated. The Inspectress of Schools, Presidency and Burdwan Divisions, reports that the teaching of Hygiene and First Aid has considerably improved. A course in Hygiene, First Aid and Home Nursing is given to students under training, and they have to pass this course before securing the certificate of training.

8. Discipline.—Various incidents during the year under report showed how easily students can be affected by propaganda and used as tools in the struggle in which politically-minded India is now engaged. The resultant strikes and hartals make it very difficult for school and college authorities to control their students. Some students of Krishnagar and Rajshahi Colleges were guilty of overt acts of indiscipline, and the former college had, in consequence, to be closed for a month till better counsels prevailed. Another serious breach of discipline that occurred during the year under report was the disgraceful demonstration by the students of the town of Rangpur during the visit of His Excellency the Governor of Bengal for which disciplinary action had to be taken against a number of the ringleaders.

9. Religious and moral instruction.—Religious instruction is chiefly imparted in denominational schools such as maktabs, madrasahs, tols and mission schools. In other schools, an attempt is made to give instruction through lessons contained in the text-books. The question of religious and moral instruction has acquired importance since the passing of the Primary Education Bill by the Bengal Legislative Council and the views of the inspecting officers are being obtained on this important subject. In teaching moral qualities like truthfulness, loyalty, etc., the personality of the teacher has to be chiefly relied on.

10. National schools.—On the 31st December 1929 there were in the Presidency 21 national schools with 1,931 pupils as compared with 29 schools with 1,875 pupils on the corresponding date of the previous year. Thus 8 institutions ceased to exist during the year under report while the number of pupils increased by 56. The chief national school, viz., the Bengal Technical Institute, had 605 pupils as compared with 590 in the previous year. No national school in any Division conforms strictly to departmental standards or rules. They generally however impart the types of education given in recognised schools, combined with a certain amount of vocational training such as spinning, weaving, carpentry and tailoring.

CHAPTER XIV.

Conferences.

A Conference was held at Writers' Buildings on the 1st October 1929, in connection with the question of the introduction of the teaching of music in secondary schools and of the establishment of training centres for teachers in music, and made the following recommendations:—

(1) that there should be a musical Advisory Board to advise the Director of Public Instruction in regard to the teaching of Indian music in secondary schools and to take steps for the encouragement and improvement of musical education in Bengal;
(2) that the courses of study for Indian music should be according to the syllabus recommended by the Sub-Committee which should include both Bengali and Hindusthani songs;
(3) that a series of books should be prepared containing Swara exercises,
(4) that in order to train teachers, the two chief institutions in Calcutta, viz., the Sangeeta Sangha and the Sangeeta Sammilani should be utilised; and
(5) that provision should be made for the teaching of instrumental music.

The complete scheme has been submitted to Government for consideration.

The suggestions put forward by the Conference mentioned in last year's report which discussed the question of a revised scheme of grant-in-aid to high schools are also under the consideration of Government.

A Conference of the superior inspecting officers was held at the headquarters of the Burdwan Division in September 1929 in which matters regarding the curriculum of primary schools, inspection of guru-training schools, and the restoration of a public examination at the end of standard VI were discussed. As certain very important principles were involved, the proceedings were circulated to other Divisional Inspectors with a view to further discussion at gatherings of inspecting officers to be held in April and May 1930.

The Bengal Women's Education League held its fourth session in the Y.M.C.A. Hall, Calcutta from 19th to 22nd February 1930. The chief resolutions passed by the conference were to the following effect:—

(1) that, wherever possible, means should be devised for bringing teachers from time to time into touch with training institutions for the purpose of taking refresher courses and of familiarising themselves with new methods; and

(2) that the League encourage the visitation of school districts by experts who shall, during term time, advise and demonstrate lines of work in particular subjects of the curriculum, etc.

Papers were also read on important subjects concerning the education of women.

The All-Bengal non-Government School Teachers' Conference held its tenth session at Barisal in April 1930 under the Presidentship of Mr. Ramananda Chatterjee and discussed mainly the desirability of improving the status of teachers and the state of secondary education in general.

A Conference of Government School teachers met during last Christmas holidays in Calcutta at which Mr. Barrow, Principal, Presidency College, presided. The Conference discussed at some length the question of the deprovincialisation of Government schools.

CHAPTER XV.

Text-book Committee.

During the year under review, the two Text-book Committees—one at Calcutta and the other at Dacca—were abolished and the formation of a Provincial Text-book Committee was sanctioned with effect from the 1st September 1929 under Government order No. 549T.—Edn., dated the 23rd May 1929. Mr. J. M. Bottomley, Assistant Director of Public Instruction for Muhammadan Education, Bengal, was appointed Secretary of the Committee which was located at Writers' Buildings, Calcutta. The Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, was, as usual, the ex-officio President of the Committee.

In accordance with the Rules for the working of the Provincial Text-book Committee, the full number of regular members and an adequate number of co-opted members were appointed to deal with text-books sent to the Committee for consideration, more particularly in connection with the revised Syllabus of Studies for Secondary Schools which is to come into operation from 1st January 1931. The new Text-book Committee first took up the work of the revision of the existing lists of text-books for primary schools and maktabs. Authors and publishers were accordingly asked to submit for re-examination text-books in certain subjects where the limit prescribed in the rules had been exceeded. Several Sub-Committees consisting of regular and co-opted members were formed to examine these books. Subsequently the members met at Sub-Committee meetings for discussion of merits and demerits of books forwarded to them for examination. Their recommendations were in due course placed before the President for approval.

The adjudication of essays in connection with the award of the Braja Mohan Dutta Prize for Indian Ladies was dealt with by a small committee of the old Calcutta Text-book Committee before this was dissolved.

CHAPTER XVI.

Education in the Legislative Council.

The year 1929-30 again witnessed the discussion of only a relatively small number of questions and resolutions on educational topics in the Bengal Legislative Council. In the absence of Ministers the Education portfolio was in charge of His Excellency the Governor, acting through Members of His Executive Council, up to the 18th December 1929, in accordance with the provision of the Government of India Act, 1920. For the rest of the period educational affairs were administered by a Minister, the Hon'ble Mr. Khwaja Nazimuddin, C.I.E. The Bengal (Rural) Primary Education Bill as it emerged from the first Select Committee, was presented to the Council on 5th August 1929, and evoked some amount of opposition. Ultimately, however, the motion of Babu Nalini Ranjan Sarkar that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee with instructions to submit their report in time for presentation in the November session of the Council was carried. In November, however, there was no sitting of the Council. The Bengal Primary Education Bill, 1929, as reported on by the second Select Committee was subsequently withdrawn by Government by a motion of the Hon'ble Minister before the Legislative Council in March 1930, but a promise (which was subsequently fulfilled) was made that it should be brought up again in modified form at the following summer session. Dr. P. N. Banerjea asked for leave to introduce in the Council on the 7th August 1929 a Bill to amend the law relating to the University of Calcutta and the motion was agreed to: but owing to Dr. Banerjea having subsequently retired from the Council, the Bill made no further progress. The Council on 8th August 1929 gave a large measure of support to Babu Bejoy Krishna Bose's resolution which ran thus:—

> "This Council recommends to the Government the urgent necessity of promulgating rules and regulations for making it compulsory in all schools for boys to take lessons in physical training and military drill and in all colleges for students to receive military training."

The practical difficulties in the way of carrying out such a scheme were not adequately realised by many of the speakers and supporters of the motion: but action, as indicated in Chapter XIII, was subsequently taken by Government to collect figures on which further definite proposals could be based.

The following may be mentioned as illustrative of the type of questions asked in the Council: establishment of a Law College in Chittagong; the number of admissions in the Chittagong College; scheme for the improvement of free primary schools for girls in the Chittagong Municipality; appointment of an Arabic and Persian knowing Muhammadan mistress in the Chittagong Khastagir Girls' High School; number of teachers selected for State scholarships open to teachers; provident fund for teachers in non-Government arts colleges and the Principalship of the Bethune College.

H. E. STAPLETON,

Director of Public Instruction, Bengal (offg.).

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS.

For the week ending on the 4th February 1931.

Summary.—Excepting for scattered showers in parts of some West Bengal districts, the week was practically rainless. Harvesting of spring crops is much advanced. Preparatory tillage for autumn crops and planting of sugarcane continue favourably. Transplantation of summer rice has commenced in some districts. State of standing crops is reported to be generally fair. Distress continues in parts of Bogra and Pabna; in latter district 1,345 persons attended test relief works during the week ending on the 31st January. The average price of common rice for the province has fallen by about 2·40 per cent. as compared with that of the previous week.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Dacca, the 4th February 1931.

Final Report on the Cotton Crops of Bengal, 1930-31.

(NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1928-29, the area under the cotton crops in Bengal has represented 0·2 per cent. of the total area under cotton in India.)

There are two crops—early and late. The early crop is chiefly grown in the Chittagong Hill Tracts and the Tripura State and to a small extent in other districts. The late crop is chiefly grown in Bankura and Midnapore.

Character of the Season.—As indicated in the third forecast, the weather was not favourable for the early crop in the important districts during the plucking period owing to heavy rainfall. As a result a less yield was obtained this year from the early crop.

The outturn of the late crop is expected to be a satisfactory one this year.

Area sown.—The total area sown with the early crop is returned at 76,207 and that with late at 1,103 acres against 76,307 and 1,403 acres, respectively, in the final forecast of last year.

Outturn.—The outturn of the early crop is estimated at 18,350 bales and the late crop at 311 bales against 20,797 and 283 bales, respectively, in the final forecast of last year.

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

(a) For Nadia.

(1) The decrease in area and yield this year under early cotton is due to revision of estimates. The weather was favourable and the condition of the crop was good. The date of harvesting was normal. On enquiry it has been found that 600 acres are under the late crop.
(2) The weather was favourable. The date of harvesting was normal.
(3) Ditto Ditto.
(4) The condition of weather and crops was fair. The date of harvesting was normal.
(5) There were more rains in June during the first and second weeding periods. Early rains also disturbed the first plucking. Hence the outturn is below that of last year.
(6) The weather was favourable. The date of harvesting was normal.

Resolution on the report of the Director of Public Health, the Sanitary Board and the Chief Engineer, Public Health Department, for the year 1929.

CALCUTTA, THE 7TH FEBRUARY 1931.

RESOLUTION—No. 339P.H.

Minister-in-charge: The Hon'ble Mr. Bijoy Prasad Singh Roy.

Read—

The Report of the Director of Public Health, the Sanitary Board and the Chief Engineer, Public Health Department, for the year 1929.

Vital Statistics.—The year under review is the last in which it will be necessary to base statistics on the standard of population as recorded in the census of 1921 without subsequent adjustment. This figure is 46,522,293 for Bengal excluding the Chittagong Hill Tracts. The want of any annual revision of the figures for population from vital statistics of the year makes it necessary for the same figures to serve as basis year by year between one census and another, with the result that in the eighth or ninth year the ratio per thousand has only a relative value.

The margin of error in the annual vital statistics is so wide that no other system would be possible, and the opportunity of checking the results of these statistics over the last ten years from the census of 1931 will be looked forward to in the Ministry of Public Health. The recognized inaccuracy of the annual figures, whether derived through the union boards or rural municipalities, imposes caution in summarising them; but the results for 1929 are as follows.

The number of recorded births and deaths was 1,361,278 and 1,094,263, respectively, as against 1,375,680 and 1,189,015 in the preceding year. The birth rate decreased from 29·6 per thousand in 1928 to 29·3 per thousand and the death rate from 25·5 per thousand to 23·5 per thousand, while the population as a whole increased by about 267,000 in the year, if these figures are approximately sound. The recorded death rate was the lowest on record since 1911, and the provincial birth rate remains the lowest in British India except that of Burma. The most noticeable of local features is the continued decline in the population of Jessore, but it would perhaps distort the true perspective to single out for comment in this brief summary local features of the vital statistics lucidly explained with diagrams by the Director of Public Health.

Infantile Mortality.—There was a slight check to the decrease in recent years of the infantile mortality rate based on deaths of infants under one year of age. The total number of such deaths, which falls a little short of the quarter million, actually decreased, but on the reduced number of births the ratio per thousand births for the province as a whole rose from 178·1 to 179·9, the urban ratio rising and the rural falling by degrees too slight for special analysis. A diagram on the subject shows very clearly the increase in infantile mortality over the ten year average in the central districts of Bengal, from Malda to Faridpur and Jessore to Bogra, with a decrease outside this block, but it is not apparent whether this is the result of coincidence or of some common factor.

Consciousness of the need for maternity and child welfare work has been aroused in recent years in Bengal; and finds expression in exhibitions and publicity work, carried out largely with the assistance of voluntary associations as well as in specific welfare activities. These are organized in a special degree by the municipal authorities in Calcutta and by a voluntary association with a State grant in Dacca, and it is well worth while to stress the importance of this work by giving again this year a summary of results attained in these two towns.

In Calcutta seven maternity centres—four in the city proper and three in the added areas—were in charge of five lady health visitors assisted by twenty-two midwives except the centre in Cossipore and Maniktola. They delivered 6,498 cases and removed 122 cases to hospitals. The number of infantile deaths among babies delivered by the Corporation staff was 133. The rate of infantile mortality still born excluded, within ten days of birth in cases attended by the Corporation staff was 21·1 per 1,000, while the general infantile mortality rate within the first week in the whole city was 86·3 per 1,000. There were only ten maternal deaths among the mothers delivered by the Corporation staff. In Dacca the two maternity centres managed to attend over 25 per cent. of the births registered in the city. Eleven hundred and fifty-two out of 4,030 births registered in the city were attended to by the centre staff. The infant mortality rate during the first ten days among the cases supervised by the staff was 45·1 per 1,000 births as against a mortality rate of 85·4 among the non-centre cases. The maternal mortality rate was 13·7 per 1,000 births among the centre cases as against 25 per 1,000 births among non-centre cases.

Apart from work in Dacca and Calcutta 1,076 dais were given elementary training by local bodies or associations with the aid of Government grant, and the total number of exhibitions and baby weeks was 139 as against 166 in the previous year.

Cholera.—The statistics for both cholera and small-pox in 1929 were those of reaction from the peak of the previous year. In 1928 the death rate from cholera in Bengal exceeded that of any other province in India and was double the quinquennial average. In 1929, deaths decreased by about 41 per cent. from 136,245 to 81,090, approximating to the quinquennial average. Preventive activities took the usual form of inoculation, disinfection of sources of water-supply, and intensive propaganda by means of magic lantern lectures and demonstrations together with distribution of leaflets and posters and assistance to the local authorities, where possible, by loan of the services of officers of the Public Health Department. A nascent development of the year which may have far reaching possibilities for the improvement of public health at the great gatherings in Indian religious centres was the provision of facilities for inoculation against cholera of pilgrims proceeding to the Khumbh Mela in Allahabad. Voluntary inoculation against cholera has for two or three years now been part of the precautionary measures associated with the pilgrimage to the annual mela at Saugar Island, but the measures taken in the closing weeks of 1929 with a special view to the Khumbh Mela at Allahabad were the first occasion on which this facility has been offered in the interests of public health at a religious gathering outside Bengal. Acknowledgments are due to the authorities and Medical Staff of the Eastern Bengal Railway for their co-operation in this work.

Small-pox.—The passing of the epidemic peaks was still more marked in the case of small-pox than in that of cholera, although the advice of the Public Health authorities tends entirely against any assumption that the worst is over for the present. However that may be, the quinquennial epidemic which began as forecasted in 1924 and rose to a climax in 1928 had spent its force by 1929 when deaths from small-pox fell by over 100 per cent. to 20,407 as against 43,558 in the previous year. The Director of Public Health gives the usual detailed analysis of vaccination results; and it is sufficient perhaps for the purposes of this resolution to mention that the total number of vaccinations was reported at slightly over five and-a-half million, while the total number of children under one year successfully vaccinated was just over three hundred thousand and only 27 per cent. of the infants surviving to that age. Both figures represent progress beyond the standard of the previous year; but with State grants to vaccination exceeding in all one lakh per annum, and a good deal of attention paid to the subject by local health authorities, it is disappointing to find that through the reluctance of guardians and parents relatively so small a percentage of infant life in Bengal receives this protection.

Malaria and Kala-azar.—The decrease in the mortality from malaria, which stood out last year in contrast with the epidemic statistics, forms this year part of the picture of generally improved health conditions. Deaths reported from this cause numbered 335,414 as against 368,691 in the preceding year and as against 737,223 in 1921. In nine years, there has been a steady decrease to less than half of the figures for the worst year, and this in the case of a disease by no means subject to the same sharpness of periodic curve as cholera and small-pox. Nor is it to be supposed that through confusion of diagnosis or a tendency of local health authorities to show the brightest side of the picture part of this mortality is being diverted to other heads. On the contrary the nondescript head of fever which includes malaria as well as other fevers also shows a decrease from 752,003 in 1928 to 713,531 in 1929. The conclusion seems by now quite irresistible that there has been in recent years a genuine decrease in malaria due no doubt largely to the activities of the Public Health Department and to those of local health authorities fostered by State grants, though how far such decrease may be ascribed to one special cause or another and how far to the inscrutable movements of mass disease it lies beyond expert knowledge to pronounce. The visit of the Malaria Commission of the League of Nations to Bengal during the year had the stimulating effect of contact with experts in the study of malaria in other countries; and should go far to adjust knowledge of the problem in Bengal to conditions prevailing in other parts of the world. The number of deaths from Kala-azar remained practically stationary at 10,820 as against 10,746 in 1928, while the number of cases treated fell from 141,970 to 114,845. This decrease is perhaps partly due to the closing of certain centres on the expiry of the special triennial grant.

Rural health units.—The Ministry of Public Health has touched on the development of the system of rural health units in reviewing the work of district boards for 1928-1929. It need only be mentioned here that by the end of 1929 their number had risen to 555 and that the State grant from which the charge is met amounted already in 1929-1930 to over six lakhs of rupees.

Public Health Engineering.—The year 1929 was a year of preparation rather than of completion of major schemes of sanitary engineering, preparation which the financial developments of the following year, it is to be feared, will have done much to frustrate. Works of one kind and another for the improvement of the water-supply were however rounded off in the towns of Comilla, Khulna, Patuakhali and Faridpur, and the Chief Engineer reports the completion of various other small municipal and departmental projects. Naturally the field of sanitary engineering does not present problems of the same administrative interest as those associated with other branches of public health work, but something of this nature will be found associated with the maintenance of a sewerage system in municipalities outside Calcutta (Dacca and Titagarh) and in the Chief Engineer's experiments in decentralised distribution of urban water-supply.

Personal.—Dr. C. A. Bentley, C.I.E., will be taking leave preparatory to retiring from the post of Director of Public Health in February 1931, and the Minister in charge of Local Self-Government and Public Health feels that he is only voicing the general opinion of all who are interested in public health work in Bengal in expressing his sense of the benefit derived by the province from Dr. Bentley's tenure of office during the past fifteen years. He will carry with him to his new duties in Egypt both the experience gained and the good-will won in the province he leaves. Mr. F. C. Griffin continued to hold charge of the office of Chief Engineer, Engineering Branch, Public Health Department, and the Minister desires again to express appreciation of the services rendered by him during the year.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 8-I.—19th January 1931.—The following draft of rules and schedule of rates of tolls, which, in exercise of the powers conferred by sections 6 and 11 of the Canals Act, 1864 (Bengal Act V of 1864), the Governor in Council intends to make and fix for the Rampur Bil Khal joining the Gazipur Khal at Gazipur and Chechri on the north and Amua Done at Amua on the south in the district of Bakarganj, is hereby published for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby.

2. The draft will be taken into consideration on or after the 15th March 1931, and any objections or suggestions received by the undersigned before that date will be considered:—

Draft rules and schedules of rates of tolls.

1. Every vessel on entering the channel and before passing the gate at either end or even when entering the channel from a side khal between the gates shall be liable to measurement for the purpose of ascertaining the tolls payable; in case of any reasonable doubt arising, a vessel may be measured again by any person appointed by the District Board of Bakarganj on this behalf.

2. Vessels for the purpose of the determination of maundage shall be divided into two classes as below:—

Class I.—To include all vessels of the types of country boats, including saltees and hapors (fish cages), house boats, kosh boats, green boats, etc.

Class II.—To include steam boats, motor boats, flats and barges and other square-built vessels.

3. The maundage of every vessel, whether laden or empty, shall, for the purpose of Act V (B. C.) of 1864 and of these rules, be determined by the following measurements:—

CLASS I.

A. The product of one quarter the length of the vessel from stem to stern, measured along the water line, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the depth from the water-line t· the interior bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which tolls shall be levied.

B. The measurement of the length is to be made in feet, rejecting inches; the measurement of breadth and depth is to be made in feet and quarters of a foot, rejecting any remainder of less than a quarter of a foot.

C. The maundage on which the amount of toll is calculated shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 12½ maunds, any remainder of less than 12½ maunds being rejected. In the case of vessels exceeding 500 maunds by measurement, the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 50 maunds, rejecting any remainder of less than 50 maunds.

D. Saltees.—The product of one quarter of the inside length of the vessel, measured along the centre line from stem to stern, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the greatest depth measured from the top to the interior bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which tolls shall be levied.

CLASS II.

For vessels of class II the number of maunds obtained by the system of measurement prescribed for vessels of class I shall be increased by one-half. For vessels of this class above 5,000 maunds measurement, the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 500 maunds, rejecting any remainder of less than 500 maunds. In the case of steamers and motor boats the maundage determined as above shall be reduced by one-third as an allowance of engine space.

For vessels of class II which are furnished with reliable way bills, the gross maundage of cargo shown by the way bills or in the case of steamers, the maundage obtained from multiplying the registered tonnage of the steamer by 27, may, at the option of the employer of the vessel or the steamer (as the case may be), be taken as the maundage on which tolls will be charged.

4. After the measurement the person in charge of the vessel shall be provided with a slip showing the maundage to be charged, which must be presented at the toll office where he will be provided with a ticket, after payment of toll, which will permit the vessel to pass the gate or proceed through the channel.

5. Every ticket shall have entered on it the name of the sarang, manjee or other person in charge of the vessel, the date of entry, the maundage, the cargo, the amount of toll charged and the number of days for which the ticket remains current.

6. All tolls are payable on demand and shall be paid at the toll office before a vessel is permitted to proceed.

7. The ticket must be kept on board the vessel and in possession of the person in charge of the vessel and must be produced for inspection when demanded by the person authorised to collect tolls, or by any officer to whom such person is subordinate. If on demand the ticket is not produced, such person or officer shall assess the tollage as provided in rules 3 and 12 and shall require payment of toll, and unless and until the toll is paid, or the original ticket or a duplicate is produced as evidence that toll has already been paid, the vessel shall be liable to seizure and detention under the provisions of section 9 of the Act.

8. Duplicates of lost tickets, of which the numbers and dates can be satisfactorily established, will be granted by the collector of tolls on payment of a fee equal to one quarter of the total tollage, subject to a minimum fee of one anna per ticket.

9. All vessels, whether the property of Government, District Board, other local bodies or of private persons, are liable for toll except those specially exempted under these rules or by a resolution passed by the District Board of Bakarganj from time to time.

10. The canal may be closed once a year for effecting the necessary repairs to it on seven days' notice of the intention so to close it being given; but in the event of any sudden emergency the canal may be closed at any time without prior notice, and no claim in such case by owners of vessels or others for compensation on account of detention shall be entertained.

11. No rafts exceeding 50 feet in length and 5 feet in breadth shall be permitted to enter the canals.

12. The rates of toll shall be as follows:—

(1) On all vessels empty or laden, per hundred maunds—Twelve annas.

(2) On all vessels empty or laden, for 12½ maunds or less—One anna six pies.

(3) On rafts of bamboos, grass, timber, etc., not exceeding 50 feet in length and 5 feet in breadth—Six annas each raft.

Tolls will be levied at Amua.

13. For boats frequently using the canal, such as boats carrying passengers, grass or perishable articles monthly tickets will be issued at 10 times the ordinary toll.

14. Every vessel which has paid toll shall be allowed to remain in the canal for three days inclusive of the days of entry into and leaving the canal. A vessel remaining in any part of the canal longer than three days shall be charged demurrage equal to one-half of the toll for each day in excess of three days. No vessel shall be permitted to remain in the canal for more than one month. Provided that this rule shall not apply to vessels holding monthly tickets under rule 13 above, which may remain in the canal for more than three days without payment of demurrage but not for more than one month at a time.

15. No vessel carrying exclusively police officers or servants, soldiers and officers of the British Army, post mail runners, officers of the Irrigation Department on duty, officers and servants of the toll office for the canal referred to in these rules while on duty, or the vessels of such other persons as may be exempted by a resolution of the District Board of Bakarganj, shall be liable for toll in the canal.

16. Any matter relating to the mode of collection of tolls and other relevant points, not provided for in these rules, shall be decided by the District Board of Bakarganj at a meeting, and shall be subject to the approval of the local Government.

37A. For the purposes of the following provisions—

(i) "coasting-ship" means a ship exclusively employed in trading between any ports or places on the continent of India, or between Aden and Perim, or between ports or places on the continent of India and ports or places in the island of Ceylon;

(b) in a ship in which all persons employed are members of one family; or

(d) where such young person is to be employed on nominal wages and will be in the charge of his father or other adult near male relative.

Engagement of young persons as trimmers or stokers.

37E. There shall be included in every agreement with the crew of every ship registered in British India and every foreign ship, which engages young persons in British India, a list of young persons who are members of the crew, together with particulars of the dates of their birth, and, in the case of any such ship where there is no agreement, the master shall keep a register of young persons with particulars of the dates of their birth and of the dates on which they became or ceased to be members of the crew.

Penalty for contravention of sections 37B, 37C and 37D.

37F. If any young person is carried to sea to work in contravention of section 37B, section 37C or section 37D, the master of the ship shall for each such offence be liable to a fine which may extend to fifty rupees.

Penalty for false representation by parent or guardian.

37G. If any young person is engaged to work in any capacity in a ship in contravention of section 37B, section 37C or section 37D on a false representation by his parent or guardian that the young person is of an age at which such engagement is not in contravention of those sections, such parent or guardian shall be liable to a fine which may extend to fifty rupees.

Penalty for failure to produce medical certificate for inspection.

37I. If the master of a ship where there is no agreement with the crew fails to keep the register of young persons required to be kept by him under section 37E, or refuses or neglects to produce such register for inspection when required so to do by a shipping-master, he shall be liable to a fine which may extend to two hundred rupees.

Power to make rules.

37J. (1) The Governor General in Council may make rules prescribing—

(a) the conditions of employment of young persons, in any capacity, in school-ships and training-ships, and the authorities by whom and the manner in which the inspection of their work shall be carried out;

(b) the conditions of employment of young persons as trimmers or stokers in coasting-ships;

(c) the authorities whose certificates of physical fitness shall be accepted for the purposes of section 37D; and

(d) the form of the register of young persons to be maintained in ships where there is no agreement with the crew.

(1) Where the service of a lascar or native seaman employed on a ship registered in British India or engaged in British India for employment on a foreign ship terminates before the date contemplated in the agreement by reason of the wreck or loss of the ship, the lascar shall, notwithstanding anything contained in section 58, but subject to the provisions of this section, be entitled to receive—

(a) wages at the rate to which he was entitled at the date of the termination of service, until he is sent home or to a port near his home in accordance with section 75, or until he has been sent home or to a proper port of return in accordance with the Merchant Shipping Acts, or has in any other way reached his port of departure from India or a port near his home, as the case may be; and

(b) compensation for the loss of his effects up to one month's wages at the said rate.

(2) A lascar shall not be entitled to receive wages under clause (a) of sub-section (1) in respect of any period during which—

(a) he was or could have been suitably employed; or

(b) he negligently failed to apply to the proper authority for relief as a distressed or destitute lascar."

Amendment of section 85, Act XXI of 1923.

7. In section 85 of the said Act,—

(a) for sub-section (1) the following sub-section shall be substituted, namely:—

(b) in sub-section (2), for the words "the officer or person making the examination" the words "any person making an inspection under section 91" shall be substituted;

(c) in sub-section (4),—

(i) for the words "The officer directing or the person making the examination" the words "The person making the inspection" shall be substituted; and

(ii) for the word "examination," where it occurs the second time, the word "inspection" shall be substituted; and

(d) in sub-section (5), for the words "If the said officer certifies in that statement that there was no reasonable ground for the complaint, each of the complainants" the following shall be substituted, namely:—

"If the inspection was made in pursuance of a request by members of the crew and the person making the inspection certifies in the statement of the result of the inspection that there was no reasonable ground for the request, every member of the crew who made the request."

Amendment of section 91, Act XXI of 1923.

8. For section 91 of the said Act, the following section shall be substituted, namely:—

Inspection of provisions, water, medicines and appliances, weights and measures and accommodation.

"91. A shipping-master, deputy shipping-master, or other officer duly appointed in this behalf by the Governor General in Council, at any port—

(a) in the case of any ship upon which seamen have been shipped at that port, may at any time, and

(b) in the case of any British ship, may at any time, and, if the master or three or more of the crew so request, shall, enter on board the ship and inspect—

(i) the provisions and water,

(ii) the medicines and appliances,

(iii) the weights and measures,

(iv) the accommodation for seamen, with which the ship is required to be provided by or under this Act or the Merchant Shipping Acts."

Saving.

9. Nothing in section 2, section 3 or section 4 shall prevent the carrying to sea of a young person in a ship in which he is lawfully engaged to work at the commencement of this Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The International Labour Conference at its sessions held between 1920 and 1926 adopted several draft Conventions and Recommendations relating to seamen. The action to be taken on these draft Conventions and Recommendations was considered in consultation with the Indian Legislature and the present Bill embodies the provisions of the following draft Conventions and Recommendations in so far as it is possible to give effect to them in India.

2. Draft Convention fixing the minimum age for admission of children to employment at sea (adopted in 1920).

The Indian Legislature at its session held in September 1921 recommended that this draft Convention should be ratified subject to the following reservations:—

(a) that it shall apply only to foreign-going ships (irrespective of any tonnage limit) and to home-trade ships of a burden exceeding 300 tons; and

(b) that nothing in the draft Convention shall be deemed to interfere with the Indian custom of sending young boys to sea on nominal wages in the charge of their fathers or near relatives.

It was not found possible, however, to ratify this draft Convention on behalf of India because it was held that the ratification of a draft Convention cannot be accompanied by reservations. The Bill amends the Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1923, so as to bring the law in India into conformity with the provisions of the draft Convention subject to the two reservations stated above.

3. Draft Convention fixing the minimum age for the admission of young persons to employment as trimmers or stokers (adopted in 1921).

Draft Convention concerning the compulsory medical examination of children and young persons employed at sea (adopted in 1921).

These draft Conventions have been ratified with the approval of the Indian Legislature. The Bill gives effect to the provisions of these draft Conventions.

4. Draft Convention concerning seamen's Articles of Agreement (adopted in 1926).

This Convention was placed before the Indian Legislature during the September session of 1927 and the Legislature recommended that the question of the ratification of the Convention should be considered at a later date when the amendments necessary to bring the existing law into conformity with the draft Convention had been further examined in consultation with the parties interested.

Commercial bodies and shipping interests in India have been consulted and after giving careful consideration to the opinions expressed by the various authorities consulted, the Government of India propose to ratify the draft Convention.

The Convention is largely covered by the existing law and procedure in India, and in certain respects in which it is not so covered at present it will be covered by executive action or action under existing law. Legislation is however necessary to give effect to Article 14. This Article requires that the seaman shall have the right to be given a separate certificate as to the quality of his work in addition to the document required under Article 5. Section 43 of the Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1923, provides for a certificate of discharge corresponding to that of Article 5 but there is no provision in that Act whereby a seaman is entitled to receive a separate certificate as to the quality of his work. The Bill gives effect to the provisions of Article 14.

5. Draft Convention concerning unemployment indemnity in case of the loss or foundering of the ship (adopted in 1920).

In September 1921, the Indian Legislature recommended that this draft Convention should not be ratified but that inquiries should be undertaken whether the Indian Merchant Shipping Act should not be amended so as to provide—

(a) that any Indian seaman whose service is terminated before the period contemplated in his agreement by reason of the wreck or loss of his ship, should be entitled to his wages until he is repatriated to the port of his departure from India; and

(b) that he should be paid compensation for loss of his personal effects up to the limit of one month's wages.

The Government of India have examined the question and have come to the conclusion that the Indian Merchant Shipping Act should be amended on the lines recommended by the Legislature. The Bill gives effect to this decision.

6. Recommendation concerning the general principles for the inspection of the conditions of work of seamen (adopted in 1926).

The Indian Legislature at its session held in September 1927 recommended that no action need be taken on this Recommendation until the amendments necessary to bring the existing law into conformity with the Recommendation had been further examined.

Articles 1 to 9, 11 to 15 and 18 to 25 of the Recommendation can be given effect to under existing law and procedure. They therefore present no difficulty and it is proposed to accept them. Article 10 of the Recommendation requires, inter alia, that the inspection authorities should be empowered by national law to visit any vessel flying the national flag in the national or foreign territorial waters. As no category of British Indian vessels fly a distinctively Indian flag, it is proposed to accept this Article subject to an explanation that all British Indian vessels fly the British flag, that no category of British Indian vessels fly a distinctively Indian flag and that for the purpose of this Article, the Government of India would construe the words "vessels flying the national flag" as meaning "vessels registered in British India."

Article 16 requires that the national law should provide that the master of a vessel shall be entitled to call for an inspection in all cases where he considers it necessary, and Article 17 requires that the national law should provide that the members of the crew of a vessel shall be entitled, subject to such conditions as may be prescribed, to call for an inspection on any matters relating to health, the safety of the vessel, or the rules affecting the conditions under which seamen work.

In matters relating to the safety of the vessel the requirements of these two Articles are covered by section 236 of the Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1923, read with section 232 thereof.

Sections 85 (provisions and water), 87 (medicines), 88 (weights and measures) and 90 (accommodation for seamen) of the said Act relate to matters affecting "health" and "conditions under which seamen work," but with the exception of section 85 which entitles the members of the crew to call for an inspection in regard to provisions and water, the Act does not entitle the master or the crew to call for inspection in connection therewith. The Bill provides for the amendment of the Act so as to enable the master and the members of the crew to call for an inspection in these matters.

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

Clauses 2 and 3.—These are complementary to Clause 4.

Clause 4.—This embodies the provisions of the draft Conventions relating to the employment of young persons and children at sea, subject to the reservations decided upon in regard to the draft Convention fixing the minimum age for the admission of children to employment at sea.

New section 37A contains definitions of which only "(i) coasting ship" calls for remarks. This definition is necessary because the Convention fixing the minimum age for the admission of young persons to employment as trimmers or stokers contains an exception in favour of the "coasting trade" of India. The term "home-trade ship" is defined in the Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1923, but the term "coasting trade" has a more limited meaning than the term "home-trade."

New section 37B prevents the employment of young persons under fourteen years of age at sea as provided for in the draft Convention fixing the minimum age for admission of children to employment at sea. Exceptions (a) and (b) are in accordance with those in the draft Convention and exceptions (c) and (d) are the additional conditions recommended by the Indian Legislature.

New section 37C reproduces the draft Convention fixing the minimum age for the admission of young persons to employment as trimmers or stokers without modification of substance. It follows as closely as possible section 2 of the Merchant Shipping (International Labour Conventions) Act, 1925 (15 and 16, Geo. V, Ch. 42).

New section 37D reproduces the draft Convention concerning the compulsory medical examination of children and young persons employed at sea and follows closely section 3 of the Merchant Shipping (International Labour Conventions) Act, 1925 (15 and 16, Geo. V, Ch. 42).

New section 37E provides for the maintenance of a register of young persons employed on a ship or a list of them in the Articles of Agreement, in accordance with the provisions of Article 4 of the draft Convention fixing the minimum age for the admission of children to employment at sea and Article 5 of the draft Convention fixing the minimum age for the admission of young persons to employment as trimmers or stokers.

New sections 37F and 37G provide penalties for the contravention of sections 37B, 37C and 37D. They correspond to clause (b) of section 1 (6) of the Employment of Women, Young Persons and Children's Act, 1920 (10 and 11, Geo. V, Ch. 65), and section 4 (1) of the Merchant Shipping (International Labour Conventions) Act, 1925 (15 and 16, Geo. V, Ch. 42).

New section 37H provides a penalty for failure to produce a medical certificate for inspection and is based on section 4 (2) of the Merchant Shipping (International Labour Conventions) Act, 1925 (15 and 16, Geo. V, Ch. 42).

New section 37I forms the sanction to part of new section 37E and has been adopted from section 4 (2) of the Merchant Shipping (International Labour Conventions) Act, 1925, and clause (d) of section 1 (6) of the Employment of Women, Young Persons and Children's Act, 1920.

New section 37J (1) provides specific rule-making powers for all matters mentioned in the previous sections for which rules may be made. Sub-section (2) provides that the rules relating to the conditions of employment of young persons as trimmers or stokers in coasting ships shall be made after consultation with the most representative organisations of employers and seamen, in accordance with Article 3 (c) of the draft Convention fixing the minimum age for the admission of young persons to employment as trimmers or stokers.

Clause 5.—The new section 43A embodies the provisions of Article 14 of the draft Convention concerning Seamen's Articles of Agreement which requires that the seaman shall have the right to be given a separate certificate as to the quality of his work in addition to the document required under Article 5 of that Convention.

Clause 6.—Sub-section (1) of the new section gives effect to the recommendation made by the Indian Legislature regarding the action to be taken in connection with the draft Convention concerning unemployment indemnity in the case of the loss or foundering of the ship. Clause (a) of this sub-section covers the various modes of repatriation of lascars under the Indian and the English Merchant Shipping law, including those cases where the employer or his agent repatriates a shipwrecked lascar or where the lascar himself finds his way home. Sub-section (2) provides for certain exceptions to sub-section (1). Clause (a) of this sub-section is designed to cover cases where the lascar is offered suitable employment and refuses to accept it. Clause (b) is intended to cover the case of a lascar who is ship-wrecked in the United Kingdom. Such a lascar is not a shipwrecked seaman within the meaning of sections 40 and 41 of the Merchant Shipping Act of 1906 but may be a destitute lascar within the meaning of section 185 of the Merchant Shipping Act of 1894. This section of the Merchant Shipping Act of 1894 imposes upon the Secretary of State for India in Council the duty of taking charge of and sending home lascars who are found destitute in the United Kingdom. The object of this clause is that, if the owner can show that such a lascar negligently failed to apply for relief under section 185 of the Act of 1894, the owner will be relieved of his liability to pay compensatory wages.

Clauses 7 and 8.—The amendments to sections 85 and 91 of the Indian Merchant Shipping Act, 1923, are designed to give effect to the requirements of Articles 16 and 17 of the Recommendation concerning the general principles for the inspection of the conditions of work of seamen, entitling the master and the crew to call for inspection in respect of certain matters.

Clause 9.—This clause saves existing engagements and in particular avoids the breaking of indentures of apprenticeship.

Legislative Assembly Department.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 16th January, 1931:—

L. A. BILL No. 7 OF 1931.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Ports Act, 1908, for a certain purpose.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Ports Act, 1908, for the purpose hereinafter appearing; It is hereby enacted as follows:— XV of 1908.

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Indian Ports (Amendment) Act, 193

Amendment of section 6, Act XV of 1908.

2. In sub-section (1A) of section 6 of the Indian Ports Act, 1908, for the words "at piers, jetties, landing-places, wharves, quays, docks, warehouses and sheds" the words "in any port subject to this Act" shall be substituted. XV of 1908.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

It is doubtful whether section 6 of the Indian Ports Act, 1908, as at present worded, empowers the Local Government to frame rules prohibiting the employment of children in the handling of goods on the waterside of vessels in ports, although it seems clear that the intention of the legislature was to prohibit child-labour throughout the limits of ports. The object of this Bill is to resolve this doubt by providing against the employment of children under the age of twelve years in the handling of goods anywhere within the ports to which the Act applies.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Legislative Assembly Department.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 15th January 1931:—

L. A. BILL No. 3 OF 1931.

A Bill to supplement the Bengal Criminal Law Amendment Act, 1930.

WHEREAS it is expedient to supplement the Bengal Criminal Law Amendment Act, 1930; It is hereby enacted as follows:— Ben. Act VI of 1930.

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Bengal Criminal Law Amendment (Supplementary) Act, 1931.

Power to order custody in jail outside Bengal.

2. The power of the Local Government under sub-section (1) of section 2 of the Bengal Criminal Law Amendment Act, 1930 (hereinafter referred to as the local Act), to direct by order in writing that any person shall be committed to custody in jail shall be deemed to include a power to direct, by order in writing made with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, that such person shall be committed to custody in any jail in British India; and, for all or any of the purposes of the local Act, an order so made shall be deemed to be an order made under section 2 of that Act, and all the provisions of that Act shall apply accordingly: Ben. Act VI of 1930.

Provided that the powers exercisable by the Local Government under section 11 of the local Act in respect of any person committed to custody in a jail outside Bengal, and under section 13 of that Act to provide for the manner of custody of any such person, shall be exercised by the Local Government of the province in which the jail is situated, and rules made by such Local Government in exercise of such powers shall be published in the local official Gazette.

Construction.

3. References to the local Act in sections 14 and 15 of that Act shall be deemed also to be references to the local Act as supplemented by this Act.

Bar of certain legal proceedings.

4. The powers conferred by section 491 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, shall not be exercised in respect of any person arrested, committed to or detained in custody under the local Act or the local Act as supplemented by this Act. V of 1898.

Repeals.

5. Sections 4, 5 and 6 of the Bengal Criminal Law Amendment (Supplementary) Act, 1925, are hereby repealed.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Bengal Criminal Law Amendment (Supplementary) Act, 1925, supplemented the Bengal Criminal Law Amendment Act, 1925, in certain respects which were beyond the competence of the local legislature. Those provisions of the local Act of 1925 which related to the appointment of Commissioners for the trial of certain offences were continued for a further period of five years by the Bengal Criminal Law Amendment (Part Continuance) Act, 1930 (Bengal Act III of 1930), passed by the Bengal Legislative Council in March, 1930. Section 3 of the Supplementary Act of 1925 which provides for appeals to, and confirmation of sentences of death by the High Court accordingly continued to be operative.

With the approval of the Government of India, the Bengal Government did not propose the continuance of those provisions of the local Act of 1925 which conferred certain powers of arrest and detention, and, with the lapse of those powers, sections 4, 5 and 6 of the Supplementary Act of 1925 ceased to be in force. Subsequently, the recrudescence of terrorist activities, and in particular the outrage at Chittagong, necessitated the promulgation of an Ordinance by the Governor General (Ordinance I of 1930) which restored the powers of arrest and detention, and the Ordinance was in due course replaced by the Bengal Criminal Law Amendment Act, 1930 (Bengal Act VI of 1930), which was passed by the Bengal Legislative Council in August last, and which continued for a period of five years the powers which had been conferred by the Ordinance.

2. The object of the present Bill is to re-enact sections 4, 5 and 6 of the Supplementary Act of 1925 and thus to supplement the provisions against the commission of terrorist crimes in Bengal and the organisation of conspiracies to this end.

3. Clause 2 of the Bill empowers the Local Government, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, to make an order committing to custody in a jail outside Bengal any person against whom an order under sub-section (1) of section 2 of the local Act might be made.

4. Clause 3 secures the extension of section 14 of the local Act to any thing which may be done under clause 2 of the Bill; and also places it beyond doubt that clauses 2 and 4 cover action taken under Ordinance I of 1930.

5. Clause 4 of the Bill, on the analogy of section 491 (3) of the Criminal Procedure Code, 1898, bars jurisdiction under the powers conferred by that section.

6. In order to avoid confusion, clause 5 of the Bill formally repeals the corresponding provisions of the Supplementary Act of 1925 which are no longer operative.

1918	XXII	The Bronze Coin (Legal Tender) Act, 1918.	In section 2,— (a) in sub-section (1), the brackets and figure " (1) ", and (b) sub-section (2).

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Government of India having signed at Geneva in April 1929 an International Convention for the suppression of counterfeiting currency, it is necessary before ratifying the Convention that the Indian law should be brought into line with its provisions.

Article 5 of the Convention requires that no distinction should be made in the scale of punishments for offences relating to domestic currency on the one hand and foreign currency on the other. Chapter XII of the Indian Penal Code makes a distinction between Queen's coin and other coin, and the repeals and amendments proposed in that Code and the consequential amendments to the Code of Criminal Procedure and the Bronze Coin (Legal Tender) Act, 1918, abolish this distinction. The following changes deserve special comment:—

Section 230 of the Indian Penal Code differentiates generally between coin and Queen's coin; but it also makes the further distinction that coin is "metal used for the time being as money", whereas Queen's coin remains Queen's coin "notwithstanding that it may have ceased to be used as money". The Convention does not require India to refrain from showing this special regard to Queen's coin, and the amendment proposed, therefore, retains it and alters the well-known definition in this section to the smallest degree compatible with the Convention. The distinction is emphasised by the amendment and retention of Illustration (e).

With the abolition of the distinction between coin and Queen's coin, section 236 of the Indian Penal Code is now completely covered by section 108A of that Code, and may be repealed entirely.

Article 10 of the Convention requires that all offences of counterfeiting currency, that is, both coin and notes, should be made extradition offences. The First Schedule of the Extradition Act, 1903, includes offences relating to coin, but does not include offences relating to currency notes and bank notes. The amendment to the Extradition Act, 1903, will supply this omission.

Article 11 of the Convention requires that counterfeit currency and instruments or other articles peculiarly adapted for the counterfeiting of currency should be seized and confiscated. As regards seizure, section 98 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, already confers the required powers in regard to counterfeit coin, but does not cover counterfeit currency or bank notes. The amendments to the section proposed in the First Schedule will supply the omission. As regards confiscation, Article 11 requires that counterfeit currency and instruments and materials for counterfeiting which are not required for purposes of record should be handed over, either to the Government or to the bank of issue controlling the currency which has been counterfeited, and that specimens of interest should be forwarded to an international central office which is proposed to be established under the Convention. In this matter of confiscation, sections 517 and 523 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, give full discretion to criminal courts regarding the disposal of all property which comes before them in the course of a trial or which is forwarded to them for disposal after seizure by the police. In order fully to implement the Convention, the First Schedule to the Bill proposes a new section 525A requiring Courts to confiscate all counterfeit currency and counterfeiting materials which may come before them for disposal, and empowering the Local Government to make general or special orders for their disposal.

Article 16 of the Convention requires that provision should be made to enable Courts in British India to issue letters of request to obtain evidence, in cases relating to the counterfeiting of currency, to courts in other countries which have ratified the Convention. Sections 77 and 78 and Order XXVI of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, provide for the issue of such letters of request in civil suits; but Chapter XL of the Code of Criminal Procedure goes no further than providing for the issue and execution of commissions within India. The First Schedule to the Bill proposes to insert a new section 508A in the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, authorising the issue and execution of international commissions, or "letters of request". The procedure is made subject to such conditions and limitations as the Governor General in Council may prescribe.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Dacca, the 10th February 1931.

Third and Final Report on the Winter Rice Crop of Bengal, 1930-31.

(NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1928-29, the area under winter rice in Bengal has represented some 17·6 per cent. of the total area under rice in British India.)

Character of the season.—In the second forecast the weather was already reviewed up till October last as having been generally favourable. But during the latter part of the following month when the harvesting operation was just commencing, unusual heavy rain accompanied with high winds caused considerable damage in some districts. On the whole, however, the crop was a satisfactory one for the province this year.

Acreage.—According to the figures returned by the District Officers the total area under winter rice is 15,120,300 acres as compared with 14,793,700 acres last year.

Outturn.—From the summary of the district returns appended it will be seen that Bankura reports more than a normal crop. Four districts report a normal crop of 100 per cent.; seventeen districts a crop varying from 80 to 95 per cent. and the rest from 62 to 75 per cent. of the normal. According to the above estimates, the provincial outturn works up to 88 per cent. as against 95 per cent. of the normal last year. In my opinion, the provincial outturn will not be less than 100 per cent. as estimated in the second forecast.

Accepting 100 per cent. as the provincial outturn, the gross yield of the crop, on the basis of a normal yield of 12½ maunds of clean grain per acre, is estimated at 6,943,000 tons this year as against 6,453,400 tons last year.

R. S. FINLOW,
Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Dacca, the 12th February 1931.

Monthly Weather and Crop Report of Bengal for January 1931.

I. Character of the season.—Excepting for scattered showers in parts of West and North Bengal during the first week, the month was practically dry. The usual rainfall statement is appended.

II. Progress of agricultural operations.—Reaping of winter paddy was approaching completion; threshing continued in full swing. Sowings of spring crops were over and harvesting of the early varieties commenced. Preparation of lands for autumn paddy and jute in East and North Bengal and transplantation of summer paddy seedlings were progressing favourably.

III. State of standing crops.—The condition of standing crops was reported to be generally fair.

IV. Prospects and probable outturn.—The prospects of vegetables and other standing crops were reported to be satisfactory. The outturn of sugarcane was estimated at 92 and that of winter rice at 100 per cent. of the normal this year.

V. Damage to standing crops.—No damage to standing crops was reported from any part of the province.

VI. Condition of agricultural stock.—The condition of live-stock was reported as fair on the whole. Sporadic cases of cattle-disease, however, were reported from six districts of the Province and from the Cooch Behar State.

VII. Failure of pasturage and fodder.—The supply of fodder was reported to be sufficient throughout the Presidency.

VIII. Prices of food-grains.—During the second fortnight of the month, the retail prices of common rice of the cheapest quality fell in fifteen districts, and remained stationary in the rest of the presidency. The prices ranged from 7½ seers per rupee at Faridpur to 16½ seers at Midnapore.

IX. Condition of agricultural population.—The condition of agricultural population is not satisfactory owing to fall in the prices of jute and other staples. Distress continues to prevail in parts of Bogra and Pabna. In the former district agricultural loans were being distributed and in the latter test relief works were opened since the week ending on the 24th January.

NOTIFICATIONS.

No. 8-I.—19th January 1931.—The following draft of rules and schedule of rates of tolls, which, in exercise of the powers conferred by sections 6 and 11 of the Canals Act, 1864 (Bengal Act V of 1864), the Governor in Council intends to make and fix for the Rampur Bil Khal joining the Gazipur Khal at Gazipur and Chechri on the north and Amua Done at Amua on the south in the district of Bakarganj, is hereby published for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby.

2. The draft will be taken into consideration on or after the 15th March 1931, and any objections or suggestions received by the undersigned before that date will be considered:—

Draft rules and schedules of rates of tolls.

1. Every vessel on entering the channel and before passing the gate at either end or even when entering the channel from a side khal between the gates shall be liable to measurement for the purpose of ascertaining the tolls payable; in case of any reasonable doubt arising, a vessel may be measured again by any person appointed by the District Board of Bakarganj on this behalf.

2. Vessels for the purpose of the determination of maundage shall be divided into two classes as below:—

Class I.—To include all vessels of the types of country boats, including saltees and hapors (fish cages), house boats, kosh boats, green boats, etc.

Class II.—To include steam boats, motor boats, flats and barges and other square-built vessels.

3. The maundage of every vessel, whether laden or empty, shall, for the purpose of Act V (B. C.) of 1864 and of these rules, be determined by the following measurements:—

CLASS I.

A. The product of one quarter the length of the vessel from stem to stern, measured along the water line, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the depth from the water-line t the interior bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which tolls shall be levied.

B. The measurement of the length is to be made in feet, rejecting inches; the measurement of breadth and depth is to be made in feet and quarters of a foot, rejecting any remainder of less than a quarter of a foot.

C. The maundage on which the amount of toll is calculated shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 12½ maunds, any remainder of less than 12½ maunds being rejected. In the case of vessels exceeding 500 maunds by measurement, the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 50 maunds, rejecting any remainder of less than 50 maunds.

D. Saltees.—The product of one quarter of the inside length of the vessel, measured along the centre line from stem to stern, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the greatest depth measured from the top to the interior bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which tolls shall be levied.

CLASS II.

For vessels of class II the number of maunds obtained by the system of measurement prescribed for vessels of class I shall be increased by one-half. For vessels of this class above

5,000 maunds measurement, the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 500 maunds, rejecting any remainder of less than 500 maunds. In the case of steamers and motor boats the maundage determined as above shall be reduced by one-third as an allowance of engine space.

For vessels of class II which are furnished with reliable way bills, the gross maundage of cargo shown by the way bills or in the case of steamers, the maundage obtained from multiplying the registered tonnage of the steamer by 27, may, at the option of the employer of the vessel or the steamer (as the case may be), be taken as the maundage on which tolls will be charged.

4. After the measurement the person in charge of the vessel shall be provided with a slip showing the maundage to be charged, which must be presented at the toll office where he will be provided with a ticket, after payment of toll, which will permit the vessel to pass the gate or proceed through the channel.

5. Every ticket shall have entered on it the name of the sarang, manjee or other person in charge of the vessel, the date of entry, the maundage, the cargo, the amount of toll charged and the number of days for which the ticket remains current.

6. All tolls are payable on demand and shall be paid at the toll office before a vessel is permitted to proceed.

7. The ticket must be kept on board the vessel and in possession of the person in charge of the vessel and must be produced for inspection when demanded by the person authorised to collect tolls, or by any officer to whom such person is subordinate. If on demand the ticket is not produced, such person or officer shall assess the tollage as provided in rules 3 and 12 and shall require payment of toll, and unless and until the toll is paid, or the original ticket or a duplicate is produced as evidence that toll has already been paid, the vessel shall be liable to seizure and detention under the provisions of section 9 of the Act.

8. Duplicates of lost tickets, of which the numbers and dates can be satisfactorily established, will be granted by the collector of tolls on payment of a fee equal to one quarter of the total tollage, subject to a minimum fee of one anna per ticket.

9. All vessels, whether the property of Government, District Board, other local bodies or of private persons, are liable for toll except those specially exempted under these rules or by a resolution passed by the District Board of Bakarganj from time to time.

10. The canal may be closed once a year for effecting the necessary repairs to it on seven days' notice of the intention so to close it being given; but in the event of any sudden emergency the canal may be closed at any time without prior notice, and no claim in such case by owners of vessels or others for compensation on account of detention shall be entertained.

11. No rafts exceeding 50 feet in length and 5 feet in breadth shall be permitted to enter the canals.

12. The rates of toll shall be as follows:—

(1) On all vessels empty or laden, per hundred maunds—Twelve annas.

(2) On all vessels empty or laden, for 12½ maunds or less—One anna six pies.

(3) On rafts of bamboos, grass, timber, etc., not exceeding 50 feet in length and 5 feet in breadth—Six annas each raft.

Tolls will be levied at Amua

13. For boats frequently using the canal, such as boats carrying passengers, grass or perishable articles monthly tickets will be issued at 10 times the ordinary toll.

14. Every vessel which has paid toll shall be allowed to remain in the canal for three days inclusive of the days of entry into and leaving the canal. A vessel remaining in any part of the canal longer than three days shall be charged demurrage equal to one-half of the toll for each day in excess of three days. No vessel shall be permitted to remain in the canal for more than one month. Provided that this rule shall not apply to vessels holding monthly tickets under rule 13 above, which may remain in the canal for more than three days without payment of demurrage but not for more than one month at a time.

15. No vessel carrying exclusively police officers or servants, soldiers and officers of the British Army, post mail runners, officers of the Irrigation Department on duty, officers and servants of the toll office for the canal referred to in these rules while on duty, or the vessels of such other persons as may be exempted by a resolution of the District Board of Bakarganj, shall be liable for toll in the canal.

16. Any matter relating to the mode of collection of tolls and other relevant points, not provided for in these rules, shall be decided by the District Board of Bakarganj at a meeting, and shall be subject to the approval of the local Government.

PART III.

6. A candidate must be a male and either—

(i) a British subject of Indian domicile whose father (if alive) is a British subject, or a subject of a State in India, or (if dead) was at the time of his death either a British subject or a subject of a State in India, or a person in the permanent service of the Crown, or a person who had retired from that service: or

(ii) a ruler or a subject of a State in India in respect of whom the Governor General in Council has made a declaration under section 96A of the Government of India Act.

Provided that in the case of a British subject the requirements of this rule may be waived by the Secretary of State in Council if he is satisfied that their observance would occasion exceptional hardship, and the candidate is so closely connected by ancestry or upbringing with His Majesty's dominions as to justify special treatment.

7. A candidate must be in good mental and bodily health and free from any physical defect likely to interfere with the efficient performance of the duties of a member of the Indian Police, and a candidate who is found after examination by a Medical Board not to satisfy these requirements will not be appointed.

8. A candidate must satisfy the Public Service Commission that his character is such as to qualify him for employment in the Indian Police Service.

9. A candidate must have attained the age of 21 and not have attained the age of 24 on the first day of August in the year in which he is selected for admission to the Competitive Examination.

10. A candidate must hold a Degree of a University approved by the Governor General in Council or have passed the Diploma Examination in the 1st or 2nd Division from the Aitchison College, Lahore, the Mayo College, Ajmer, the Daly College, Indore, the Rajkumar College, Rajkot, or the Rajkumar College, Raipur, or have passed the Cambridge School Certificate examination. In exceptional cases the Public Service Commission may, on the recommendation of the Local Government, treat as a qualified candidate a candidate who, though not possessing any of the foregoing qualifications, has passed examinations conducted by other institutions of a standard which in the opinion of the Public Service Commission justifies his admission to the examination.

11. (1) For the purposes of the examination the Governor General in Council shall constitute selection areas, and every candidate shall be assigned to an area, in which he is resident or in which he is treated as resident.

(2) For the purpose of these rules a candidate is resident in a selection area in which his parents reside at the time of his application, or have previously resided for a period of not less than three years or in which he has himself resided (otherwise than as a student of a University only) for a like period, but the Public Service Commission may in special circumstances allow a candidate to be treated as resident in a selection area in which he is not resident:

(3) A candidate resident in a State in India shall be treated as resident in the selection area in which he wishes to serve, provided that the Public Service Commission may in special circumstances treat such candidate as resident in some other selection area.

(4) No candidate shall in any year be treated as resident in more than one selection area.

12. (1) In each selection area a Selection Committee shall be constituted by the Local Government and shall perform in accordance with arrangements made by the Local Government and approved by the Public Service Commission the functions hereinafter assigned to it. Every Selection Committee shall include at least one unofficial member.

(2) For the purpose of this rule the Local Government means in the case of the North-West Frontier Province the Chief Commissioner and in other cases the Local Government of the Governor's province which constitutes, or is included in, the selection area.

(3) The Selection Committee shall examine every application from candidates assigned to the area for which they have been constituted and shall interview every candidate who appears to be qualified under these rules for appointment to the Indian Police Service.

(4) The Selection Committee shall make a list of those persons whom they recommend for admission to the examination. They shall include in the list no candidate whom, having regard to his personality, character, physique and general suitability as shown by his previous career, they do not consider in all respects suited for appointment to the Indian Police Service in the selection area. They shall also exclude from the list any candidate with regard to whom they are satisfied that he will not qualify in the written examination.

(5) Each Selection Committee shall send its list of recommended candidates to the Local Government, who shall forward it to the Public Service Commission with such observations as they may desire to make. The Public Service Commission shall make a final selection of candidates to be admitted to the examination for each year, and in so doing may make additions to or omissions from the list prepared by the Selection Committee, provided that no such additions or omissions shall be made except after consultation with the Local Government. To every candidate whom they select for admission to the examination, the Public Service Commission shall give a certificate of having been selected for the examination, and no person to whom such certificate has not been given shall be admitted to the examination.

13. No recommendations except those invited in the form of application will be taken into consideration. Any attempt on the part of a candidate to obtain support for his application by other means may disqualify him for selection.

14. The Competitive Examination shall be conducted in accordance with regulations made by the Governor General in Council and such fees may be charged to candidates as may be prescribed in those regulations.

15. A list of the candidates shall be made out for each area in order of their proficiency as disclosed by the aggregate marks finally awarded to each candidate and in that order so many of the candidates up to the determined number of appointments in each area as are found by the Public Service Commission to be qualified by examination shall be declared to be successful candidates for the Indian Police Service, provided that the Governor General in Council is satisfied that they are duly qualified in other respects.

Regulations made by the Governor General in Council under the Indian Police Service (Recruitment) Rules, 1927, for recruitment to the Indian Police Service by Competitive Examination in India:—

Rules.

So long as the Commissioners deem it practicable and consistent with the maintenance of an efficient water-supply, they may allow any owner or occupier of a holding paying water-rate imposed under the provision of Part VII of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884, on the annual value of such holding, when such annual value is not less than Rs. 150, to lay down communication-pipes from the service-pipes of the Commissioners for the purpose of leading water to such holding for domestic purposes only, subject to the following rules and conditions:—

1. The owner or occupier of any holding requiring water to be laid on to such holding for domestic purposes, or requiring any addition or alteration to an existing water-supply, must apply for the same to the Commissioners on a printed form to be supplied, free of cost, at the municipal office.

2. A fee of Rs. 300 must be paid to the Commissioners by such owner or occupier for each connection to a municipal main supply-pipe or a common communication-pipe laid in accordance with rule 3 before any work is commenced; such fee to be paid in addition to all other costs and charges imposed under these rules.

3. Except as provided below, each holding must have a separate connection to the municipal main supply-pipe, and extensions from the communication-pipe of one holding to another holding shall not be permitted:

(a) provided that, with the consent of the Commissioners in meeting, connections to two or more holdings may be permitted from a common communication-pipe. Any such communication-pipe must be laid in a street or common passage, and a stop-cock and meter as provided for in rule 7 must be fixed on the connection to each holding:

(b) provided also that no holding shall have more than one separate connection, but if in any case the Commissioners in a meeting are satisfied that an adequate supply to any holding cannot be given through a single connection, they may sanction a second connection thereto.

4. The owner or occupier of the holding in respect of which the connection is required must pay the entire cost of the connection, including the supply and fixing of the fittings referred to in rule 7, and must also pay the cost of such alterations in, or repairs to, roads, drains, sewers, gas or water mains, or pipes, and the cost of such other works as may be necessitated by, or result from, the work of making such connection.

5. The owner or occupier of the holding to which a connection has been given must, at any time, on receipt of notice to do so from the Commissioners, pay the entire cost of any repairs or alterations to the connection or any part thereof that the Commissioners may consider necessary to put it into a satisfactory condition or which may be necessitated by any change in the municipal waterworks or system of distribution, or by the defective condition of the connection or any part thereof, or by any other cause whatsoever.

6. (1) The works required under rules 4 and 5 may, at the option of the Commissioners, either be carried out by the Commissioners themselves at the expense of the owner or occupier of the holding in respect of which the works are required, or may be carried out by a person or firm employed by such owner or occupier with the previous sanction of the Commissioners.

(2) The work shall be done under the supervision of an officer appointed by the Commissioners in this behalf, and no connection must be made with the municipal water main except at such time as may be appointed, and in such position as may be selected by an authorised municipal officer.

7. A holding connection shall comprise the following parts or fittings:—

(a) a brass or gun-metal ferrule inserted in the main supply-pipe;

(b) a galvanised-iron communication-pipe from the ferrule to the meter;

(c) a stop-cock and its surface box;

Irrigation.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 8-I.—19th January 1931.—The following draft of rules and schedule of rates of tolls, which, in exercise of the powers conferred by sections 6 and 11 of the Canals Act, 1864 (Bengal Act V of 1864), the Governor in Council intends to make and fix for the Rampur Bil Khal joining the Gazipur Khal at Gazipur and Chechri on the north and Amua Done at Amua on the south in the district of Bakarganj, is hereby published for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby.

2. The draft will be taken into consideration on or after the 15th March 1931, and any objections or suggestions received by the undersigned before that date will be considered:—

Draft rules and schedules of rates of tolls.

1. Every vessel on entering the channel and before passing the gate at either end or even when entering the channel from a side khal between the gates shall be liable to measurement for the purpose of ascertaining the tolls payable; in case of any reasonable doubt arising, a vessel may be measured again by any person appointed by the District Board of Bakarganj on this behalf.

2. Vessels for the purpose of the determination of maundage shall be divided into two classes as below:—

Class I.—To include all vessels of the types of country boats, including saltees and hapors (fish cages), house boats, kosh boats, green boats, etc.

Class II.—To include steam boats, motor boats, flats and barges and other square-built vessels.

3. The maundage of every vessel, whether laden or empty, shall, for the purpose of Act V (B. C.) of 1864 and of these rules, be determined by the following measurements:—

CLASS I.

A. The product of one quarter the length of the vessel from stem to stern, measured along the water line, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the depth from the water-line to the interior bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which tolls shall be levied.

B. The measurement of the length is to be made in feet, rejecting inches; the measurement of breadth and depth is to be made in feet and quarters of a foot, rejecting any remainder of less than a quarter of a foot.

C. The maundage on which the amount of toll is calculated shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 12½ maunds, any remainder of less than 12½ maunds being rejected. In the case of vessels exceeding 500 maunds by measurement, the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 50 maunds, rejecting any remainder of less than 50 maunds.

D. Saltees.—The product of one quarter of the inside length of the vessel, measured along the centre line from stem to stern, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the greatest depth measured from the top to the interior bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which tolls shall be levied.

CLASS II.

For vessels of class II the number of maunds obtained by the system of measurement prescribed for vessels of class I shall be increased by one-half. For vessels of this class above 5,000 maunds measurement, the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 500 maunds, rejecting any remainder of less than 500 maunds. In the case of steamers and motor boats the maundage determined as above shall be reduced by one-third as an allowance of engine space.

For vessels of class II which are furnished with reliable way bills, the gross maundage of cargo shown by the way bills or in the case of steamers, the maundage obtained from multiplying the registered tonnage of the steamer by 27, may, at the option of the employer of the vessel or the steamer (as the case may be), be taken as the maundage on which tolls will be charged.

4. After the measurement the person in charge of the vessel shall be provided with a slip showing the maundage to be charged, which must be presented at the toll office where he will be provided with a ticket, after payment of toll, which will permit the vessel to pass the gate or proceed through the channel.

5. Every ticket shall have entered on it the name of the sarang, manjee or other person in charge of the vessel, the date of entry, the maundage, the cargo, the amount of toll charged and the number of days for which the ticket remains current.

6. All tolls are payable on demand and shall be paid at the toll office before a vessel is permitted to proceed.

7. The ticket must be kept on board the vessel and in possession of the person in charge of the vessel and must be produced for inspection when demanded by the person authorised to collect tolls, or by any officer to whom such person is subordinate. If on demand the ticket is not produced, such person or officer shall assess the tollage as provided in rules 3 and 12 and shall require payment of toll, and unless and until the toll is paid, or the original ticket or a duplicate is produced as evidence that toll has already been paid, the vessel shall be liable to seizure and detention under the provisions of section 9 of the Act.

8. Duplicates of lost tickets, of which the numbers and dates can be satisfactorily established, will be granted by the collector of tolls on payment of a fee equal to one quarter of the total tollage, subject to a minimum fee of one anna per ticket.

9. All vessels, whether the property of Government, District Board, other local bodies or of private persons, are liable for toll except those specially exempted under these rules or by a resolution passed by the District Board of Bakarganj from time to time.

10. The canal may be closed once a year for effecting the necessary repairs to it on seven days' notice of the intention so to close it being given; but in the event of any sudden emergency the canal may be closed at any time without prior notice, and no claim in such case by owners of vessels or others for compensation on account of detention shall be entertained.

11. No rafts exceeding 50 feet in length and 5 feet in breadth shall be permitted to enter the canals.

12. The rates of toll shall be as follows:—

(1) On all vessels empty or laden, per hundred maunds—Twelve annas.

(2) On all vessels empty or laden, for 12½ maunds or less—One anna six pies.

(3) On rafts of bamboos, grass, timber, etc., not exceeding 50 feet in length and 5 feet in breadth—Six annas each raft.

Tolls will be levied at Amua

13. For boats frequently using the canal, such as boats carrying passengers, grass or perishable articles monthly tickets will be issued at 10 times the ordinary toll.

14. Every vessel which has paid toll shall be allowed to remain in the canal for three days inclusive of the days of entry into and leaving the canal. A vessel remaining in any part of the canal longer than three days shall be charged demurrage equal to one-half of the toll for each day in excess of three days. No vessel shall be permitted to remain in the canal for more than one month. Provided that this rule shall not apply to vessels holding monthly tickets under rule 13 above, which may remain in the canal for more than three days without payment of demurrage but not for more than one month at a time.

15. No vessel carrying exclusively police officers or servants, soldiers and officers of the British Army, post mail runners, officers of the Irrigation Department on duty, officers and servants of the toll office for the canal referred to in these rules while on duty, or the vessels of such other persons as may be exempted by a resolution of the District Board of Bakarganj, shall be liable for toll in the canal.

16. Any matter relating to the mode of collection of tolls and other relevant points, not provided for in these rules, shall be decided by the District Board of Bakarganj at a meeting, and shall be subject to the approval of the local Government.

No. F.-266/30.—In pursuance of clause 4 of the Regulations for admission to the Indian Civil Service by examination in the United Kingdom, and in supersession of the notification of the Government of India in the Home Department, No. 1114, dated the 12th September 1918, the Governor General in Council is pleased to prescribe the following instructions for the issue of certificates of age and nationality to natives of India who are candidates for the examinations for the Indian Civil Service held in England, namely:—

Instructions for the issue of certificates of age and nationality to natives of India who are candidates for the examinations for the Indian Civil Service held in England.

General.

I. A candidate for admission to compete in England for the Indian Civil Service is required before leaving India to obtain a certificate of age and nationality signed, should he be a resident in British India, by the Secretary to Government of the Province, or the Commissioner of the Division within which his family resides; or, should he reside in a State in India, by the highest Political Officer accredited to the State in which his family resides.

NOTE.—In the case of a candidate who has proceeded to England without obtaining a certificate, the certificate may be granted to his father or guardian, provided that the latter produces the requisite evidence, and when making the application states when the candidate went to England, and where he has been residing during his stay in that country.

II. In order to obtain a certificate a candidate is required, if resident in British India, to prove the date and place of his birth and his nationality before the Magistrate of the District in which his family resides, or, if resident in a State in India, before the Political Officer of the State in which his family resides.

III. A candidate must, if resident in British India, signify to the Secretary to Government of the Province, or the Commissioner of the Division in which his family resides, his desire to compete, not less than three months before the date on which he proposes to go to England. If resident within a State in India, he must signify his desire in like manner to the highest Political Officer accredited to the State within which his family resides. The Officer to whom the application is made shall forward it for the purpose of inquiry to the Magistrate of the District or Political Officer of the State in which the applicant's family resides.

IV. The Magistrate or Political Officer to whom such application has been forwarded shall call upon the candidate to appear and give evidence of the date and place of his birth and of his nationality within one month. He will carefully examine the value of the evidence given, and forward a summary of it, with certified copies of all documents tendered, and his comments and opinion, to the Officer who forwarded the application to him for inquiry.

V. The documentary evidence which a candidate may be expected to produce comprises:—

(a) The horoscope.

(b) Family books.

(c) Tradesmen's account books showing entries relating to the birth.

(d) The Matriculation Certificate. If the Matriculation Certificate does not contain sufficient particulars to show that the candidate is qualified by age to enter for the examination, a certificate from the candidate's University or College showing his date of birth as recorded on entering the University or College must also be furnished.

NOTE.—The age of a candidate as recorded on entering his University is regarded as correct unless there is proof to the contrary. If a candidate claims that his age is other than as so recorded he must submit with this application the evidence on which he bases his claim. In such a case the Magistrate or Political Officer will require, among other evidence, a satisfactory explanation of the circumstances in which a wrong age was recorded at the time of entry into the University. He will also require a statement of any attempts made by the candidate to have the University record amended and of the result of such attempts.

Oral testimony of persons acquainted with the candidate's family or otherwise able to give relevant evidence will also be taken; and the candidate is required to comply, to the best of his power, with any requisition the Magistrate or Political Officer, as the case may be, may make in order to clear up any doubt as to the purport of the documentary proof.

VI. Any declaration of age made after the 1931, on the occasion of seeking admission to any University examination, educational institution, or Government office, or otherwise recorded in a formal and deliberate manner, will be taken as conclusive evidence in disproof of the subsequent assertion by the same person that he is of different age to that so declared or recorded.

VII. Where the date and place of birth have been formally registered in a register kept by any public officer in British India, an extract from the register duly certified by the proper official shall be accepted as sufficient proof of the date and place of the birth.

In the case of a candidate who is a British subject and whose father is alive.

VIII. If the Secretary to Government, Commissioner of the Division, or highest Political Officer accredited to the State, as the case may be, is satisfied by the papers submitted, he will issue a certificate in the following form setting out the nature of the evidence produced by the candidate:—

'I hereby certify that....., who is a candidate for the Indian Civil Service examination in London, has submitted the proofs of his birth detailed below* and has satisfactorily shown that he was actually born on or about the date stated, viz., the .....day of.....19 , and further I hereby certify that he is a British subject and that his father is a British subject†/a subject of..... State in India†.'

In the case of a candidate who is a British subject and whose father is dead.

IX. If the Secretary to Government, Commissioner of the Division, or highest Political Officer accredited to the State, as the case may be, is satisfied by the papers submitted, he will issue a certificate in the following form, setting out the nature of the evidence produced by the candidate:—

'I Hereby certify that....., who is a candidate for the Indian Civil Service examination in London, has submitted the proofs of his birth detailed below* and has satisfactorily shown that he was actually born on or about the date stated, viz., the .....day of.....19 , and further, I hereby certify that he is a British subject and that his father was at the time of his death a British subject†/ a subject of.....State in India†/ a person in the permanent service of the Crown†/ a person who had retired from the permanent service of the Crown.'†

†Strike out as required.

X. If the Secretary to Government, Commissioner of the Division, or highest Political Officer accredited to the State, as the case may be, finds reason to believe that the evidence brought forward is not such as to justify the grant of a certificate in the form set out in paragraph VIII or paragraph IX above, the certificate will be refused.

In the case of a candidate who is a Ruler or a subject of a State in India.

XI. If the Secretary to Government, Commissioner of the Division, or highest Political Officer accredited to the State, as the case may be, is satisfied by the papers submitted that the candidate has stated the date and place of his birth and nationality correctly, he will forward the papers with his observations, including any as to the nationality of the candidate's father and mother, to the Government of India, who will consider whether a declaration of eligibility shall, with the approval of the Secretary of State, be issued under section 96A of the Government of India Act. That officer will also issue to the candidate a certificate in the following form setting out the nature of the evidence produced by the candidate:—

'I hereby certify that....., who is a candidate for the Indian Civil Service examination in London, has submitted the proofs of his birth detailed below‡ and has satisfactorily shown that he was actually born on or about the date stated, viz., the..... day of.....19 , and further I hereby certify that he is the Ruler†/a subject† of the.....State in India.'

‡(Here enter details).

Provided that in the case of a male British subject the requirements of this rule may be waived by the Secretary of State in Council if he is satisfied that their observance would occasion exceptional hardship and the candidate is so closely connected by ancestry or upbringing with His Majesty's Dominions as to justify special treatment.

3. A candidate must have attained the age of twenty-one, and must not have attained the age of twenty-four, on the first day of August of the year in which the examination is held.

4. A candidate who is a native of India must obtain a certificate of age and nationality issued in accordance with such instructions as the Governor General in Council may from time to time prescribe, and signed, should he be a resident in British India, by the Secretary to Government of the Province, or the Commissioner of the Division within which his family resides, or, should he reside in a Native State, by the highest Political Officer accredited to the State in which his family resides."

WHEREAS it is expedient to define and amend the law relating to partnership; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

CHAPTER I.

PRELIMINARY.

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Partnership Act, 193

(2) It extends to the whole of British India, including British Baluchistan and the Sonthal Parganas.

(3) It shall come into force on the day of , 193 except section 68, which shall come into force on the day of 193 .

Definitions.

2. In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) an "act of a firm" means any act or omission by all the partners, or by any partner or agent of the firm which gives rise to a right enforceable by or against the firm;

(b) "business" includes every trade, occupation and profession;

(c) "prescribed" means prescribed by rules made under this Act;

(d) "third party" used in relation to a firm or to a partner therein means any person who is not a partner in the firm; and

(e) expressions used but not defined in this Act and defined in the Indian Contract Act, 1872, shall have the meanings assigned to them in that Act. IX of 1872.

Application of provisions of Act IX of 1872.

3. The unrepealed provisions of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, save in so far as they are inconsistent with the express provisions of this Act, shall continue to apply to firms. IX of 1872.

CHAPTER II.

THE NATURE OF PARTNERSHIP.

Definition of "partnership", "partner", "firm" and "firm name".

4. "Partnership" is the relation between persons who have agreed to share the profits of a business carried on by all or any of them acting for all.

Persons who have entered into partnership with one another are called individually "partners" and collectively "a firm," and the name under which their business is carried on is called the "firm name."

Mode of determining existence of partnership.

5. In determining whether a group of persons is or is not a firm, or whether a person is or is not a partner in a firm, regard shall be had to the real relation between the parties, as shown by all relevant facts taken together.

Partnership not created by status.

6. The relation of partnership arises from contract and not from status; and, in particular, the members of a Hindu undivided family carrying on a family business as such, or a Burmese Buddhist husband and wife carrying on business as such are not partners in such business.

Effect of sharing returns from joint or common property.

7. The sharing of profits or of gross returns arising from property by persons holding a joint or common interest in that property does not of itself make such persons partners.

Effect of receipt of share of profits of business.

8. The receipt by a person of a share of the profits of a business, or of a payment contingent upon the earning of profits or varying with the profits earned by a business, does not of itself make him a partner with the persons carrying on the business; and, in particular, the receipt of such share or payment—

(a) by a lender of money to persons engaged or about to engage in any business,

(b) by a servant or agent as remuneration,

(c) by the widow or child of a deceased partner, as annuity, or

(d) by a previous owner or part owner of the business, as conideration for the sale of the goodwill or share thereof, does not of itself make lender, servant, agent, widow, child or previous owner a partner with the persons carrying on the business.

Partnership at will.

9. Where no provision is made by contract between the partners for the duration of their partnership, or for the determination of their partnership, the partnership is "partnership at will."

Particular partnership.

10. A person may become a partner with another person in particular adventures or undertakings.

CHAPTER III.

RELATIONS OF PARTNERS TO ONE ANOTHER.

General duties of partners.

11. Partners are bound to carry on the business of the firm to the greatest common advantage, to be just and faithful to each other, and to render true accounts and full information of all things affecting the firm to any partner or his legal representative.

Determination of rights and duties of partners by contract between the partners.

12. (1) The mutual rights and duties of the partners of a firm may be determined by contract between the partners, and such contract may be express or may be implied by a course of dealing.

Such contract may be varied by consent of all the partners and such consent may be express or may be implied by a course of dealing.

Agreements in restraint of trade.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in section 27 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, such contracts may provide that a partner shall not carry on any business other than that of the firm while he is a partner. IX of 1872.

The conduct of the business.

13. Subject to contract between the partners—

(a) every partner has a right to take part in the conduct of the business;

(b) every partner is bound to attend diligently to his duties in the conduct of the business;

(c) any difference arising as to ordinary matters connected with the business may be decided by a majority of the partners, and every partner shall have the right to express his opinion before the matter is decided, but no change may be made in the nature of the business without the consent of all the partners; and

(d) the books of the firm shall be kept at the place of business of the firm (or the principal place of business, if there is more than one), and any partner may have access to and inspect and copy any of them.

Rules of mutual liability.

14. Subject to contract between the partners—

(a) a partner is not entitled to receive remuneration for taking part in the conduct of the business;

(b) the partners are entitled to share equally in the profits earned, and shall contribute equally to the losses sustained by the firm;

(c) where a partner is entitled to interest on the capital subscribed by him such interest shall be payable only out of profits;

(d) a partner making, for the purposes of the business, any payment or advance beyond the amount of capital he has agreed to subscribe, is entitled to interest thereon at the rate of six per cent. per annum;

(e) the firm shall indemnify a partner in respect of payments made and liabilities incurred by him—

(i) in the ordinary and proper conduct of the business, and

(ii) in doing such act, in an emergency, for the purpose of protecting the firm from loss, as would be done by a person of ordinary prudence, in his own case, under similar circumstances; and

(f) a partner shall indemnify the firm for any loss caused to it by his fraud or wilful neglect in the conduct of the business of the firm.

The property of the firm.

15. Subject to contract between the partners, the property of the firm includes all property and rights and interests in property originally brought into the stock of the firm, or acquired, by purchase or otherwise, by or for the firm, or for the purposes and in the course of the business of the firm, and includes also the goodwill of the business.

Unless the contrary intention appears, property purchased with money belonging to the firm is deemed to have been purchased for the firm.

Application of the property of the firm.

16. Subject to contract between the partners, the property of the firm shall be held and used by the partners exclusively for the purposes of the business.

Personal profits earned by partners.

17. Subject to contract between the partners—

(a) if a partner derives any profit for himself from any transaction of the firm, or from the use of the property or business connection of the firm or the firm name, he shall account for that profit and pay it to the firm;

(b) if a partner carries on any business of the same nature as and competing with that of the firm, he shall account for and pay to the firm all profits made by him in that business.

18. Subject to contract between the partners—

Rights and duties of partners after a change in the firm.

(a) where a change occurs in a firm, the mutual rights and duties of the partners remain the same as they were immediately before the change, as far as may be;

After the expiry of the term of the firm, and

(b) where a firm constituted for a fixed term continues to carry on business after the expiry of that term, the mutual rights and duties of the partners remain the same as they were before the expiry, so far as they may be consistent with the incidents of partnership at will; and where additional undertakings are carried out.

(c) where a firm constituted to carry out one or more adventures or undertakings carries out other adventures or undertakings, the mutual rights and duties of the partners in respect of the other adventures or undertakings are the same as those in respect of the original adventures or undertakings.

CHAPTER IV.

RELATIONS OF PARTNERS TO THIRD PARTIES.

Implied authority of partner to bind the firm.

19. (1) A partner is the agent of the firm for the purposes of the affairs of the firm, and, subject to the provisions of section 22, the act of a partner which is done to carry on, in the usual way, business of the kind carried on by the firm, binds the firm.

The authority of a partner to bind the firm conferred by this section is called his "implied authority".

(2) The implied authority of a partner does not empower him to—

(a) submit a dispute relating to the business of the firm to arbitration,

(b) open a banking account on behalf of the firm in his own name,

(c) compromise or relinquish any claim or portion of a claim by the firm,

(d) withdraw a suit or proceeding filed on behalf of the firm,

(e) admit any liability in a suit or proceeding against the firm,

(f) take a lease on behalf of the firm of immoveable property,

(g) transfer immoveable property belonging to the firm, or

(h) enter into partnership on behalf of the firm.

Extension and restriction of partner's implied authority.

20. The partners in a firm may, by contract between the partners, extend or restrict the implied authority of any partner.

Notwithstanding any such restriction, any act done by a partner on behalf of the firm which falls within his implied authority binds the firm, unless the person with whom he is dealing knows of the restriction or does not know or believe that partner to be a partner.

Partner's authority in an emergency.

21. A partner has authority, in an emergency, to do all such acts for the purpose of protecting the firm from loss as would be done by a person of ordinary prudence, in his own case, acting under similar circumstances, and such acts bind the firm.

Mode of doing act to bind firm.

22. In order to bind a firm, an act or instrument done or executed by a partner or other person on behalf of the firm shall be done or executed in the firm name, or in any other manner expressing or implying an intention to bind the firm.

This section shall not affect any provision of law relating to the execution or registration of documents.

Effect of admissions by a partner.

23. An admission or representation made by a partner concerning the affairs of the firm is evidence against the firm, if it is made in the ordinary course of business.

Effect of notice to acting partner.

24. Notice to a partner who habitually acts in the business of the firm of any matter relating to the affairs of the firm operates as notice to the firm, except in the case of a fraud on the firm committed by or with the consent of that partner.

Liability of a partner for acts of the firm

25. Every partner is liable, jointly with all the other partners and also severally, for all acts of the firm done while he is a partner.

Liability of the firm for wrongful acts of a partner.

26. Where, by the wrongful act or omission of a partner acting in the ordinary course of the business of a firm, or with the authority of his partners, loss or injury is caused to any third party, or any penalty is incurred, the firm is liable therefor to the same extent as the partner.

Liability of firm for misapplication by partners.

27. Where—

(a) a partner acting within his apparent authority receives money or property from a third party and misapplies it, or the firm is liable to make good the loss.

Holding out.

28. (1) Any one who by words spoken or written or by conduct represents himself, or knowingly permits himself to be represented, to be partner in a firm, is liable as a partner in that firm to any one who has on the faith of any such representation given credit to the firm, whether the person representing himself or represented to be a partner does or does not know that the representation has reached the person so giving credit.

(2) Where after a partner's death the business is continued in the old firm name, the continued use of that name or of the deceased partner's name as a part thereof shall not of itself make his legal representative or his estate liable for any act of the firm done after his death Rights of transferee of a partner's interest.

29. (1) A transfer by a partner of his interest in the firm, either absolute or by mortgage, or by the creation by him of a charge on such interest, does not entitle the transferee, during the continuance of the firm, to interfere in the conduct of the business, or to require accounts, or to inspect the books of the firm, but entitles the transferee only to receive the share of profits of the transferring partner, and the transferee shall accept the account of profits agreed to by the partners.

(2) If the firm is dissolved or if the transferring partner ceases to be a partner, the transferee is entitled as against the remaining partners to receive the share of the assets of the firm to which the transferring partner is entitled, and, for the purpose of ascertaining that share, to an account as from the date of the dissolution.

Minors admitted to the benefits of partnership.

30. (1) A person who is a minor according to the law to which he is subject may not be a partner in a firm, but, with the consent of all the partners for the time being, he may be admitted to the benefits of partnership.

(2) Such minor has a right to such share of the property of the firm as may be agreed upon, and he may have access to and inspect and copy any of the books of the firm.

(3) Such minor's share is liable for the acts of the firm, but the minor is not personally liable for any such act.

(4) Such minor may sue the partners for an account and payment of the amount of his share, and the amount shall be determined by a valuation made as far as possible in accordance with the rules contained in section 48:

Provided that all the partners acting together or any partner entitled to dissolve the firm upon notice to other partners may elect to dissolve the firm, and thereupon the Court shall proceed with the suit as one for dissolution and for settling accounts between the partners, and the amount of the share of the minor shall be determined along with the shares of the partners.

(5) In the absence of a contract to the contrary in determining the amount of the minor's share the value of the goodwill of the business shall be excluded from the assets of the firm.

(6) When such person attains majority he becomes a partner in the firm, and he becomes personally liable for all acts of the firm done since he was admitted to the benefits of partnership, unless he gives public notice, within a reasonable time of his attaining majority, that he has elected not to become a partner in the firm.

CHAPTER V.

IX of 1872.

(b) by the happening of any event which makes it unlawful for the business of the firm to be carried on or for the partners to carry it on in partnership;

Provided that, where more than one separate adventure or undertaking is carried on by the firm, the illegality of one or more shall not of itself cause the dissolution of the firm in respect of its lawful adventures and undertakings.

Dissolution on the happening of certain contingencies.

42. Subject to contract between the partners, a firm is dissolved—

(a) if constituted for a fixed term, by the expiry of that term;
(b) if constituted to carry out one or more adventures or undertakings, by the completion thereof;
(c) by the death of a partner; and
(d) by the adjudication of a partner as an insolvent.

Dissolution by notice of partnership at will.

43. (1) Where the partnership is at will, the firm may be dissolved by any partner giving notice in writing to all the other partners of his intention to dissolve the firm.

(2) The firm is dissolved as from the date mentioned in the notice as the date of dissolution or, if no date is so mentioned, as from the date of the communication of the notice.

Dissolution by the Court.

44. At the suit of a partner, the Court may dissolve a firm on any of the following grounds, namely:—

(a) that a partner has become of unsound mind, in which case the suit may be brought as well by the next friend of the partner who has become of unsound mind as by any other partner;

(b) that a partner, other than the partner suing, has become in any way permanently incapable of performing his duties as partner;

(c) that a partner, other than the partner suing, is guilty of conduct which is likely to affect prejudicially the carrying on of the business, regard being had to the nature of the business;

(d) that a partner, other than the partner suing, wilfully or persistently commits breach of agreements relating to the management of the affairs of the firm or the conduct of its business, or otherwise so conducts himself in matters relating to the business that it is not reasonably practicable for the other partners to carry on the business in partnership with him;

(e) that a partner, other than the partner suing, has in any way transferred the whole of his share in the property of the firm to a third party, or has allowed his share to be charged under the provisions of rule 49 of Order XXI of the First Schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, or has allowed it to be sold in the recovery of arrears of land-revenue or of any dues recoverable as arrears of land-revenue due by the partner; V of 1908.

(f) that the business of the firm cannot be carried on save at a loss; or

(g) on any other ground which renders it just and equitable that the firm should be dissolved.

Liability for acts of partners done after dissolution.

45. (1) Notwithstanding the dissolution of a firm, the partners continue to be liable as such to third parties for any act done by any of them which would have been an act of the firm if done before the dissolution, until public notice is given of the dissolution:

Provided that the estate of a partner who dies, or who is adjudicated an insolvent, or of a partner who, not having been known to the person dealing with the firm to be a partner, retires from the firm, is not liable under this section for acts done after the date on which he ceases to be a partner.

(2) Notices under sub-section (1) may be given by any partner.

Right of partners to have business wound up after dissolution.

46. On the dissolution of a firm every partner or his representative is entitled, as against all the other partners or their representatives, to have the property of the firm applied in payment of the debts and liabilities of the firm, and to have the surplus distributed among the partners or their representatives according to their rights.

Continuing authority of partners for purposes of winding up.

47. After the dissolution of a firm the authority of each partner to bind the firm, and the other mutual rights and obligations of the partners, continue notwithstanding the dissolution, so far as may be necessary to wind up the affairs of the firm and to complete transactions begun but unfinished at the time of the dissolution, but not otherwise:

Provided that the firm is in no case bound by the acts of a partner who has been adjudicated insolvent, but this proviso does not affect the liability of any person who has after the adjudication represented himself or knowingly permitted himself to be represented as a partner of the insolvent.

Mode of settlement of accounts between partners.

48. In settling the accounts of a firm after dissolution, the following rules shall, subject to agreement by the partners, be observed:—

(a) Losses, including deficiencies of capital, shall be paid first out of profits, next out of capital, and, lastly, if necessary, by the partners individually in the proportions in which they were entitled to share profits.

(b) The assets of the firm, including any sums contributed by the partners to make up deficiencies of capital, shall be applied in the following manner and order:—

(i) in paying the debts of the firm to third parties;

(ii) in paying to each partner rateably what is due to him from the firm for advances as distinguished from capital;

(iii) in paying to each partner rateably what is due to him on account of capital; and

(iv) the residue, if any, shall be divided among the partners in the proportions in which they were entitled to share profits.

Payment of firm debts and of separate debts.

49. Where there are joint debts due from the firm, and also separate debts due from any partner, the property of the firm shall be applied in the first instance in payment of the debts of the firm, and, if there is any surplus, then the share of each partner shall be applied in payment of his separate debts or paid to him. The separate property of any partner shall be applied first in the payment of his separate debts, and the surplus (if any) in the payment of the debts of the firm.

Personal profits earned after dissolution.

50. Subject to contract between the partners, the provisions of clause (a) of section 17 shall apply to transactions by any surviving partner or by the representatives of a deceased partner, undertaken after the firm is dissolved on account of the death of a partner and before its affairs have been completely wound up.

Return of premium on premature dissolution.

51. Where a partner has paid a premium on entering into partnership for a fixed term, and the firm is dissolved before the expiration of that term otherwise than by the death of a partner, he shall be entitled to repayment of the premium or of such part thereof as may be reasonable, regard being had to the terms upon which he became a partner and to the length of time during which he was a partner, unless—

(a) the dissolution is mainly due to his own misconduct, or

(b) the dissolution is in pursuance of an agreement containing no provision for the return of the premium or any part of it.

Rights where partnership contract is rescinded for fraud or misrepresentation.

52. Where a contract creating partnership is rescinded on the ground of the fraud or misrepresentation of any of the parties thereto, the party entitled to rescind is, without prejudice to any other right, entitled—

(a) to a lien on, or a right of retention of, the surplus of the assets of the firm remaining after the debts of the firm have been paid, for any sum paid by him for the purchase of a share in the firm and for any capital contributed by him;

(b) to rank as a creditor of the firm in respect of any payment made by him towards the debts of the firm; and

(c) to be indemnified by the partner or partners guilty of the fraud or misrepresentation against all the debts of the firm.

Right to restrain from use of firm name or firm property.

53. After a firm is dissolved, every partner or his representative may, in the absence of a contract between the partners to the contrary, restrain any other partner or his representative from carrying on a similar business in the firm name or from using any of the property of the firm for his own benefit, until the affairs of the firm have been completely wound up.

Sale of goodwill after dissolution.

54. (1) In settling the accounts of a firm after dissolution, the goodwill shall, subject to contract between the partners, be included in the assets, and it may be sold either separately or along with other property of the firm.

Rights of buyer and seller of goodwill.

(2) Where the goodwill of a firm is sold after dissolution, a partner may carry on a business competing with that of the buyer and he may advertise such business, but, subject to agreement between any partner and the buyer, he may not—

(a) use the firm name,

(b) represent himself as carrying on the business of the firm, or

(c) solicit the custom of persons who were dealing with the firm before its dissolution.

Agreements in restraint of trade.

(3) Any partner may, upon the sale of the goodwill of a firm, make an agreement with the buyer that such partner will not carry on any business similar to that of the firm within a specified period or within specified local limits, and, notwithstanding anything contained in section 27 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, such agreement shall be valid if the restrictions imposed are reasonable, regard being had to the nature of the business and to its duration before the dissolution. IX of 1872.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

L. GRAHAM.

NEW DELHI;

The 20th January, 1931.

REPORT OF THE SPECIAL COMMITTEE.

To

HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR GENERAL IN COUNCIL.

In accordance with the Legislative Department Resolution No. 354-L./29-C. & G., dated the 24th March, 1930 (Appendix A), we, the members of the Committee appointed by the Government of India to examine the provisions of the Bill to amend the law relating to partnership, have the honour to submit the following report:—

1. The constitution of the Committee was as follows:—

Chairman.

The Honourable Sir Brojendra Lal Mitter, Kt., Bar.-at-Law, Law Member of the Council of the Governor General.

Members.

(1) Sir Dinshah Fardunji Mulla, KT., C.I.E., M.A., LL.B., Advocate, Bombay.

(2) Mr. Alladi Krishnaswami Ayyar, Advocate-General, Madras.

(3) Mr. Arthur Eggar, M.A., Bar.-at-Law, Government Advocate, Rangoon.

Mr. D. G. Mitchell, C.I.E., I.C.S., Officiating Secretary to the Government of India, Legislative Department, attended the meetings of the Committee, and Mr. A. deC. Williams, I.C.S., Deputy Secretary in the same Department, acted as Secretary to the Committee.

2. The engagements of some of its members prevented the Committee from meeting for some time, but it assembled at New Delhi on the 3rd of November, 1930, when its first meeting was held, and it continued its deliberations daily until Monday, the 17th. A Bill to define and amend the law relating to partnership, with notes setting forth the reasons for its various provisions which had already been prepared in the Legislative Department, was placed before us and formed the basis of our discussions.

3. In paragraph 8 of the Report of the Special Committee on the Sale of Goods Bill, which was adopted as the Statement of Objects and Reasons to that Bill, it was said:—

"When Sir James Stephen moved the Indian Contract Bill, he admitted that it was not and could not pretend to be, a complete code upon the branch of law to which it related. He, however, expressed a hope that in later years it would be easy to enact supplementary chapters relating to the several branches of the law of contract which the Bill did not touch. This hope has never been fulfilled. In later years it was found more convenient to have separate enactments for the several branches of the law of contract, e.g., the Transfer of Property Act, the Negotiable Instruments Act, and the Merchant Shipping Act. In our opinion, in view of the complexity of modern conditions, the time has now come when this process should be accelerated by embodying the different branches of law relating to contract in separate self-contained enactments; and we hope that the Bill which we attach to our Report may be passed into law at an early date and may be but the first of the series required to complete the task which we have outlined above."

The present Bill is the second of the series foreshadowed by the Special Committee, and like its predecessor it is based on the corresponding English Act, in this case the Partnership Act, 1890 (53 and 54 Vict. c. 39). The law relating to partnership is at present contained in Chapter XI of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, which was based on the rules included in the Report of the Indian Law Commission presided over by Lord Romilly, in 1866. These rules were based on English precedents. The main object then in view was, in the words of Sir James Stephen who piloted the Indian Contract Bill through the Council, "that of providing a body of law to the Government of the country so expressed that it might be readily understood both by English and Indian Government servants without extrinsic help from the English law libraries." With that object in view the Select Committee on the Indian Contract Bill, in its Report dated 22nd February, 1870, said that many important matters relating to partnership were left unnoticed in Chapter XI. In addition to these omissions the development of trade in India has shown further matters on which legislation is now required. In the absence of clear and definite rules on these points Indian Courts have held that Chapter XI of the Indian Contract Act is not exhaustive and have relied on analogies drawn from the English law. In regard to partnership the position is much the same as that in regard to the sale of goods, and the remarks of the Special Committee on the Sale of Goods Bill in paragraph 6 of their Report may be repeated with cogency:—

"Whatever merit the simple and elementary rules embodied in the Indian Contract Act may have had, and however sufficient and suitable they may have been for the needs which they were intended to meet in 1872, the passage of time has revealed defects the removal of which has become necessary in order to keep the law abreast of the developments of modern business relations."

4. The Special Committee showed that the English Sale of Goods Bill was "a very successful and correct codification of this branch of the mercantile law" and that it had been adopted in most of the British Possessions and many of the United States of America, with only such small variations as were found necessary to adapt its provisions to local circumstances. The Special Committee, therefore, adopted the Sale of Goods Act, 1893, as the source of the Indian Sale of Goods Bill, and modified it only to the small extent required to adapt it to Indian conditions. The Bill as drafted by them became the Indian Sale of Goods Act, 1930 (Act III of 1930), with a few minor modifications.

5. The English Partnership Act, 1890, affords both a comparison with and a contrast to the Sale of Goods Act, 1893. The law it contains has been adopted in nearly all the British Dominions and Colonies and it also forms the basis of a uniform Partnership Act which is in force in the United States of America. Herein it affords a comparison with the Sale of Goods Act and there can be no doubt that if its provisions are closely followed in India, the commercial community will derive great advantages. Sir Courtenay Ilbert has remarked:

"Experience shows that whenever Parliament passes a good law carefully framed like the Bill of Exchange Act or the Sale of Goods Act, Legislatures in other parts of the British Dominions readily copy it or adapt it. This would presumably be the best mode of obtaining such kind and amount of uniformity in commercial legislation throughout the Empire as is in existing circumstances feasible and desirable." (Vide the article on Unification of Commercial Law in Vol. II of the Journal of Comparative Legislation).

The Partnership Act, 1890, has received some approval from legal commentators, and is generally recognised as a useful code embodying most of the law applicable to modern partnerships. In the Introduction to the 9th Edition of Lindley on Partnership it is said that the Act "has the merit of reducing a mass of law, previously undigested except by private authors, into a series of propositions authoritatively expressed."

6. The Partnership Act, 1890, however, has not been such a successful piece of codification as the English Sale of Goods Act, 1893, and herein lies the contrast. The full context of the quotation from Lindley given above runs as follows:—

"Opinions will naturally differ as to the utility of statutes which deal with important branches of law, but which do not profess to deal with them exhaustively. No doubt an incomplete piece of work is unsatisfactory; but it does not follow that such a work is not worth executing; if it is well done as far as it goes, it may be a great boon; and the Partnership Act, 1890, although imperfect, has the merit of reducing a mass of law, previously undigested except by private authors, into a series of propositions authoritatively expressed and as carefully considered as any Act of Parliament is likely to be."

The learned author of the treatise proceeds to discuss the difficulty of passing a considered code of law on a technical subject through a democratic Legislature like Parliament and he concludes:

"Taken as a whole the law of England, both civil and criminal, is well adapted to the requirements of the English people; but it sadly wants methodising and authoritative revision; and any such revision of any branch of it is a distinct gain. From this point of view the Act in question (i.e., the Partnership Act, 1890) is decidedly useful, although it is by no means a perfect measure, nor even as good as Parliament might have made it."
